MINUTES OF THE MONTHLY H.O.A.C.G.A. MEETING, MARCH, 1991

The Heart of America Carnival Glass Association met at the Gold Buffet at 6:30 P.M. March 22, 1991. After a delicious dinner, the meeting was called to order by President Robert Grissom. Secretary Nadine Paulsen read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved as read. Treasurer Doug Peters gave his Treasurers Report and it was approved as read and placed on file for audit.

President Grissom introduced Marge Loftus, Howard & Jean Lineback and Cora Kilgore. Also, we were happy to Michael Basey. We are so glad to see our friends back with us.

We talked about the Convention and everyone saw the beautiful 1991 souvenir, which is a red 6" plate in the Peacock & Dahlia pattern. We also saw the gorgeous Steigel blue opalescent Hobnail spittoon which will be given to every one having a Room Display at the Convention. Both of these pieces of glass are very beautiful.

President Grissom gave the program on the different pieces of Grape & Cable brought to the meeting. Many different shapes, sizes and colors were discussed. We had a very nice display.

Hope to see you all at the Convention in April!

NADINE PAULSEN,
Secretary,
H.O.A.C.G.A.

FROM THE EDITOR:

If you haven't done so, please fill out your raffle ticket stubs and send them along with your check to the Treasurer, Doug Peters. As you know, the raffle prize is a gorgeous ROSE SHOW VARIENT BOWL, which is really outstanding.

Besides being a source of support for your Club, this also provides you with a chance of obtaining a really great piece of Carnival Glass at a very nominal cost.

Also, the 1991 Steigel blue opalescent Hobnail Room Display Awards are truly outstanding this year. The only way you can get one of these is to have a Room Display at the Convention. Plan your display, bring it to the Convention, and get one of these beautiful Hobnail Spittoons.

1991 H.O.A.C.G.A. CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

The 1991 H.O.A.C.G.A. Convention will be April 25, 26, 27, & 28, 1991, at the Holiday Inn, I-35 and 95th St., Lenexa, Kansas. (This is the same location as previous years). We hope that you will make plans to be in attendance. We are sure that you will find it most enjoyable. As usual, there will be much Carnival offered for sale in the rooms, as well as a major auction by the Woody Auction Co. Three educational programs will be presented for your enjoyment.

You may make your motel reservations by calling the Holiday Inn direct at 913-888-6670 or their toll-free number 800-527-0582. The room rate is $57.00 per day, plus tax. The special room rates and reservations are for those members attending the Convention. A member must register to receive the special rate.

Some of the specific Convention details are:

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS: CLINT & GENE FOX will present a program on Hatpins and Hatpin Holders. Many Hatpins will be on display and Clint will have a slide presentation to show the various patterns. It should be an interesting presentation.

JERRY & CAROL CURTIS will give us an inside look at their Carnival Collection. Jerry refers to it as a "Heinz 57 Variety Carnival Collection". There will be something of interest for everyone.

LEVETA & JOHN WOODY will give us a "behind the scene" look at what is involved in conducting an auction. We all are familiar with the auction as we view the glass and attend the auctions, but we are probably not familiar with all of the before planning that has to take place.

ROOM DISPLAYS: The Room Displays are one of the very important ingredients of any Convention. It gives us all an opportunity to share our beautiful glass. It is a very educational aspect of the Convention. We ask that your displays be entered in one of the five categories.

- |                     |               |
|---------------------|---------------|
| 1. Rarities         | 4. Same Maker |
| 2. Theme (Your Own) | 5. Same Color |
| 3. Same Pattern     |               |

Each person having a Room Display will receive a Hobnail Cuspidor (this is the only way that you can receive one). A $50.00 cash award will be given to each of the two top winners in each category. Displays will be judged by knowledgeable collectors.

"ODDS & ENDS" SALE: We are trying something new this year. Immediately after the Annual Meeting, on Friday afternoon, we will have a "Flea Market" type

sale of pieces i.e. Lids, Bottoms, Stoppers, Punch Cups, Bases to Punch Bowls, etc. If you have any of this type piece for sale, please bring them. Be sure to mark them as to price and with your name for identification.

