We are again saddened from the news that Don Moore has passed away. As most of you know, Don had been in poor health for several years.

Even with his past health problems, he continued to be active in Carnival Glass and always helped anyone seeking his assistance. Don was a Carnival friend to each collector, and always took time to listen and would help in any way.

He will be deeply missed by the entire Carnival Glass family.

You may send condolences to Connie Moore at 2101 Shoreline Drive, #462, Alameda, California 94501.

The sad news was also received of the passing of Vivian Van De Perre. The Van De Perres have been Carnival Glass collectors for many years and have attended most of the Club Conventions. Again, another of our Carnival friends will not be among us in the future.

She will be missed by her many friends.

Condolences may be sent to Gus Van De Perre at 3087 E. Pierce, Rt. 4, Ithaca, Michigan 48847.

FROM OUR MEMBERS.....

Dear Carnival Glass Friends:

I just heard of the passing away of Don Moore.

The Carnival Glass world will greatly miss him, as I do. He was always there to help me with my Carnival Glass questions, as a friend.

My condolences to Connie Moore and the family.

A friend always,
Gary Lickver,
San Marcos, California

Seldom does one magnetic personality emerge to influence so many sharing a common interest. We've known such a person and now share the loss of Don Moore.

Had Don only written the many educational articles, cameos and Karnival Kapers he so generously contributed to various newsletters, he would be remembered. He would be remembered as an educator and speaker without peer if that had been his only contribution to his world of Carnival.

The literally dozens of displays selected from his unsurpassed collection which, with major assistance from Connie and at great risk and effort, he transported nationwide will surely be remembered. Likely, they will be the subject of many nostalgic discussions for years to come.

As significant as these accomplishments and contributions have been, they pale when considered with his unique ability to relate to fellow collectors. Each of us will surely miss his willingness to share his knowledge and opinion - his counsel and his time. Who among us hasn't witnessed his genuine interest in someones rare find and equally genuine encouragement of an anxious new collector's discovery of Stippled Rays.

There was within Don the mind of a businessman coupled with the fervor of a collector, the dedication of a teacher and the real ability to share anothers enthusiasm. These characteristics alone guarantee him a niche in his fellow collectors memories. However, there is still another and perhaps the greatest reason Don will be remembered: Don Moore was one of very few who unfailingly offered true, compassionate and uncompromising friendship.

I miss him already.

The sad news of Donald Moores' passing came by Bob Grissoms telephone call on Saturday, January 18, 1992. We feel a loss hard to describe. Don had to be one of the most enthusiastic Carnival collectors of all time. He and his wife Connie amassed a fabulous collection of the very best and rarest Carnival anywhere. Through the years many friends shared their hospitality and were privileged to see and enjoy their beautiful glassware.

Don so generously shared his vast knowledge by many informative articles and lovely color inserts for the newsletters. He did much research and published books on Carnival with pictures and information, which has proven most helpful to even older members and more so to the newcomers. Don's talent as a cartoonist gave us many a smile as he drew his cartoon characters always with a funny Carnival theme.

Don was great as a speaker too. He kept everyone spellbound at our Conventions. He gave many seminars on Carnival with glass as illustrations. His displays at Carnival conventions were top quality. He lovingly shared his treasures and explained the patterns, colors, rarity, etc. Some of these are on video tape and will keep him still sharing in the years ahead.

No words can express the way Don Moore will be missed by all the Carnival groups. He has been such a help in so many different ways. It won't be easy to go on without him. Yet his influence is still here and he would expect us to carry on the hobby he loved so dearly. Our deepest and heartfelt sympathy goes out to Connie and all family members.

Connie has stood firmly by his side and watched over him so faithfully when his health began to fail a few years back. As expected, Don never gave up. He kept right on being active, "Carnivalizing until the end".

Good-bye Don....We all miss you terribly and always will.

LIVE IN OUR HEARTS FOREVER

The 1912 Portland, Oregon Elks Bell is the first one that has ever been reported, to the best of our knowledge. We show it here from two different positions which points out the date of 1912 and also the name of Portland. We have owned several of the 1911 Atlantic City B.P.O.E. and 1914 Parkersburg B.P.O.E. Bells, but until 1991, we had never seen or heard of the 1912 Portland, Oregon example. It is made very similar to the other two Elks Bells, so it is most likely that this one was also made by Fenton.

