MINUTES OF THE MONTHLY H.O.A.C.G.A. MEETING IN JULY, 1988

At 2:00 P.M. July 24, 1988, President Robert Grissom called the monthly meeting of the Heart of America Carnival Glass Association to order. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Glen Fortney, and they were approved as read. Due to the absence of the Treasurer, no Treasurers Report was given.

We are out of the Punch Bowl section of the H.O.A.C.G.A. Pattern Notebook. As the artwork for this section is not available, we need photographs of these sets in order to have them reprinted. If anyone has any photographs of these bowls, please contact Bob Grissom.

If anyone would like to be Convention Chairperson for our 1989 Convention, please contact one of the Board of Directors.

The table favor mug for the 1989 Convention will be made in Shell Pink.

We will again go to Des Moines, Iowa for our November meeting. There will be a large antique show there, also a large flea market and many antique shops in the area. We had a great time last year and we want everyone to plan on attending this event.

Our Annual Picnic will be in September at the home of Nadine and Barney Paulsen in Olathe, Kansas.

After a short break, Glen and Harold Fortney gave the Program on carnival glass in fruit patterns. We showed and discussed many beautiful pieces of carnival glass brought for the Program. Again, thanks to everyone for sharing your glass with us.

Our next meeting will be August 28, 1988 at the Raytown City Hall at 2:00 P.M. Hope to see all of you then!

Glen Fortney
 Secretary

1989 H.O.A.C.G.A. NOTEBOOK SECTION

The last two sections of the H.O.A.C.G.A. Notebook have been on Small Plates. The next section will be on the larger size Chop Plates. The Small Plates were anything 8 inches or less. The Chop Plates will be those plates 10½" or larger.

The Notebook and each new section is becoming very important as reference material on Carnival Glass. This information is prepared and made available for the benefit of the Carnival Glass collector.

If you have a Chop Plate or plates, would you please help with this section by taking a color photograph of each different plate and sending it to me. If you do not have a camera, maybe you could get a friend or neighbor to photograph the plates for you. Don't be one of those that think your plate is not good enough to be included. By sending your photographs you are sharing information with not only the present collector, but also the future collectors. If you can help, please do so.

Thanks for your help with this section.

A PEAK INTO THE PAST; IN CARNIVAL GLASS

BY JOHN & LUCILE BRITT

During the past winter, while viewing our carnival glass collection rooms, which we do quite often, we decided that it was getting to the point where we had to get rid of our old antique magazines or buy a larger house to store them in. After considerable thought, we decided to get rid of our old magazines. We started our subscription to the Antique Trader in 1969 and I have never thrown one away, until just recently that is. It was not too difficult to toss the newer issues into the trash cans, but when I got to the older ones, it was a different story. I patiently went through these old Antique Traders checking out all the old carnival glass ads. It was surprising to see the amount of rare pieces that were offered for sale and the prices that were asked were almost unbelievable. The names of the people that had them for sale was also interesting to us. We later were able to get acquainted with many of them. This was very exciting reading material for me and I thought perhaps that you would like to hear about some of them. We particularly noted that there was much more carnival glass offered for sale back then than there is in today's Antique Traders. The following examples, that we are using here, are not entire ads, but just a few of the items that were picked from each ad. I have used the ones that I thought would be most interesting to you.

We are listing here just a few of the examples that were taken from several 1970 Antique Traders, also giving the names of the owners who had them for sale. They are as follows: Gretta Clark, Port Huron, Mi., marigold Holly plate $55.00; ice blue Peacocks plate $87.50. Elva Hunt, Sidney, N.Y. amethyst Holly plate $75.00; marigold Mary Ann vase $22.50; marigold Orange Tree plate $45.00. The Glass House, Alex Jakubowski, Coloma, Mi., red Dragon & Lotus bowl $138.50; aqua opal Dandelion mug $108.50; pastel green Knights Templar mug $110.00; marigold Octagon wine decanter $24.50; (6) wines to match at $10.00 each. Mildred Ross, Brooklyn, N.Y. purple Fisherman's mug $38.00. Marion P. Coker, Old Orchard Beach, Me., ice green Peacocks on the Fence plate $95.00; ice blue Embroidered Mums bowl $55.00; white Hearts & Flowers fluted bowl $50.00. William (Bill) Crowl, Arlington, Va., purple Diamond Lace water set $250.00; marigold Kittens toothpick $49.00; marigold Little Bo Peep mug $55.00; ice green Peacocks plate $95.00; white Singing Birds mug $65.00; white Corn vase $110.00; red Peacock & Grape bowl $185.00; ice blue Good Luck bowl $150.00. Bill Crowl listed his items as perfect, postpaid and insured. I can't help but wonder who was lucky enough, or I probably should say smart enough, to purchase that ice blue Good Luck bowl. We were just getting started in carnival glass at that time and we had been advised to buy only the dark colored carnival glass pieces. Anyway, we have learned a little bit more about carnival glass since 1970.

