MINUTES OF THE MONTHLY H.O.A.C.G.A. MEETING IN JUNE

At 2:00 P.M. June 26, 1988, President Robert Grissom called the monthly meeting of the Heart of America Carnival Glass Association to order. Due to the absence of the Secretary, no minutes were read from the last meeting.

Our Treasurer Doug Peters read the Treasurers Report and it was approved as read and placed on file for audit.

In 1985, we started a series of Souvenir Bells honoring the various Companies that made our beautiful carnival glass. The 1985 Red Bell honoring the Northwood Company has been sold out. However, we do still have a few of the 1986 lime green opal bells honoring the Fenton Art Glass Company, the 1987 cobalt blue bells honoring the Millersburg Company, and the 1988 marigold bells honoring Imperial Glass Company left in our inventory. If you wish to purchase some of the remaining bells, please contact Mr. John Britt. We have decided to continue the Bell series into 1989, honoring the Dugan Glass Company. The color suggested for that Bell is teal.

The Hartung Carnival Glass Pattern Books are continuing to sell well. So far we have sold nearly $1,900.00 worth of books. The initial investment for the Club was around $7,000.00. The price for the set of books, 1-10; is $32.50 for the complete set.

The Board of Directors is continuing discussion on how to get more local members to the monthly meetings. Any suggestions anyone has to offer will be most appreciated. Remember folks, without your attendance and participation in the Club's activities, our Club can not grow.

After a short break, President Robert Grissom gave the Program on cobalt blue Carnival Glass. Some of the examples shown and discussed were a Poinsettia & Lattice footed bowl, Dragon & Lotus bowl, Poinsettia & Lotus sauce, an Acorn bowl, Peacock at the Fountain butterdish, Ten Mums bowl, Orange Tree loving cup, Hearts & Flowers compote, Peacock & Grapes plate, Fruits & Flowers bon bon, Thistle bowl, and a Chrysanthemum bowl. We thank each and every one of you for bringing glass for the Program. We always learn so much from these presentations.

Our next meeting will be July 23, 1988 at the Raytown City Hall. We hope to see EVERYONE there!

CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

The Fifteenth H.O.A.C.G.A. Convention is now history. Members started arriving on Monday, setting up their Room Displays and putting out their glass for sale. Each day brought more members---some as late as Saturday, for the Auction.

There was a great deal of burrying around to see what was for sale in the rooms and also viewing of the Room Displays. There were 74 displays set up for members to view and to be judged.

If you were not able to attend this year, you missed three very interesting and informative talks. Roland Kuhn and Don Kime displayed glass from their "Wishbone" collection. Roland talked about the various sizes, shapes, colors, and their experiences in obtaining the various pieces.

Harold Fortney presented a display and Program on Fenton's "Two Flowers" pattern. In order to display some of the various colors and shapes, Harold called on the Stremming's, Duran's, and the Grissom's for help in supplying some of the pieces for his Program. Many of us were surprised to learn that a "collar based" Two Flowers bowl is very scarce. We also learned that any green "Two Flowers" pattern is also scarce. Harold recruited Michael Basey to assist in the presentation.

Due to a mix-up by the Motel, the Educational Programs were held in one-half of the Ballroom. This turned out to be for the best once Tony and Norene Duran started unpacking and arranging their "Imperial Glass" for display. After adding several tables and re-arranging the glass several times, the beautiful glass was ready for presentation. What an outstanding display of Imperial Carnival Glass in all of the shapes, sizes, and colors!

Norene stated that she was nervous talking to a group, but once she got the microphone in her hand and started talking about her favorite subject "Imperial Glass", she displayed no sign of being nervous. Mr. Steve Davis assisted Norene in her presentation.

A "Big Thank You" goes out to those members who so willingly gave of their time to present the Educational Programs. They were very beneficial and informative.

Friday evening, everyone enjoyed several delicious birthday cakes (Heart of America Carnival Glass Associations' 15th birthday) made by our Vice-President, Nadine Paulsen.

The Wine & Cheese Party was a huge success. Thanks go to so many members who so generously donated wine from their respective states.

Members gathered early Saturday morning for the Auction which got under way at 9:30 A.M. The glass was from the collection of Ivan and Betty Mitchell and Sherman and Violet Kell; auctioneer was John Woody.

Saturday evening, after a delightful buffet dinner, we all were pleasantly entertained at the "John and Lucile Britt Roast" by the "Chief Roaster", Floyd Whitley. Assisting Floyd were Harold Cox, Doyle Green, Karen Engel, Bob Vining, Roland Kuhn and Cecil Whitley who, at times, was able to get John and Lucile to break into a full laugh.