We can't help from wondering why other examples of the 1912 Bells have not shown up. Perhaps the Portland, Oregon convention was only a small regional affair and not the larger national convention. If this was the case, they might have needed only a very short run of the bells. Anyway, this is a piece that you might want to look for in your Carnival Glass hunting trips. It definately would be a great find.

This rare Elks Bell was found by Steve and Susan Lauer of Ft. Wayne, Indiana at a small flea market that very seldom had any Carnival Glass. They had asked several dealers if they ever had any Carnival Glass to sell. One dealer stated that they had a few pieces at home and would bring them along the next week. This is one of the pieces that they brought along!

We might add that a good description and photo of the Atlantic City and Parkersburg Elk Bells can be found in the very fine book on lettered pieces in Carnival Glass by John Resnik of Nevada City, California. The book is called "The Encyclopedia of Carnival Glass Lettered Pieces". We highly recommend this book to all Carnival Glass collectors. It not only contains the photos and descriptions of the lettered pieces, but also features interesting historical facts regarding the different companies that used the glass for advertising purposes and souvenirs. Values of these different advertising pieces are also included in the book.

DEAR EDITOR:

I am writing to you in an effort to warn other collectors of a hoax currently being perpetrated by FJS Publishing of Iowa City, Iowa. They are advertising a Westmoreland catalogue reprint which purports to contain "valuable information" heretofore unknown about Westmoreland Carnival Glass production.

I ordered said book and found it to not only be worthless as a Carnival reference source, but could not find a single piece of Carnival in the entire book.

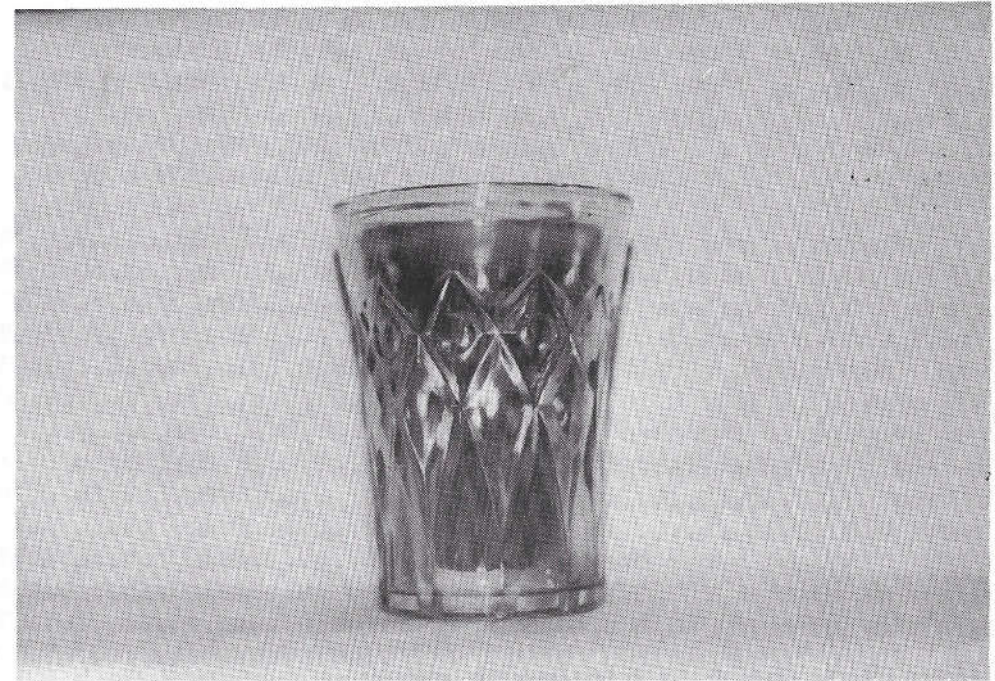

I returned the book for a refund, and was informed the book was not returnable. To date, the Company has refused to either return my money or the book!

