THE DEATH OF A FRIEND.....

On September 11, 1991, a friend of mine passed away. He was a man who loved collecting and talking about Carnival more than anybody I knew. The knowledge he gave me over the years, I will always carry with me. I guess you could say I was a student of this special man.

I can remember so many afternoons over at his house looking and talking about his fantastic collection. What I saw and handled was only a handful of his collection. What was seen was a privilege.

You will be missed Lamar Sharpe, especially by this collector and friend.

THE GRACEFUL TUMBLER IN BLUE

This beautiful Graceful Carnival Glass tumbler was named by Al Rodenhouse in honor of Grace Rinehart, a well-known and very active Carnival Glass collector. While it is true that there is another Carnival Glass pattern named Graceful, it was made only in a vase. These two patterns are very different from each other and there should be no confusion between the two distinctively different patterns with the same name.

The Graceful tumbler is of standard size, being four inches high. The top opening is 2 3/4 inches wide, with the base diameter of 2 inches. A twelve point star is pressed into the underside of the base. As the photo shows, the tumbler bulges out somewhat from the base and narrows again in the center before curving back out again. The shape is rather unusual in Carnival Glass tumblers. There are four of the scroll-type figures placed around the tumbler, one in each section of the four part mold. Both the shape of the tumbler and the pattern that is used are indeed very graceful.

This tumbler was actually found in Argentina, but due to the blue color, we believe it was more likely made in Sweden, Germany or some country in that area. A number of blue pieces of Carnival Glass are known to have been made in Sweden and Germany. We will continue searching for material as to the maker of this pattern. While this tumbler is in blue, it is quite likely that they were also made in marigold.

This article, on the very pretty Graceful tumbler, is #165 in our Educational Tumbler Series. Next month we will feature another Carnival Glass tumbler that we believe you will find most interesting.

WRITERS NOTE: Al Rodenhouse, who gave this tumbler to Grace Rinehart and named it in her honor, was an avid collector of Carnival Glass tumblers. At one time he had one of the largest collections of old Carnival Glass tumblers in the country. He also owned a large quantity of contemporary tumblers, Hanson and Crider iridised and signed tumblers. He has presented many lectures and speaking engagements on tumblers in a very wide area of the United States.

UNUSUAL AND RARE NORTHWOOD BOWL

Take a close look at this bowl. Do you recognize the pattern? It is the same pattern that is used on Northwood's Oriental Poppy water set. This is the first piece that we have ever seen in this pattern, other than the very popular water set. It is definitely Northwood and carries his famous (N) in a circle trademark.

This large marigold bowl contains 8 ruffles and is a full 12 inches wide. It is 3 inches high and has a factory ground base. We believe that this was one of the earlier pieces of Northwood Carnival Glass. Several collectors report that they have seen this piece in goofus glass. This is understandable, as we know that Northwood did make some goofus glass.