Floyd did a great deal of research into John and Lucile's past revealing several interesting events in their life. Thanks Floyd for sharing some of these events that you discovered during your research. It was a most enjoyable evening for all.

Sunday morning, a free breakfast buffet was served prior to getting on the road for home.

EDUCATIONAL TUMBLER SERIES

By John & Lucile Britt

MARTEC TUMBLER - - McKEE

"Martec" is one of the Tec patterns that were produced by the McKee Glass Company of Jeanette, Pennsylvania. (It is interesting to note that the city of Jeanette, Pennsylvania was named after Mrs. Jeanette McKee. The town was founded by H. Seller McKee, owner of the very large McKee glass plant.) A few of the many "so called" Tec patterns that were produced by McKee are Aztec, Toltec, Nortec, Wartec, Fentec, Doltec, Plutec, Plytec, Quintec, Sextec, Totec, Startec, and of course our featured "Martec" pattern. These patterns were made in large quantities in clear pressed glass and in many different pieces. By 1907, these Tec table lines were commanding a substantial share of the market. McKee was also noted for their production of ruby stained glass. We have a good many tumblers in ruby stain glass that were produced by McKee and some of them are in these Tec patterns. We have also seen a few pieces of carnival glass in the Aztec pattern and they are considered very rare. Iridised pieces can also be found in McKee's "Heart Band" pattern. Tumblers, mugs, sugars, and creamers are some of the carnival glass pieces that can be found in that pattern.

Our featured "Martec" carnival glass tumbler is very similar in color and iridescence to the rare Aztec carnival glass tumbler. "Martec" is not listed in any of the carnival glass books, to the best of my knowledge.

The tumbler that we describe here is the only piece of carnival glass that we have seen in that pattern. The pattern is of the intaglio or near cut type. It stands four inches high and has a sunburst type design pressed into the underside of the base.

MARTEC TUMBLER - - OPPOSITE SIDES

Two sides of the tumbler contains a large diamond shaped hobstar which is shown in Photo #1. Photo #2 shows the design that is used on the opposite sides of the tumbler. This "Martec" tumbler is signed with McKee's "PRESCUT" trademark. This mark is on the inside bottom of the tumbler. "PRESCUT" was a registered trademark of the McKee Glass Company. We consider the "Martec" tumbler as being very rare. We find that McKee made only a very small amount of carnival glass.

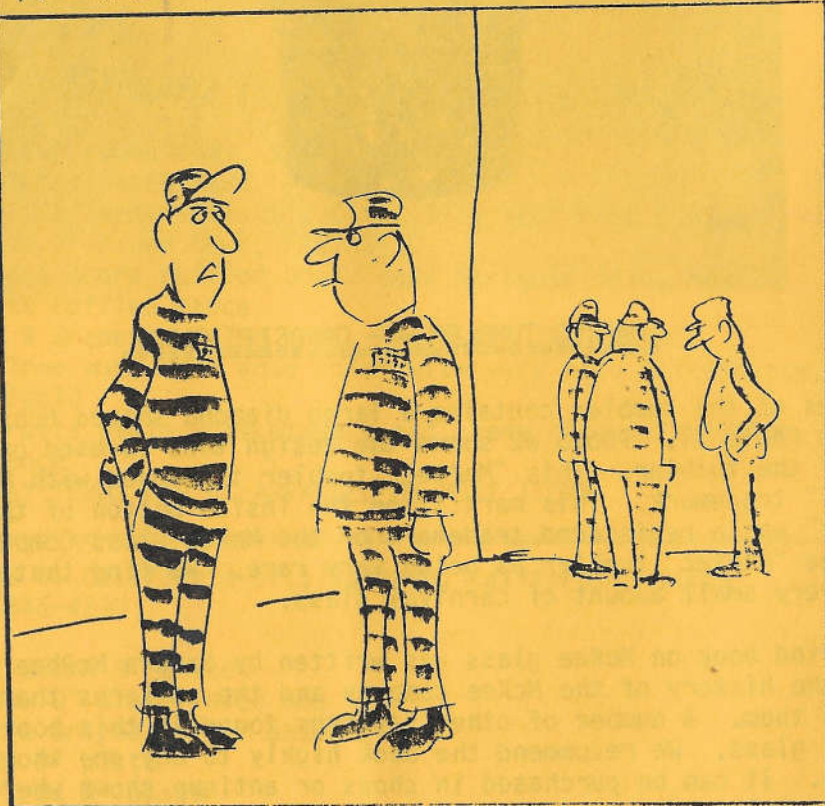

A very find book on McKee glass was written by Sandra McPhee Stout. It covers the history of the McKee company and the patterns that were produced by them. A number of other patterns found in this book were made in carnival glass. We recommend the book highly to any one who is interested in glass. It can be purchased in shops or antique shows where antique books are sold.

continued

This unusual "Martec" tumbler represents our 126th entry into this series on carnival glass tumblers. Next month we will cover a Dugan pattern tumbler that is known as "Stork & Rushes".