Bill Crowl, who advertised some of those fine pieces of carnival glass in the 1970 Antique Traders, was one of those dealers that we later learned to know very well. We first met him at the 1971 I.C.G.A. Convention at Louisville, Ky. where he was selling glass from his motel room. Most of you members know Bill Crowl, especially the older ones, as a man who always had good carnival glass and sold much of it through the years. Back in the early years he was at all of the Conventions and auctions with a lot of fine glass for sale. Everybody, back in those days, wanted to get into his room first. Some of them even offered to help him unpack. It was rather common for Bill to get his last box of glass unpacked at the very end of the Convention, when most people were packing to go home. For those of you who knew Bill back then, you will remember that he did not always have the neatest room at the Convention, nor was he too particular how the inside of his van looked, but he always had some very good carnival glass at reasonable prices.

Many of you older members can probably remember the pizza parties that we used to hold at the Conventions. Bill was always at these parties and was instrumental in getting them going. These parties usually lasted long into the morning hours of the next day. Bill liked his pizza very well and he also liked his watermelons. Can any of you remember the "watermelon gang" at the A.C.G.A. Convention in Indianapolis? I am sure that Joe Corrothers can. Tom Burns will also remember. He was just a kid then. Bill was also noted for his liking of salads. I think I am safe in saying that no one could eat more salad than Bill.

Bill doesn't come across the large quantities of super carnival glass that he once found, nor does any of us for that matter, but he certainly has had his share through the years. It is good to see Bill back in carnival glass again, after being away from it for a number of years while he worked in a coin shop in Florida. I treasure my acquaintance with Bill very much and I am sure that there will never be another Bill Crowl.

We hope that this "Peak into the Past, in Carnival Glass" will bring back some fond memories to some of you, and that the old prices quoted back in the late 60's and early 70's might be exciting to some of our newer members. This "Peak into the Past" is planned as a series. We have hundreds of more old ad prices, auction results and prices from old lists that were sent to us. If you find this type of material interesting, we will continue to add to this series in the months to come. Please let us know what you think.

JOHN AND LUCILE BRITT

THE BEADED STORK & RUSHES TUMBLER

The "Stork & Rushes" is a pattern that is considered to have been made by the old Dugan Glass Company of Indiana, Pennsylvania. It is interesting to note that this pattern was made in two different type patterns. One of these is beaded, much like the Peacock at the Fountain tumblers, with a row of beads circling the tumbler at the bottom and another near the top. The second version has a lattice band that is used at the bottom and again one near the top. Photo #2 shows these lattice band tumblers very well. Photo #1 illustrates the beaded type of tumblers.

The beaded version was made in complete water sets, but we have never seen a lattice band water pitcher. Both types were made in marigold, blue and purple. No green tumblers have ever been reported in either of these different styles. We have seen a very few "Stork & Rushes" tumblers in lavender, however. Dugan did make some lavender carnival glass and we have seen this color used in a few other Dugan patterns such as the "Apple Blossom Twigs" bowls. "Stork & Rushes" tumblers are considered rare in that color. Lattice Band tumblers are quite common in marigold, but scarce in the dark colors. Beaded tumblers are rather common in marigold and blue, but much harder to find in purple. Very rarely one shows up in lavender.

LATTICE BAND STORK & RUSHES TUMBLERS

The lattice band "Stork & Rushes" was also made in a mug. No beaded type has ever been reported in this shape, however. These banded "Stork & Rushes" mugs are common in marigold, scarce in purple and very rare in blue. Only a very few of these have been reported in blue. We have also seen a few of these mugs in lavender. They are very rare in that color.

We might also add that the "Stork & Rushes" tumblers and mugs have a background of paneling behind the storks, which is much like that used on the background of the "Peacock at the Fountain" tumblers.

Westmorland reproduced the beaded water sets of this pattern in marigold and purple. We understand that these sets were made for Wright. Wright, as you might recall, are the people that purchased many of the old Dugan molds. The reproduced tumblers are signed with a "W" within a circle for Wright. The new Westmorland tumblers, that we have seen, are iridised on the underside of the base. This is not true of the old Westmorland tumblers. We have also seen a few new blue milk glass "Stork & Rushes" tumblers. These are very pretty, but are not old.

This well-known and popular tumbler is #127 in this series on old carnival glass tumblers. Next month we will feature the "Luster & Clear" tumbler.