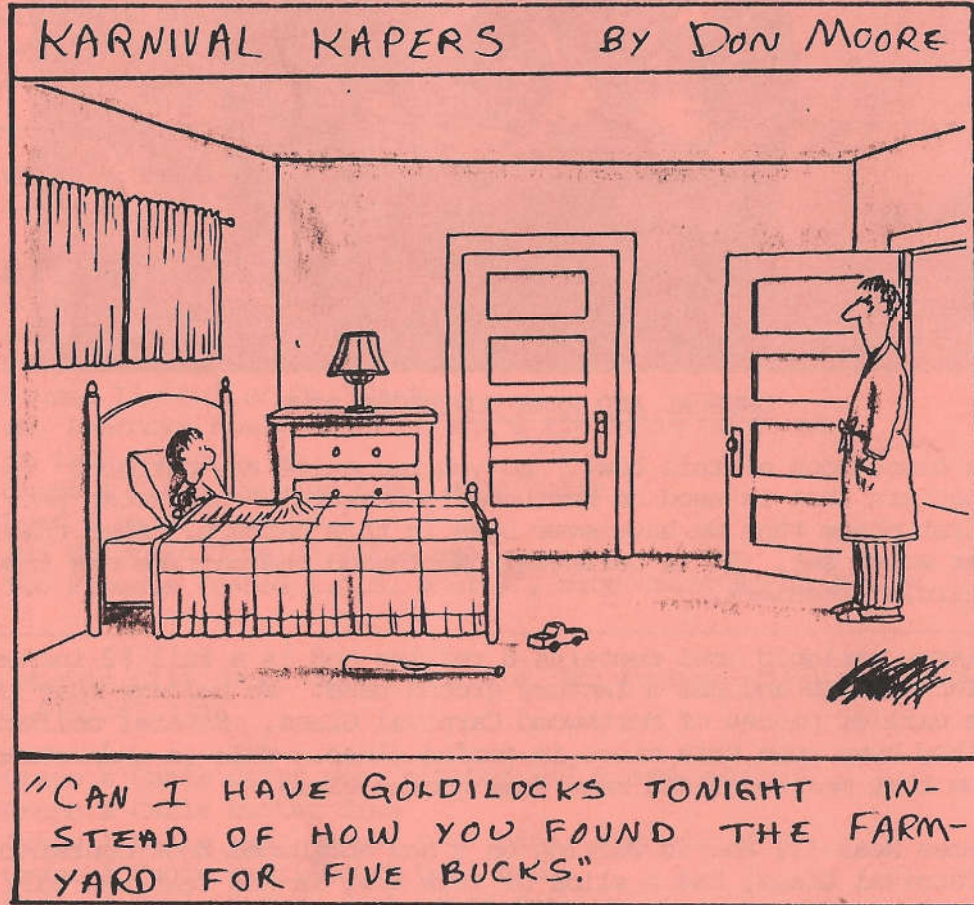

Dr. James Measell, who is working on a new Northwood book containing Northwood Carnival Glass, had a slide of this bowl in his featured talk on Harry Northwood at the A.C.G.A. Convention at Parkersburg, West Virginia. From the information that he has found, Northwood originally called this pattern Poppy Scroll.

It was a thrill for us to see this bowl and to learn that it actually existed. We consider it a pleasure to present it here in our column so that you too might have information on this very fine and rare piece of Carnival Glass.

This is the 153rd entry into our Pictorial Pattern Parade. We would like to thank Pam and Richard Weaver of Madsville, West Virginia, the owners of this bowl, for bringing it to the Convention and allowing us to photograph it.

JOHN & LUCILE BRITT

YOU NEVER KNOW

We took a working vacation. Our work took us to Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia. We took a hop, skip and a jump over to Kansas to attend our first Heart of America Carnival Glass Association Convention.

In the week prior to H.O.A.C.G.A., we hit about 50 or more shops, malls and flea markets looking for Carnival. We discussed what little good Carnival was out there, and most was average $75.00 pieces for $150.00, or was damaged or was Arcs, Smooth or Stippled Rays type. We decided if we wanted good Carnival we'd have to get it at Convention rooms and auctions. On the way out to Kansas all we bought was an amethyst Beaded Shell mug and a white Brocaded Poppy compote.

At H.O.A.C.G.A. I went through the estimated 70 rooms with glass for sale. I made my wish list of about 100 pieces I'd LIKE to have! After careful study I picked 2 of the best buys.

Friday night my husband Bill decided that if we didn't get what we wanted at the auction (our 1st Woody), that we'd take our money home and pay off a few bills and buy a much needed new computer. From the auction we wanted the Goddess of Harvest bowl or the Elk paperweights. The bowl went for $6,750.00 (over our set limit) and the paperweights had small chips. If it's a good piece we want it perfect. So after #100 we left. There were several items I would have settled for. But I reluctantly left.

We stopped at shops and malls heading back over to Maryland for work still to be done. I had reset my watch ahead a few miles too early and thought it was pushing 5:00 P.M. and all the shops would close. Luckily I mentioned the time to a shopkeeper and we found out we still had an hour of hunting left.