JACOBS LADDER ROSE BOWL

We actually purchased the rose bowl that is shown above to do some research on this pattern. It is an interesting piece of carnival glass in good dark marigold and with very nice iridescence. We have had this piece now for about three years. It is one of those pieces that the longer you keep it, the better you like it. We have never been able to find another piece of carnival glass in this pattern, but we are sure there must be others out there some where.

This pattern is not listed in any of the Hartung books, but it can be found in Presznick book 2 - page 36. It is shown in plate #136. Presznick reported the maker as unknown at that time, but we have found that it was made by the U.S. Glass Company. A small milk pitcher of this pattern is illustrated in Kamm book 1 - page 20. The pattern was originally made by Bryce Brothers and called "Maltese" by them. Material on this pattern was found appearing in an old trade catalog in 1885 and described it as being made in many different pieces. In 1891, some fifteen different glass companies, including Bryce Brothers, were merged together to form what would be known as the U.S. Glass Company. Bryce Brothers would be known as the U.S. Glass Company's Factory B. Since this iridised glass, now known as carnival glass, was not produced at that time, we know that this type of glass was later produced by the U.S. Glass Company.

The "Jacobs Ladder" rose bowl is 3 inches high with a top opening of 5 3/8 inches. the collar base is 3 3/8 inches in diameter with a 24 point star pressed into the underside of the base. We consider it a very unusual and pretty piece of carnival glass and certainly a desirable rarity. It was once a part of the Presznick museum collection and still bears the Presznick museum sticker.

This is the original "Pictorial Pattern Parade" column and marks our 114th entry into that series.

RARE GREEN, TRI-CORNERED WISHBONE FOOTED HAND-GRIP PLATE
ANOTHER CHAPTER TO ADD TO THE WISHBONE STORY

It all began a few months ago when I was called on the phone by a gentleman on the east coast. He asked me how much a tri-cornered green wishbone footed plate was worth. I said I had no idea, as I had never seen one sell, in fact; I did not know there was one that even existed. He went on to tell me he was an antique dealer, but did not collect wishbone carnival. He also said this piece was to be in an auction and he wanted to send in a bid on it. He had read my article on the wishbone pattern and I had not mentioned a green tri-cornered plate, so he thought it probably was rather hard to find. As we talked, he asked me how much I would give for one. After much hesitation and still not believing one existed, I told him how much I would give him for it. This auction was to be on the following Saturday. I believe he called me on a Monday or Tuesday of that week. We ended our conversation and the more I thought about it, the more anxious I became.

Well, several weeks went by and I had no word about the plate. I finally could stand it no longer, so I wrote the man who called and asked him what he had found out. I just knew it probably turned out to be something else and chalked it up to another of those wild goose chases we all go on from time to time. Several more weeks went by and still no word. I finally dismissed the thought from my mind. One evening, after a hard day at the office, I came home and just sat down at the table to read all of the junk mail that fills my mail box every day, when the phone rang. It was my unknown friend from the east telling me he was sorry he had not answered my letter, but he had nothing to tell me until that day so he gave me a ring instead. He said the man who owned the plate would not sell it. He had got wind of my article from someone and decided it was worth something more than he had anticipated, but that my man from the east had talked him into putting the piece in one of his auctions on the 28th of May. I said, "Is it what you thought it was?" He said, "Yes indeed, and I have it right here in my hand as I am talking to you. It is beautiful and it is a green, footed wishbone tri-cornered plate." Again, I was stunned and told him not to worry, we would be sending him a bid for sure. Roland was at work every time the fellow called and when he came home, he could not believe it was truly a wishbone tri-cornered plate. The more we talked, the more I said one of us has to go to the auction. Roland was not able to get off, but I was, so we made reservations to go to the auction. There is still some doubts in our minds that this piece really exists, but we will soon know, as the plane ticket is bought and come the 28th of May I will be on my way to seeing for myself.