AIRPORT TO MOTEL TRANSPORTATION: Transportation from the KCI to the motel is available by either the KCI Airport Express (Johnson County) or Quicksilver Airport Service. The KCI Airport Express to Johnson County can be obtained at the Airport when you arrive and the charge is $14.00 per person. The Quicksilver Airport Service can be obtained by calling and making advance reservations, call 800-888-8294 from 5:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M. (Midnight). The charge is $17.50 per person and $7.00 each additional person. Their local number is 262-0905.

AUCTION PREVIEW - FRIDAY EVENING: The Auction glass may be previewed Friday evening from 6:00 P.M. to 8:30 P.M. After the preview, pie and coffee will be served. We hope you can take this time to just relax and socialize with other fellow collectors.

AUCTION - SATURDAY: The Auction will be conducted by the Woody Auction Co. and it will be the Delton Kemp collection. It consists of approximately 425 pieces and will start Saturday morning at 9:30 A.M. with previewing from 7:00 until Auction time. A complete listing of the sale will be sent by the Woody Auction Co. at a later time.

SATURDAY EVENING: By Saturday evening, we will all be ready to relax and enjoy a good meal, a casual visit with friends and listen to an enjoyable talk by our Banquet speakers Carl & Ferne Schroeder. Carl & Ferne will share some pieces from their collection and its memories with us. The past few years we have had a Buffet. This year the Banquet will be a "sit down" steak dinner.

SUNDAY MORNING BREAKFAST: Since the first Convention, the Club has provided the Sunday morning breakfast. The price for the breakfast in the past has been about $5.00 per person. This year the price has been increased to $6.50. The Club will pay $4.00 and each member attending will pay $2.50. We regret this charge, but believe that sharing the cost is the only way we can continue the breakfast.

PRESIDENT,
H.O.A.C.G.A.

Last year, H.O.A.C.G.A. published & sold the "Educational Series Book I" which consisted of articles that have previously appeared in the monthly bulletin. The book was published, in lieu of making a Souvenir, as a means of providing financial support for the Club.

Some members said they missed not having a souvenir, so it was decided to alternate between an Educational Book one year & a souvenir the next.

For this years souvenir, we will make a small 6" plate. It will be Red and have the Peacock & Dahlia pattern on the front side, & and Rose Panels from the Imperial Open Rose plate on the backside.

The Peacock & Dahlia is a Fenton pattern which was used on small plates (7") & bowls in old Carnival. It is one of the more difficult patterns to obtain in the small plates. The plate will be made by the Fenton Art Glass Co. and will be available by the Convention.

The Peacock & Dahlia pattern was only made in a few different pieces in old Carnival. This pattern in Red will make an attractive souvenir, and being a small plate it will be easy to display in your collection.

The plate will sell for $37.50. The shipping cost is $2.50 for each plate. Only 300 of these plates will be made & since they will be in Red, we believe they will not last very long. The past Red souvenirs have proven to be a good investment, while also being a beautiful piece of Carnival.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: NEARLY 200 OF THESE BEAUTIFUL PLATES HAVE ALREADY BEEN SOLD! IF YOU WANT ONE, PLEASE PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW, OR YOU MAY MISS OUT!

THE ADAMS RIBS TUMBLER

The Adams Ribs tumbler, that is shown above, is in a pretty shade of pastel green. This color is properly called Florentine green, a name that was used for this color by the manufacturers of Carnival Glass back when the pieces were made. This is the only color that we have seen in this tumbler. Perhaps it was made in other colors, such as celeste blue, but we have not seen them. This tumbler will really glow from bottom to top when held under a black light. The iridescence is very nice. It is a little over 5 inches tall and was sold as a lemonade or ice tea tumbler. Some people refer to this handled tumbler as a mug, but that is not correct. There is a tall pitcher that goes with these tumblers to form a complete set. We are showing the pitcher and one tumbler in the second photo. Note that the tumbler has the exact ribbed pattern as does the pitcher. This tumbler, along with some other pieces in this pattern, is shown on page 393 of Hazel Marie Weathermans "Colored Glassware of the Depression Era 2". Note that she refers to this pattern as Adams Ribs. We have noticed that one of these Adams Ribs tumblers is displayed in the Fenton museum in Williamstown, West Virginia.