I have filed mail fraud complaints with the Postal Service and am currently awaiting developments.

In the meantime, I feel other unwary collectors should be forewarned. A brief warning, in words of your choosing, should suffice. This may be submitted over my signature, if you so desire.

STRETCHED DIAMONDS & DOTS TUMBLER

Here is a rather unusual tumbler in which we have seen only two. We suspect that there are more of these around, however. It is in light marigold and is made in a two part mold. The one that we have is 4½ inches tall and 3 inches across the top. The bottom is 2¼ inches in diameter. The base contains a 5 pointed star type figure that is different, and one that we have not seen before. In the center of the star is a 3/8 inch wide dot. There are ten of the tall stretched diamond figures that circle the outside of the tumbler. Just above these figures, and placed in between the tops of them, are ten smaller true shaped diamonds. Each of the diamonds contain a dot or circle like the one used on the bottom of the base. The tumbler flares out somewhat at the top.

At the present time we have not been able to find the maker of this pattern. We are going to continue searching for more information on this tumbler, however. The tumbler was named by Cecil Whitley of Houston, Texas, a prominent collector and author of the very fine book "The World of Enameled Carnival Glass Tumblers".

This article is #169 in our Educational Tumbler Series. Next month we will cover the Minuet, a tumbler that was named by Rose Presznick & shown in her Book 4 on plate 129. It is also listed in Owens tumbler book as #207. We will give some late information on this pattern, which includes the very rare and highly sought after Minuet juice tumbler.

This completes their Carnival Glass list. We hope that you have found it interesting. Keep in mind that this was in 1970 and not in 1992, so don't pick up the telephone. Had you made out a check for this entire list at that time and kept the pieces, you sure would be smiling today. George might have even given you a 10% discount by taking it all! Ha!

This is our 40th entry into this Peek Into the Past series. We wish you all a lot of good luck with your Carnival Glass finds in 1992.

Dear Eleanor:

Really enjoy the Bulletin and I can still say that after 16 years, I'm still learning and the Bulletin is part of that learning process.

I do have a couple of comments about the Elks article in the January, 1992 H.O.A.C.G.A. Newsletter. In the years we have been collecting, for every green Detroit Elk bowl we've come across, we have seen 3 amethyst ones, so I would question the rarity of the amethyst versus the green; also the Detroit Elk marigold bowl, to my knowledge, there are only 2 and both are in Michigan. I would think that puts them in the extremely rare category.

I also think you should classify the bowls as ruffled or ice cream shaped, both in Fenton and Millersburg. I have seen more Detroit ruffled bowls than ice cream shaped in amethyst and more Atlantic City ice cream shaped bowls than ruffled in blue. Well, that's my say. Hope to hear from more people and their thoughts on the Elk pieces. Incidentally, I have heard rumors of another Detroit Elk marigold bowl, but have not been able to verify it.

Bob Gallo
Waterford, Michigan

At the end of 1990, many people were saying the large number of auctions and total pieces sold was not in the best interest of our hobby and predicted all kinds of trouble, etc. Well, 1991 was a repeat of 1990. What changed? Not much! Many pieces sold at record or near record prices, a lot of mighty good glass changed hands, we had several "super" auctions and we heard the same comments, "too many auctions", etc. We saw record attendance at most of the Conventions we attended and it was business as usual in the "room sales" activity.

In general, we thought or at least it appeared to us:

1. That many of the scarce or more sought after pieces went into strong hands and will likely stay in those collections.
2. That we didn't see quite the volume of glass bought at the auctions for resale as in the immediate past.
3. That the patterns, colors or shapes available in large quantity and perceived to be less desirable are becoming increasingly hard to sell in the auctions.
4. Our regular auctioneers are reluctantly accepting collections containing a large portion of the "low end" items or are trying to discourage their inclusion in the regular Carnival Glass auctions. In some cases, we heard auctioneers were suggesting the owners take these pieces to "farm auctions" for better prices.
5. The prices asked on private sale glass advanced in direct contrast to the direction of the general economy. We have no way of knowing how much of this glass was actually sold, but when taken with the auction results it appears the slow economy has had little effect on our hobby.
6. Attendance at the better auctions was very good with spirited bidding. It took good glass to draw the crowd and get active bidding.
7. Glass offered at the five Convention auctions we attended was definitely of better quality and well received. Convention goers are a captive audience and are usually not interested in the "tail end" glass.