So off to a mall I thought we'd have to miss. It would have been dark for hours had we stayed at the H.O.A.C.G.A. auction. On the last isle of the large mall we found this Carnival bowl among a STACK of bowls. We asked the booth owner who was there with these new purchases of stock for her booth about it. She said she had just bought it and didn't clean it, research it or price it yet. We told her we were passing through. She said it was different from other Carnival she had seen before. There was white stuff in it caused by someone having a plant in it. (We could see it was perfect.) Not wanting to miss a sale she hem hawed and was sizzing us up to get the most she could out of us. She said how about $60.00. We said yeah, well, ok like it was a bit high, but we didn't dicker. We took it to the counter and paid for it including $3.00 tax. It was placed in a brown store bag and we walked out. When we got into our truck we knew it was now safe to loose our composure. With the biggest smile of my life and a child-like giggle I said we just got a PERFECT RED PLAID ICE CREAM BOWL for $60.00. That's all we could say over and over. I then got out my books to check out it's value. In a 1989 price guide it was $1,250.00. In the new 1991 guide it was $4,000.00 (maybe a bit high now but by the time a new book comes out it might be OK). In a 1990 price guide it was $1,980.00. In the auction reports only 4 have sold since 1986. In the 1990, 2 ice cream ones went for $2,500.00 and $2,700.00. In 1988 a ruffled went for $4,500.00. In 1986 a silvery one went for $1,500.00. (We knew before looking, it was over $1,000.00). WOW!

We got a box of denture cleaning tablets, which is good to remove that white stuff from vases or whatever. After soaking all night we were happy with the abundance of iridescence. There are blues, pinks, greens, gold and a hint of purple. This is one of those pieces we will NEVER sell. This year I felt left out because friends had been finding what I call "steals". It took a while, but I found mine. This one will satisfy me for a good while.

It renewed our faith that there are still some good buys out there and not every dealer knows Carnival and what it's worth.

HAPPY HUNTING!
BARBARA HOBBS

P.S. Hope to see you in February for our Jamboree. Same hotel, prices and schedule of events as last year. Let's top the 53 rooms we had last year.

ON THE AUCTION TRAIL WITH CHUCK & MARGE

August 30-31, 1991: Britt Auction at St. Louis, Missouri. The Harley Hotel is a very nice facility for an auction and a large crowd (the hotel was full) gathered to see and buy some good glass. The Woody's had it all well displayed, and conducted a clean, fast paced auction. It seemed many new faces were in attendance or at least are seldom seen at an auction. The atmosphere was one of a mini-convention.

The top end brought very good prices but the low end seemed to be somewhat soft and there were some good buys in between. Talked to John & Lucile at the end of the first session and they were smiling and seemed well satisfied at that point. John had been hospitalized the week before and the sale results surely made him feel better.

Many pieces went to mail bidders which to us appeared unusual considering the crowd in attendance. We wondered if the detailed descriptions in the brochure had anything to do with this. John used an awful lot of superlatives to describe the pieces and had these words on labels stuck to the glass as well. In some cases we thought John laid it on a little thick but there is no question in our minds that the brochure set a new standard for sale advertising.

The variety, quantity and quality of the glass, the atmosphere of the sale and the enthusiasm of the crowd made this an auction to be remembered.

September 13-14, 1991: Three choices. Canadian Convention, or Rusti Shupert's glass at Elkhart, Indiana, or the Knoxville (Powell) Tennessee auction. Give us an excuse to head for the Tennessee side of the Smokey Mountains and we are on the road. The Powell Auction provided the reason so we spent time at nearby Gatlinburg and Pigeon Forge prior to sale day. Stopped at several malls on the way and saw more Carnival Glass than usual--all the way from a Rose Show plate down to the Stippled Rays pieces. More than once we spotted nice looking and desirable pieces only to be disappointed when we had the cases opened for our inspection. Most were fully priced whether damaged or not and damage there was.