JOHN AND LUCILE BRITT

NORTHWOOD AQUA OPAL PUNCH CUPS

The above photo shows aqua opalescent punch cups in three Northwood patterns. They are "Peacock at the Fountain", "Grape & Cable" and "Acorn Burrs". All of them contain the famous underlined "N" in a circle. To the best of our knowledge, they are the only three punch set patterns that were made in the aqua opal color. While "Memphis" punch cups can be found in ice blue, ice green and white, we have never heard of an aqua opal punch bowl or cup in that Northwood pattern. We consider punch cups in the aqua opalescent color as being very rare. They are much harder to find than are such aqua opal pieces as Dandelion mugs, Peacocks on the Fence eight-ruffle bowls, Hearts & Flowers compotes, Fruits & Flowers bon bons, Daisy & Drape vases, Beaded Cable rose bowls and Leaf & Beads rose bowls. It took us ten years to find and put these aqua opal cups together for our collection. We are quite sure that these three punch cups are as close as we will ever come to owning an aqua opal punch set.

We have collected punch cups for a number of years now and these three aqua opal examples are our favorites. Punch cups are an interesting item to collect, partly due to the wide variety of patterns and colors that can be found. They also require very little space in which to display them. This is an asset for those who don't have much room in which to display their carnival glass. Generally speaking, another good point for punch cups is that they can be purchased for much less capital than the larger pieces of carnival glass. This should be a good point for many of our younger collectors.

This is the original "Pictorial Pattern Parade" column and is #115 in that series.

THE LA CROSSE CONVENTION

The I.C.G.A. had its' Convention at La Crosse, Wisconsin, which turned out to be 810 miles for us to get there. However it was a real nice Convention, well attended; I think over 300 people, 28 states represented, a great auction with prices going high.

We had to take two days to get there so stopped off at Madison on July 4th and then on Tuesday we went to see "House on the Rock" which was worth the trip. It is a huge museum and takes three hours to walk along the pathways and it is a fantastic place to see.

We arrived at holiday about 2:30 and gained an hours time. Many persons already there and even set up with carnival and displays. We got our "Patriotic Carnival" out and up, then ready for the "Brat" party scheduled outside near the river. Though the days were 100 degrees plus, it was comfortable and a chance to see all the early birds. (They called it an Early Bird Party.)

On Wednesday a group went for a 2 hour trip on the "Island Girl" boat, which was a good way to see the Mississippi River scenery. In the evening we enjoyed the ice-cream party which Bob Lovell thought up and now we all expect it. Delicious ice-cream, cookies, and cake are given out to everyone. Always a great time. Thursday was auction day and such a crowd gathered for it. Believe 173 bidding numbers. The highest item being the Celeste Blue Holly plate at $9,500.00. Understand John Mikkonen of Shakopee, Minnesota took that rarity home. Heard sale grossed around $98,000.00.

Friday was business meeting with Carl Schroeder going in as President. Many thanks to Bob Lovell for his 4 years in office. He did a great job for I.C.G.A. The Schroeders personally know the governor of Wisconsin and he graciously consented to come for a noontime greeting. Gov. Thompson is such a nice man and made us feel welcome.

Mr. Al Roudenhouse set up dozens of his rare tumblers and gave us much information on each one. We appreciated his sharing all this with us. We will be looking closer at tumblers from now on.

Banquet came Friday evening and its always a festive occasion. Awards were given out for displays, with the Dooleys of Indiana getting first place. The displays were all so nice and we do enjoy seeing the different ideas that come out every time. Believe Lee said there were 63. We appreciate all who take the time to bring Carnival to display. It is work and a chance to take, just to do it, but a Convention without displays would not be nearly as nice. Forgot to say the Dooleys display was a most clever theme called "Back Forty". Corn stalks by a fence with many corn vases and corn bottles fastened on. Really nice! One could see the drought had not hurt their corn patch! Speaking of drought, it was sad to see the conditions so wide spread. The grass has been burned many times along the highways. Crops all wilted and far as the eye could see, fields yellow instead of green. Everyone hopes for rain.

Gary Cooper did a superb job on the large auction and also the whimsys which were the prettiest ever. They help on the Convention expenses.

A highlight of the entire Convention had to be the rare and beautiful carnival Jack and Mary Adams brought and set up in the Banquet Room. Jack talked for nearly 3 hours about how they found each piece through the years of collecting. We were all spellbound to hear of all the adventures they have had and no doubt many of us remembered the times we spent running down a piece of Carnival. Thanks Jack and Mary.

Must mention the display room of the lovely opalescent pieces in every shade. Such unusual items and Rick Kojis did a fantastic job on grouping the displaying. Many thanks to all who brought glass for this special showing.

We had packed up Friday evening before the Banquet as we had to be long gone before the breakfast time. We left at 5:30 and drove 546 miles to Richmond, Indiana for the night. Then on home at 3:00 P.M. to see our little garden looking dry in 92 degree heat. We hurried to water things and were glad to be home. A 1,630 mile trip.

Must get ready for A.C.G.A. next, which is mighty close.