This rather scarce tumbler was made in the 1925 era by the Diamond Glass Co. of Indiana, Pennsylvania. This is the name of the company, under a different management, that was earlier known as the Dugan Glass Company.

ADAMS RIBS PITCHER AND TUMBLER

We might add that we have a Coin Spot goblet, an old Dugan pattern, in this same Florentine green color. It too, was made by Diamond at about the same 1925 era. It also will glow over the entire piece when it is held under a black light. We consider this florentine Coin Spot goblet as quite rare.

Adams Ribs is sometimes incorrectly called Pastel Panels. For a colored photo of the Pastel Panels tumbler, we refer you to Owens tumbler book, plate 189, or read our article on this pattern in the H.O.A.C.G.A. July, 1990 Bulletin. Mrs. Hartung also sketches the Pastel Panels tumbler in her book 7, page 108. The second sketch she shows as Pastel Panels in her book #9 on page 230 is really the Adams Ribs pitcher and not Pastel Panels. We noticed this mistake a number of years ago and William Heacock also reported this error in one of his Glass Collector publications. We are certainly not criticizing Mrs. Hartung for this mistake. After all, she was "breaking the ice" in the Carnival Glass field long before most of us came along as Carnival Glass collectors. We all owe her a great deal of gratitude for her pioneer work in the Carnival Glass field.

It was not uncommon to see these handled type tumblers back in the 1920's. The Fenton Art Glass Company made a lot of them at that time. Some were iridised and some were not. A very pretty example of a Fenton handled ice tea tumbler is shown in the wisteria color in William Heacocks book "Fenton Glass--The First Twenty-Five Years". We find that many Carnival Glass collectors refer to this wisteria color as lavender.

We would like to give credit to William Heacock for the research on this Adams Ribs tumbler. As many of you know, he did considerable research on the Dugan-Diamond Glass Company and the patterns that were produced by them.

This is article #159 in this series. We hope that you have found it interesting.

BIG FISH IN BANANA BOWL SHAPE

We find it rather interesting and certainly surprising at the number of unusual shapes in Carnival Glass bowls and other pieces that were made by the Millersburg Glass Company of Millersburg, Ohio. The above oval Big Fish bowl is one of these examples. This one was tooled out from the round bowl into this banana bowl shape. To the best of our knowledge, this is the only perfect one known in this shape. It is in the amethyst color, 8½ inches long and 6 inches wide. This example is in a beautiful radiant color. Most of the Big Fish bowls, that we have seen, come with a softer satin finish which are also very desirable. We have also owned a tri-cornered Big Fish in amethyst, and have seen one of these in a beautiful vaseline. A few square shaped examples in this pattern are also known. All of these different and unusual shaped pieces are certainly rare. While we have seen the Trout & Fly pattern in a plate, to our knowledge, no Big Fish piece has ever been reported in that shape.

Even the standard or regular round shaped Big Fish bowls are actually quite scarce. They are much harder to find than the Trout & Fly bowls. Trout & Fly and Big Fish patterns are quite similar. The easiest way to tell the difference, for the beginning collector, is that the Trout & Fly has the fly. It is placed just above the mouth of the fish. The Big Fish, on the other hand, does not contain the fly. There are other minor differences between these two patterns such as the arrangement of the flowers, leaves and background, but just remember if it has a fly it is a Trout & Fly. If no fly exists, it is a Big Fish. These bowls have the Wide Panelled exterior with a rayed star on the underside of the base. We hope that you are able to catch a Big Fish!