The Powell Auction drew people from far and near and we thoroughly enjoyed visiting with our Carnival friends. The facility is new and built for auctions but this particular Saturday we sure could have used a little air conditioning in the sale arena itself. The glass was well displayed and the auction house provided a black light and two spot lights mounted on the front of the auctioneers block for the customers use. We thought this was a great idea. The numbered sale list provided us detailed problems and highlighted the good points. The completeness of the list was evidenced by only four pieces out of nearly 350 being returned for any reason. Prices were reasonable--some very good and a few bargains. Top price was $5,100.00 on the lime green opal Rose Show bowl.

September 20-21, 1991: Brookville, Pennsylvania. You should have been there Burns sold the De Carli collection. A lot of Grape & Cable, good punch sets and many, many plates. Some of the prettiest small plates ever assembled at one auction. Very nice were the 6 1/2" Millersburg Blackberry Wreath flat plate at $1,350.00 and the 6 1/4" Millersburg Peacock at the Urn plate at $750.00. Fourteen lovely Fruits & Flowers two handled bon bons (there were 15 but one didn't survive the trip) with several seldom seen colors topped by the dark ice green one at $900.00. A snappy sale at a nice location. Good crowd and most were buyers. In our opinion we are still seeing only average prices on the mid-range glass. The top end as usual, sold well.

$15,00 per couple (can, funds) cheque money order

So many events close together in August. Almost crowded out the big Britt Auction scheduled for August 30, 31, 1991 at St. Louis, Missouri. We had just been to St. Louis on July 23 - 27, 1991 and that is nearly 1,100 miles each time. As scarce as our time was, we couldn't quite give up going, knowing this would likely be the last big one of the year. Woody sent out such a beautiful brochure with the rare items in color, making it more tempting than ever. Actually, Carnival people don't have to have a reason, they just go.

After being in Ohio for a full weekend before and only two days to get ready, we left early on Thursday the 29th and as before for I.C.G.A. Convention, we drove to Mt. Vernon, Illinois to stay and on in the next day, giving us plenty of energy for Fridays' visiting friends, preview and auction. Weather was nice, some sections quite dry as we had been at home. Corn fields had suffered. We saw some tobacco already hanging in Kentucky farms.

A large crowd had gathered at the Harley Hotel. We heard right away that John Britt was just out of the hospital but was able to be at the auction by resting some in the room. All of us felt a concern as we don't want anything to happen to such a nice man. They keep us all well informed on patterns, etc.

California was well represented by quite a group. At once we saw Dean and Diane Fry. Then a surprise to see Don Moore, who could not attend I.C.G.A.'s 25th Anniversary. So good to see lots of friends and the lovely Carnival all waiting for new owners. The Woodys do a great job on display and the whole family does the auction. Believe 165 bidding numbers out to a full house crowd. Sale seemed to go well and the rare ones made record prices on some. A lovely Deep Grape compote was highest at $7,000.00. When we left at the noon break they were at #595.

We did hate to miss the rest of the sale but we had to be home early Sunday so wanted to drive to Corydon, Indiana to stay and had to get on our way. Labor Day traffic was heavy and we got the last room at the Best Western. We were home by 1:30 P.M. Though it was some rushed, it was a nice trip.

Have not heard more on the auction or who got what. Don Moore was taking home the prized Hobstar & Feather whimsey cuspidor. Looked like a vase to us and our pick of the auction.

The Dean Frys were taking home some rare beauties too. Recall they got the rare Millersburg Acorn compote in vaseline and the Millersburg Roses and Fruits bon bon in blue. This is the first one most of us had ever seen. We did see Jack Adams buy the Millersburg Multi-Fruits & Flowers pitcher in amethyst at $3,500.00 and a matching tumbler at $1,250.00. We had missed the Adams family at I.C.G.A. too.

THE BRITT AUCTION

Noticed so many items going to the write-in number of 100, so it proves one can buy plenty of Carnival without ever leaving home.

It has been a full-up year so far on Carnival Conventions and auctions. There are still several Carnival events ahead with the fall season upon us all at once. Such a fast year, but a nice one.