The day finally came to leave for Ashville, North Carolina for the auction. Roland took me to the airport for a 7:40 A.M. flight. I had two changes of planes going down, one in St. Louis and Charlotte, North Carolina. I went from TWA to Piedmont. Of course, every time you change planes, you have to go through one of those security checks. In Wichita and St. Louis I went through without a hitch. In Charlotte, I walked through and the lights and buzzer went off like a Las Vegas neon sign. I took everything out of my pockets and it still went off. Finally we decided it was my western belt with the metal name plate on the back. Sure enough, that was the culprit. I proceeded on to the gate for departure to Ashville, holding my pants up with one hand and carrying two carry-on pieces of luggage with the other one. I never saw so many different types of aircraft. From big ones to the type that look like you might have to wind up with a rubber band. Well, they herded us to our plane and I never saw a plane that looked like this one did. Imagine a cracker box with a wing stretching across the top and 2 propeller driven engines hanging from the wings. We all got aboard and there are 2 seats wide along one side and 1 seat wide on the other. I squeezed myself and two carry-on cases into a seat and off we went. We were only number 7 to take off. It finally was our turn to take off and we bounced down the runway and leaped off the runway on one of the bounces and into the air we went. The old crate flew pretty good once we were airborne and 45 minutes later we were in Ashville. I was met there by Pat Vass, a sister of the fellow who was having the auction. I thought this was awfully nice of her and a friend to come meet me.

As I checked in and headed for my room, guess who the first person I ran into? Bob Vinning and Chuck Kremer. What a small world this carnival glass can be. I hurried from the room to wait in the lobby for the viewing. I still could not believe the green, footed, Wishbone tri-cornered plate existed. We met Mr. Haygood in the lobby and he said go right on in and look. Sure enough, there it sat on the table with some other rare pieces that would be in the auction.

Saturday morning I met Chuck and Marjorie for breakfast and we rushed back to look at the glass before the auction. The auctioneer was very good and moved the glass quite rapidly. He finished by 3:00 P.M. This being my first time in this area, I was able to meet a lot of new people. I was able to match the faces with the names and really enjoyed being there. There was a good crowd. We were fortunate to get the Wishbone piece along with some other fine pieces and the Wishbone now joins its' plate with the marigold and purple one. As far as we know, this is the only one that has surfaced at this writing.

Sunday morning I met the Kremers again for breakfast and they took me back to the airport. I very much appreciated this and hope to repay the favor sometime.

I plan to research how and when this green Wishbone piece surfaced, but that will be another story for later.

This was a first for the area in the Carolina's and from comments perhaps we will be seeing more auctions in this area soon. What little I saw of the Smokey Mountains was beautiful. Ashville is nestled beneath the mountains, which are completely covered with trees. I expected to see bare mountains, but they are covered with so many trees you can hardly walk between them. It is like a picture post card and looks like a well kept park for miles. I was pleased to be able to meet Shirley and Bobby Hill from Reidsville, North Carolina.

I have enclosed the price list of the auction so, if you care to print any or all, please feel free to do so. I think the prices are very interesting and think you will agree they are quite good.

I must add, the morning of the auction, who should I run into also, but Merle Richardson, Singleton Bailey and Mr. X. This fellow never misses an auction. What amazes me is how can he be at 2 or 3 auctions the same day many miles apart. That is a story for later, also.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR THIS "NEW" GOOD LUCK BOWL

Dear Members:

"Beware" of the bowl below. While Bev and I were in Australia, we saw several of these new bowls. Note they have a smooth edge, not sawtooth as the old ones have. Also the back pattern is ribbed.

The glass is heavier and the pattern goes all the way out. It also has a radium finish. I was told they were coming out of England in antique containers.

Really a nice piece of new carnival glass. The bowls are 8" to 9" wide with no identifying marks. LOOK CLOSELY!

The May meeting of the TBCGC was held at the home of J. J. and Blanche Williams in Eustis, rural Lake County, affording most members an unforgettable trip to the country. Blanche and I wish to extend our thanks to all that made the trip and our day most enjoyable and also extend our regrets to all that were unable to attend, for whatever reason. A comment was made relative to just how far the Tampa Bay environs extend or whether the Club should change the name to Tampa Bay - Central Florida Carnival Glass Club. Eleven members were present. All were sorry to hear that our President, Ruth DeVito, could not attend due to illness. A get well card to Ruth was signed by all, to be posted by the Secretary.

Notice was taken of the May newsletter. Barbara Hobbs was kind enough as well as ambitious enough to undertake the trouble to prepare our May newsletter due to Ruth's unexpected illness. Thanks for a job well done Barb!