NEWS FROM OUR MEMBERS...

Give a little, get a little, help that is! Perhaps the question I have will be of some use to other collectors and especially to Marie McGee, who was looking for information on Millersburg Glass.

I was fortunate enough recently to acquire a piece of Millersburg that I think must be quite scarce, if not rare. It is a blue Hanging Cherries covered butter dish with super iridescence. I have been unable to find where another one has sold or any of the other pieces that would make up the table set.

Now I guess my question has become two questions: 1. Are there any other blue covered butters around and 2. does anyone out there have any of the other pieces that would help complete the table set that they would be interested in selling or trading?

I would certainly appreciate any help and HAPPY HUNTING!!

OUR DEEPEST SYMPATHIES

It is with sadness that we report that Joan Westerfeld of Springfield, MO. passed away on March 17, 1991.

Joan was a member of H.O.A.C.G.A. for many years and really loved her Carnival Glass.

Our thoughts and prayers go out to her family and she will be missed by all of us.

Above is a picture of a stemmed bon bon that is exactly like Fentons Wreath of Roses on the exterior, but the flowers on the inside look more like Millersburg Poppy to us.

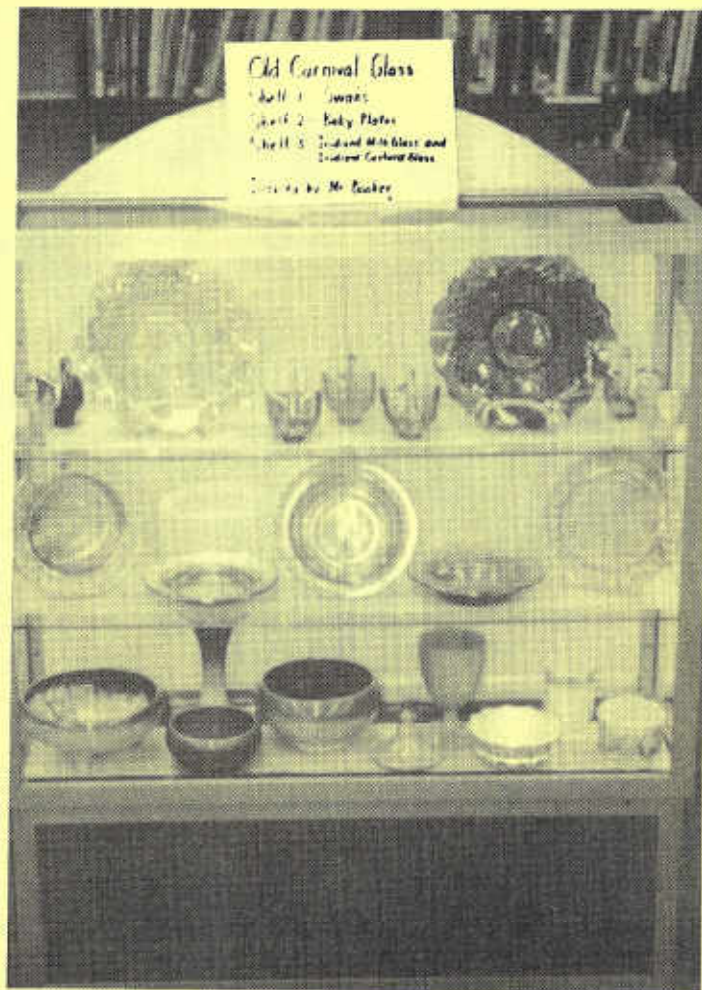

We thought maybe someone who reads the H.O.A.C.G.A. Bulletin would know what it is. It's a beautiful cobalt blue. We would appreciate any information about it that anyone might know.

RENEWAL IS DUE NOW!

During the month of October, 1990, Carl and Eunice Booker had a display of old Carnival Glass at the Franklin Elementary School, Griffith, Indiana. The school has a locked display case in its library.

The children seemed passively interested in the glassware. The display this year featured a shelf of swans, a shelf of children's plates, and a shelf of iridized custard and milk glass.