At a few auctions we saw so called "new buyers" and they really helped the auction. How many of us talked to these people and encouraged them to join our Association? Remember the time when someone introduced you to HOACGA? HOACGA has more to offer each year and newcomers are interested when they see our Pattern Notebook. Let us all resolve to promote our hobby and HOACGA in 1992---it might just help you sell your collection some day.

As a New Year begins, one tends to look back too on the old one. Some say that is a sign of old age too. That one should always look ahead; which we do of course. Still, a look back helps one to be thankful for the blessing; we realize we had all along.

Carnival had a good year too. Many thousand pieces of beautiful Carnival Glass found new homes by dozens of auctions all through the year. The three big ones we could attend had to be Muehlbauers at Richfield, Ohio, February 22, the Singleton Baileys at Hudson, Ohio, March 22 & 23. Despite the early dates and always bad weather threats, we felt it a privilege to be there. The third big one had to be Britts held at St. Louis, Missouri, Labor Day weekend. Muehlbauers and Baileys started off the busiest year ever on Carnival sales. We started to try to keep a record of the auctions and the amount of Carnival offered, but finally gave up some time in August, but feel it surpassed any year we can ever recall.

We had two great Conventions to attend. The A.C.G.A. within one hundred miles of us at Parkersburg, West Virginia in June. We were pleased it went so well. The 25th Anniversary Convention of the I.C.G.A. at St. Louis, Missouri was a grand affair. It would be hard to ever equal it again. Several auctions in between and a trip to Brookfield, Pennsylvania in lovely fall weather. Also went to Hagerstown, Maryland for their auction and part of their Jamboree. Our only regret is that we couldn't go to each Convention and auction. Yet results do come out so we can keep up that way.

Remembering too the nice visits we had with our Carnival friends all year. Allen Blanchard of Australia came for over night and we had Margaret Dickins a few days between Conventions. She was like one of the family. The Carnival Glass by itself would not be half as important if not for the people we think of like a bunch of dear relatives. Our mail box was stuffed with Christmas cards from all over the United States and some from Canada, England and Australia. Our hobby reaches out to far away places.

Great as the year was our hearts had many sad days by having to give up several Carnival friends. The memories they left with us will always be close. Bob and Kitty Vinings collection will be sold soon at St. Louis. Hardly expect to be there as we do avoid snow and ice should it be held at a bad time. It should start off another good year for Carnival.

1991 also gave us our 55th Wedding Anniversary, so enjoyed a special time at dinner while in Ohio on October 5th. We were at Millersburg, Ohio too for their fall festival and Antique Show. We did buy two things we liked last year. The Brides Basket from the Baileys Auction and the Elephant Foot vase from a Burns Auction in November.

We look forward to 1992, sending out thoughts on the New Year by the little poem found recently:

GOOD-BYE OLD YEAR
AND GREET THE NEW,
MAY IT BE ALWAYS KIND TO YOU
AND AS WE LOOK BACK IN TIME,
MAY IT ALWAYS BE AS KIND.

BEAUTIFUL GLASS DISPLAY

It was a beautiful February day with temperatures in the 60's and we were competing with lots of other activities, but ads in the Kansas City Star, fliers in the antique malls, and word of mouth brought a lot of people out on Sunday, February 2, 1992 to see a display of old Carnival, new Carnival, Westmoreland, Fenton and Depression Glass at the Holiday Inn, across from Royals Stadium. Over 1,200 pieces of glass were shown. Punch and cookies were provided by the Westmoreland Club. The punch was even served in a Fenton Stiegel Blue Opalescent punch bowl!

In Carnival Glass, almost all colors and many patterns were represented. One highlight was a master Grape & Cable marigold punch bowl, courtesy of Ralph and Florence Mullins. Another highlight was the participation by John & Lucile Britt, who brought some of their interesting pieces and answered many questions for those attending.