Primary concern at the meeting was directed toward our Jamboree. Maria Vafiadis reported on facilities and tentative arrangements with the RODEWAY INN, Clearwater, Florida. Based on favorable comments made, Maria was asked to confirm arrangements discussed. The dates for the Jamboree will be FEBRUARY 9-10-11, 1989. Also a block of 25-30 rooms will be set aside with prices to be $40.00 for a single and $48.00 for a double. (No increase in the price from the 1988 Jamboree, with an upgrade in meeting rooms and other facilities readily apparent.)

It was mentioned that members should think about a modest increase in annual dues necessitated by constant increasing costs, especially postage. Further discussion on this matter was deferred, since we do have some time to consider all aspects before our next dues year comes around.

Almost overlooked in all of this was a most important action. To fully coordinate and plan for the Jamboree, an overall chairperson is needed. Again Maria Vafiadis volunteered her services and Naomi Calkins offered to help her as Co-Chairperson. It seems that all acts necessary to insure a successful Jamboree have been taken or are well underway. Thanks all for your willingness to participate.

Our next (September) meeting will be held at the home of Bill & Barbara Hobbs. A newsletter will be sent in September to include map of directions prior to September 18, 1988.

Ruth, we are all looking for your quick recovery and return to our active List!

J. J. WILLIAMS
VICE-PRESIDENT

NEW ENGLAND CARNIVAL GLASS ASSOCIATION 7TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

DATE: September 9-11, 1988

PLACE: QUALITY INN AND CONFERENCE CENTER
BURNETT ROAD
CHICOPEE, MASSACHUSETTS 01020
(Exit 6 MA Turnpike)

"John & Lucile Britt are coming to New England"
This event is just prior to the "Brimfield Extravaganza".

June 12 brought 55 members together for an exceptionally good program on Dugan glass. Gail Westphall detailed the Company history and their patterns for us with expertise. We were spellbound by 260 examples of glass provided by the members attending. Blue Dugan glass is scarce to rare and there were examples in Round-Up, Scale/Beads, and Grape Delight, Butterfly/Tulips, a Farmyard, a spectacular S-Repeat punch bowl/base and 2 Many Fruits sets took center stage. The whites dazzled us and of course, the dozens of piquant Peach which illustrates Dugan as we tend to think of it, certainly kept descriptions flowing till nearly 4:00 P.M.

Our annual auction of consignment glass was a success from 10:00 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. that morning. 41 pieces changed hands, with a collar base Fleur-de-Lis bringing $110.00, and an aqua opal Four Pillars vase going for $130. Including 3 pieces donated 100% to the Club by Neal Smith, $257.00 was placed in the treasury from the effort. Neal and Dean Fry were the auctioneers.

Our annual Fathers Day drawing was won by Fred Roque. Three door prizes were awarded. Gerry Brown won a teal Little Flowers rosebowl (1988 version from Fenton) donated by the Frys. Cliff Lichtenberger won a teal Fenton Open Edge Basket (1988 version) donated by Linda Taglioli. The Club donated a luncheon tab for the September 18 meeting which was won by Gary Luckver.

Marie Capps will be on hand September 18 to present a program on her beloved "Blues"==Ice, Persian, Celeste, etc. She is a gracious and highly motivated speaker on her subject and we extend an invitation to anyone to come visit for the occasion.

There is never a dull moment at our meetings (a fast, one-day San Diego Convention is what we have here!) DO JOIN US AT YOUR EARLIEST OPPORTUNITY!.

Respectfully submitted:

Diane Fry

We had already heard Charlotte Williams of Lodi, California had a wonderful collection of old carnival glass, so when she and husband Gordon decided to sell only a part of it, we felt it would be a special auction. Tom Burns picked June 10 and 11 at Richfield, Ohio. Will say it was truly a great auction with some prices going way beyond expectation.

Everyone went in on Friday the 10th for the preview and a chance to visit. As always, the carnival looked so pretty and we all wondered just what might bring the highest price. Do believe all would have missed this time since the lovely red "Plaid" bowl won the race at $4,500.00. The very rare marigold Millersburg Cherries chop plate came in second at $4,200.00. Think the aqua/teal (N) Grape & Cable plate was 3rd at $3,100.00. Many, many items went into the thousands.

Collectors came from a great distance with around 125 bidding numbers. We saw carnival friends from several states.

We had to leave before the end of the sale, but did check back to hear prices held up to the end and a gross of about $110,500.00. Surely the Williams and Tom too had to be pleased. Bill Richards always helps and the two can't be beat on auctioneering. We stopped on the way home to pick some Ohio strawberries. We have a drought now and the day temperature is close to 95 degrees. Next event will be ICGA in Wisconsin.