The 1991 edition of the LOSE YOUR HEART TO CARNIVAL GLASS JAMBOREE is now history, but the memories of fun and friendship linger on. Fifty three rooms were reserved by those attending out 10th Annual Jamboree. That plus the local attendees made for a well attended event.

Thursday evening we had our first official gathering in the Hospitality Room. Sixty-two people gathered and heard John Britt and Janet Knechtel lead the Show and Tell, questions and answers session. A rarity, the marigold Kittens spittoon, was one of the many pieces shown during the evening.

Friday was a busy day: two educational programs, the annual meeting and the auction. In the morning, we were entertained and educated as one of our local members, Dr. Bob Barber, shared his expertise in the area of Hansen glass. After lunch, Janet Knechtel presented another informative session on "Shapes and Edges." Our Club members helped out by bringing glass from their collections to be displayed during Janet's talk. During the annual meeting, the new slate of officers were elected. Serving you this year will be:

BILL TENDL	PRESIDENT
RUBY PITT	VICE-PRESIDENT
SHIRLEY HUBBARD	SECRETARY
BARBARA HOBBS	TREASURER

Seventy-nine bid numbers were given out for the evenings auction. The auction conducted by Tom Burns, concluded the days activities.

Early Saturday morning our Carnival Glass Show and Sale began with 27 tables of glass on display. Shirley Hubbard and Ruby Pitt greeted visitors and sold raffle tickets throughout the day. The evenings activity was our banquet. A surprised Shirley Hubbard was the lucky winner of the amethyst Peacock at the Fountain butterdish raffle. Singleton Bailey gave an excellent presentation on Millersburg glass, concentrating on identification of the various Peacock patterns and the Big Fish/Trout & Fly patterns. Next month's newsletter will feature information on these patterns.

A round of thank yous to all who attended and participated in making this another successful Jamboree. We'll be working on certain improvements for next time and look forward to seeing you return next year, in February, the weekend closest to Valentines Day, so you can "Lose your heart to Carnival Glass" once again.

BILL TENDL
PRESIDENT

The following letter was received by us from a member who is having quite a problem with purchasing glass through the Bulletin:

I am writing this letter to the H.O.A.C.G.A. Bulletin in the hope that some good will come of it and also from a great sense of frustration. I just received another piece of damaged glass from a member who advertises in the H.O.A.C.G.A. Bulletin. I have ordered many pieces of glass sent to me and each time I ask "are there any chips, cracks or blemishes?". "Does the piece have good color?" The answer is almost always "the piece is perfect" or "I have looked it over and there is nothing wrong with the piece". This particular piece has a chip on the bottom and obviously an attempt was made to grind or polish it so that it would be less noticeable.

I once ordered a Panelled Dandelion pitcher from a dealer who advertises nearly every month. I asked the same question about its condition. I was told "it is perfect". When I received it, it was packed very carefully. However, one of the panel points had a bruise the size of a nickel. When I called about it I was told that it had to have happened in shipment. When I said that the piece was packed very well and could not have been damaged in shipment I was told to send it back. That was fine, however, I had been told to send $5.00 for postage when I ordered it and now it cost me almost $5.00 more to send it back. When I got my money back, the dealer sent a statement with another $ .75 charged me for "excess postage".

Another time I ordered a pitcher which was "perfect" and which arrived carefully packed with no damage to the carton. When I opened it, the pitcher had two chips the size of a fingernail on the bottom and since the pitcher had not been washed before shipment, it was obvious that the chips were old chips. When I called, the dealer told me the pitcher was perfect when he sent it and I would have to put in a claim to the Post Office. It took me another ten or twelve minutes of negotiating on a long distance call before he would accept the piece back for a refund. I could go on and on but the point I am trying to make is that people selling glass through the mail should be more careful what they send out and I truly believe that the dealer should pay all postage on a piece of glass that arrives in a condition less than it was advertised. I find that I get damaged glass 30-40% of the time. However 60-70% of the dealers are still honest on their descriptions.