It was estimated that well over 250 people viewed the glass. A total of 148 signed the register. Our main goal was to get the word out about glass collecting and Clubs in the Kansas City area and it looks like it worked.

Special thanks to all who brought their glass for display. Thanks to Bob Grissom (Carnival), Gene Loveland (New Carnival), Harold Mayes (Westmoreland), Tom Lemback (Fenton), and Teresa Planac (Depression), for their efforts in setting up the show.

Let's declare this event a great success!

LONG AWAITED NORTHWOOD BOOK NOW AVAILABLE

HARRY NORTHWOOD - THE WHEELING YEARS 1901-1925, by William Heacock, James Measell and Berry Wiggins. Having known and occasionally worked for William Heacock, (some of my pattern drawings appear in various issues of his "Pat-tern Glass Preview" newsletter and in his Antique Trader articles), was one of the great joys of my life. It was with ever growing anticipation that I awaited the publication of this book. I was not to be dissapointed!

Nor will you! The result of over a decade of extensive research, this volume is not only a celebration of the genius of one of the most inspirational glass makers in our history, but a fitting tribute to Bill as well. James Measell and Berry Wiggins have done a superb job of incorporating Bill's exhaustive research into a fascinating book. With over 200 pages, and 60 photos in full color, this is a MUST for every lover of Carnival Glass! The cover alone is enough to make you drool. Pictured on it in full color are; ice blue Dandelion tankard & tumbler, aqua opalescent Peacock at the Fountain orange bowl, purple Grape & Cable banana bowl and the stunning, one-of-a-kind Peacocks bowl in Carnival on Blue Slag!

Inside, one will find the most detailed and enlightening account of Harry Northwood and our beloved Carnival Glass ever published. Through the use of period trade journal accounts, advertising, and interviews with surviving family members and employees, a vivid portrait of the man we call "The King of Carnival Glass" emerges. From the opening of his Wheeling factory in 1902, to his death in 1919 and the companies eventual demise in 1925, no aspect of his glass making genius and influence has been overlooked. This is the book that Northwood lovers have always dreamed that someday would be a reality! On the day I received my copy, I sat up until 3:00 A.M. reading it from cover to cover. In fact, when I finish writing this, I think I'll read it again.

Don't miss out! Order your copy today! It may be ordered from: Antique Publications, Post Office Box 553, Marietta, Ohio 45750-0553. It is item #0-915410-74-5. The cost is $34.95 plus $3.50 shipping, and includes a price guide.

ON OZARK TRAILS FOR CARNIVAL GLASS

January is here in the Ozarks, but it feels like early spring. SO LET'S GO!

Away to Booneville, Missouri for the Mickey Reichel Auction of Carnival Glass on the fourth of January. Left home on the third so we can work our way there. It's only a 2½ hour drive, but it takes us 6 hours.

Our first stop is a town of about 300 people. There are two nice shops, but one is closed. There was a Wishbone footed plate, amethyst. Just had to have that plate.

So on we go, happy as can be; the day looks good. Our next stop is to eat. We feel better yet. Now it's about 10:30 A.M. The shops are open.

We stop at a house that has a sign that says "Antiques". Yes, there are antiques. We found a red vase about 10-12 inches high of unknown pulled-out pattern. New or old? It's pretty anyway. Then we see a shop on the opposite of the road. There were a few pieces of Carnival Glass. No sale.

The next stop is Sedalia, Missouri. Found six shops, five open. Some Carnival Glass; no sale. On to Booneville, Missouri, arrived about 2:30 P.M. Got a room at Comfort Inn. Then to Reichel Auction House to check out their glass. And who were already there but John & Lucile Britt; we were so glad to see them.

Saturday, THE DAY! We look at glass again; talk to lots of people. Sure glad to see Bob Grissom, Steve Morrow, and Tom and Sharon Mordini. A big crowd was there; Mickey had a full house. Listed below are some pieces and the prices realized:

Red 8" Peacock & Grape spatula footed bowl $700.00, white Fenton Three Row Open Edge ruffled bowl $150.00, amethyst Fenton 1910 Detroit Elk I.C.S. 6½" bowl $600.00, green Concord 9" plate $1,300.00, amethyst Peacock & Urn 7 piece ice cream set $2,700.00. It was a real good sale, all around.