I have often seen statements in H.O.A.C.G.A. that a buyer should pay postage when ordering a piece. I think another statement should follow that if the piece is not in the condition described, the sender should pay the postage.

I would be interested to hear what other members think about this...surely I am not the only one that this happens to.

IN DEFENSE OF PINHEADS AND FACTORY FLAWS

Last Saturday, February 24, we were privileged to witness the auction of John Muehlbauers' Carnival Glass of California. How lucky for us, he allowed his glass to be auctioned within driving distance of where we live in London, Ontario.

The glass was of the highest quality. Colors were breath-taking, and it was an educational day for us. AND I purchased a lovely piece of glass to boot. There were some unusual and rare colors. There were also some pinheads and factory flaws!!!

Tom Burns and Bill Richards were quite rightly frustrated, and I thought showed a lot of restraint and calm when several pieces were sent back for resale. I wonder if the same people will be as picky when their own glass is up for auction. I think not!!

Five years ago I worried about pinheads and factory flaws, but hope I have grown over the years to appreciate the beauty of a piece of glass without bringing out a magnifying glass enlarging a pinhead to the size of a large chip.

My one regret at John Muehlbauers sale was that I didn't bid on the Sunken Hollyhock oil lamp. Regardless of having a damaged globe. It was the most electrifying color I have ever seen. I could have lived with the base alone. Alas, I hesitated too long. Of course, we were lucky to get to the auction at all. At 1:00 A.M. Saturday morning in the middle of a snowsquall, I was rattling the Auditorium doors of the Colosseum on I 303, trying to get a room for the night. The cleaning staff thought I was trying to get a good seat early for the next game!! Well, we discovered a pretty area of the State, even if it was the middle of the night. That's my excuse and I'm sticking to it. HAPPY HUNTING!!

THE SINGLETON BAILEY AUCTION

It was only four weeks since the big Meuhlbauer Carnival auction held at Richfield, Ohio, when the Singleton Bailey auction came up for Hudson, Ohio. These towns aren't very far apart and are used frequently for Carnival sales.

We left Friday the 22nd of March and rains poured down nearly all the way. We stopped off at our favorite Amish bakery and to see Byron's sister, whose husband died recently. Rains slowed a bit and we arrived at the motel by 2:00 P.M. Saw so many friends and the Carnival was already set up, looking as pretty as it always does under the lights. It will surely be a while before one ever sees that many pieces of Millersburg at one auction. Lots of rarities too.

Two new auctioneers were doing this sale. Mr. Scott Brown from Kansas and we believe he sometimes helps John Woody. Ross Thomas from Parkersburg, West Virginia or Marietta, Ohio, anyway. New ones to us. They sold 150 items Friday night. That pretty little Butterfly went for $800.00. The prettiest (N) Peach water set in blue was highest I believe at $1,500.00, a Fenton Milady water set was $1,075.00.

The Saturday sale had several very rare pieces. We surely was surprised to see Dean & Diane Fry there. Also Marie McGee, Don Moore and another California couple whose name escapes me. All came a long way because they like the best in Carnival. They took back some mighty nice things too. Sorry not to know who got the highest item at $4,750.00. The Hobstar & Feather whimsy punch bowl. It would take anyones attention. We loved the Pipe Humidor and did see the Charles Mochels of Kansas get it. We notice they buy some beautiful things so must have a very good collection.

The auctioneer had to sell fast as a time limit on the room, so it ended at 1:00 P.M. We stopped off at Canton to see Byron's brother who had nearly 6 weeks hospital stay with a triple by-pass. Happy to say he does seem to be recovering now. We were home by 6:30 P.M. and it was such a beautiful spring day too.

Mut mention a surprise birthday party wasplanned for Joe Corrothers and every one enjoyed a big cake (too many candles to count). Everyone sang Happy Birthday.

Seems like Carnival Glass auctions will be plentiful from now on. Always wish we could go to every one.