We left early to be home before dark, for in the Ozarks of Missouri you don't know about the weather. It could be in the 50's in the morning and then at 5:00 P.M. it could be in the 20's. But it was a nice trip to start out the New Year in search of Carnival Glass. Hurray! Hurray! Go for the Carnival Glass!

It's another day---the eleventh of January. Pretty day. Let's go, Honey! We're going hunting--for Carnival Glass, that is. Breakfast in Springfield, then south on the highway. First stop is in a town of five shops. One sale. Five more towns and eleven shops later, we found a Greek Key amethyst bowl. Made sale. This was a one-day trip of about 200 miles. You just don't know where you will find it. Just fun looking! On Labor Day last year, we went to a farm auction and there were two plates. What fun a person can have looking for Carnival Glass. Good hunting!

The Convention will be September 11, 12, and 13, 1992. Held again this year at the beautiful Ramada Hotel, 1080 Riverdale St., West Springfield, Massachusetts 02109, PHONE: 1-413-781-8750, located at Junction of Mass. Rte. 5 and Interstate 91...just 1/2 mile from Mass. Turnpike (Rte. 90, exit 4), approximately 30 minutes from Brimfield.

Standard rooms $58.00, Deluxe Courtyard rooms $65.00. Reserve early this year as we are competing, not only with Brimfield, but also Eastern States Exposition for rooms. Everyone will have a great time...ask anyone who came last year! To sell glass in your room...ask for Christine Martineau after making your reservation with the desk clerk, and reserve an extra free 6' table for your room for glass display. Tom Burns' auction will be Friday (9-12-92) evening. There will be a talk on peach opalescent by our President, Bob Bishop, Saturday morning, also a speaker after our banquet Saturday evening. Because there were so many checking in a day early last year, we will have the Hospitality Room open 12:00 noon Thursday, the 10th. HOPE TO SEE YOU THERE!

For further information call me at 1-203-623-4645 and if I'm not home, leave a message and your phone number and I'll get back to you.

Heart of America Carnival Glass Association

Educational Series I

THE 1992 H.O.A.C.G.A. CONVENTION

The 1992 H.O.A.C.G.A. Convention will be April 23, 24, 25 & 26, 1992, at the Holiday Inn, I-35 and 95th St., Lenexa, Kansas (same location as previous years). We hope that you will make plans to be in attendance. As usual, there will be much Carnival offered for sale in the rooms as well as an outstanding auction by the Woody Auction Company. Two educational programs and a panel discussion will be presented for your enjoyment. You will find it most enjoyable and a very rewarding Carnival experience.

We are pleased to have Dr. James Measell as our Banquet Speaker. Dr. Measell is Director of Glass History Research for Antique Publications.

We want to welcome new members and those who will be attending the Convention for the first time. We can assure you that it will be an interesting and enjoyable experience.

You may make your motel reservations by calling the Holiday Inn direct at 913-888-6670 or their toll-free number 800-527-0582. The room rate is $57.00 per day, plus tax. The special room rates and reservations are for those members attending the Convention. A member must register to receive the special rate.

Some of the specific Convention details are:

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS:

Eleanor and Jack Hamilton's educational program will be on SMALL AND MINIATURE pieces from their collection. Many of you have seen Eleanor at the auctions when she decides to add another small piece to her collection; she usually wins the bidding war. Jack will not be showing the broken pieces from his collection.

Bob Grissom, Harold Fortney and others will present a program on Fentons PEACOCK AND GRAPE PATTERN. This pattern is not one of the "biggies", but many different shapes and colors are available in this pattern. It should be interesting.

PANEL DISCUSSION:

If you have a piece of Carnival that may be different in some way (color, shape, size, pattern), or it may be a piece that you do not know about and you would like to share with others, please bring it with you. We will ask some of the EXPERTS to talk about these pieces. So bring some glass to give the experts a good exercise.

ROOM DISPLAYS:

The Room Displays are one of the major ingredients of any Convention. It gives us an opportunity to share our beautiful glass. It is a very special educational aspect of any Convention. We encourage each person to bring a room display.

Displays are to be entered in one of the five categories:

- | | |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| 1. Rarities | 4. Same Maker |
| 2. Theme (Your Own) | 5. Same Pattern |
| 3. Same Color | |

Each person having a Room Display will receive a Hobnail Cuspidor (this is the only way that you can receive one). A $50.00 cash award will be given to each of the two top winners in each category. Displays will be judged by knowledgeable collectors.

"ODDS & ENDS" SALE:

Immediately after the Annual Meeting, on Friday afternoon, we will have a "Flea Market" type sale of pieces i.e. lids, bottoms, stoppers, punch cups, bases to punch bowls, tumblers, etc. If you have any of this type pieces for sale, please bring them with you to the Annual Meeting. Be sure to mark them as to price and with your name for identification.

AIRPORT TO MOTEL TRANSPORTATION:

Transportation from KCI to the motel is available by the KCI Airport Express (Johnson County). The KCI Airport Express to Johnson County can be obtained at the Airport when you arrive and the charge is $14.00 per person.

EDUCATIONAL SERIES BOOK 2:

Presently work is being done on the second Educational Book. This Book will be on Tumblers. The book will include all of the tumbler articles (about 175) which have appeared in past monthly bulletins. All of these articles were prepared and written by John & Lucile Britt. John has reviewed and updated all of the articles. It is our hope that the book will be available in time for the Convention. The book price has not been determined as yet.

THURSDAY EVENING:

After the educational program, a special Hospitality Room will be available for your enjoyment. Pie and drinks will be served. We hope this will give each one of us an opportunity to meet the new members and those that have not attended a prior Convention.

FRIDAY EVENING-DINNER-ENTERTAINMENT-AUCTION PREVIEW:

A delicious Kansas City Barbeque dinner is planned for Friday evening after which we can relax for awhile and enjoy the singing of a Black Gospel Group. John & LaVeta Woody will also have the auction glass set up for our viewing. The Barbeque dinner will start at 6:00 P.M.

AUCTION-SATURDAY:

The auction will be conducted by the Woody Auction Company and will consist of approximately 250 outstanding pieces of Carnival Glass from the collection of Don Moore. The auction will start Saturday morning at 9:30 A.M. with previewing from 7:00 A.M until auction time. More details will be in the March H.O.A.C.G.A. Bulletin and a complete listing of the sale will be sent by the Woody Auction Company at a later time.

SATURDAY EVENING:

By Saturday evening, we will all be ready to relax and enjoy a good meal, a casual visit with friends and enjoy an informative talk by Dr. Measell, our Banquet Speaker. The dinner will be prime rib.

SUNDAY MORNING BREAKFAST:

The usual Sunday morning breakfast will be served starting at 7:00 A.M so everyone can get an early start back home. The price for the breakfast is $6.50. The Club will pay $4.00 and each member attending will pay $2.50. We regret this charge, but believe that sharing the cost is the only way we can continue the breakfast.

Looking forward to seeing you at the Convention,

ROBERT GRISSOM
PRESIDENT,
H.O.A.C.G.A.

Best wishes to our Carnival Glass collector friends for a happy, healthy 1992. We closed the year 1991 with a festive gathering at the home of Shirley Hubbard for our December meeting. Shirley not only displays her collection beautifully but also puts it to use; serving a delicious Christmas punch from her banquet-size Grape & Cable punch bowl.

The day started with the serving of a delicious meal followed by visits with friends, conversations and displays of glass that had been brought to the meeting. After a short business meeting, we had a lively white elephant auction and a singing of holiday songs.

At the business meeting, the nominating committee presented the following recommendations: Bill Tendl, President, Ruby Pitt, Vice-President, Shirley Hubbard, Secretary and Barbara Hobbs, Treasurer. No nominations were received from the floor. Elections will be held at the business meeting during the Convention at which time nominations will again be solicited from the floor.

Hope to see you all at the Jamboree!

BILL TENDL
President
