Our Bulletin Secretary, Eleanor Mochel, has chosen not to run again as Bulletin Secretary for the Heart of America Carnival Glass Association. Eleanor will be having knee surgery on both of her knees in May.

I think we all owe Eleanor, along with her husband Charles, our deepest gratitude and appreciation for their countless hours of hard work and dedication to the Heart of America Carnival Glass Association. Believe me, if you've never taken the position of Bulletin Editor, you have no idea how much time and work is involved in getting your Bulletin to each one of you each and every month. Only true dedication and love of Carnival Glass has enabled Eleanor and Charles and our past Bulletin Secretaries, to accomplish this tremendous job.

Thank you, Eleanor, for a job well done!

As Eleanor will be hospitalized in May for surgery, there will be a one month interum in May, before a newly elected Bulletin Secretary assumes responsibilities for the June, 1992 Bulletin. We ask that you send ALL Bulletin material for the May, 1992 H.O.A.C.G.A. Bulletin (cut-off is April 28, 1992), to the following:

Mrs. Jackie Fortney
Post Office Box 303

We thank you very much for your cooperation during this transition. Eleanor, we all wish you a speedy, uncomplicated recovery and hope to see you soon on the Carnival Trail!

The Bulletin is published the 15th of each month. Membership year is from June 1 to May 31, per couple or single. DUES ARE $25.00 U.S. & CANADA, $40.00 FOREIGN. All monetary figures are quoted in U.S. dollars.

Please send all items for the Bulletin, i.e., glass for sale, glass wanted, articles, information, etc., to the Bulletin Secretary, whose address appears above. Please have all Bulletin material sent to us so that we receive it by the 28th of each month.

Please send checks for dues and books, and any address changes to the Treasurer whose address appears above.

We thank you so much for your cooperation in these matters.

It is with sadness that we report that Vaunda Tilberg, wife of Swede Tilberg, of Joplin, Missouri, has passed away.

Vaunda and Swede were always present at the H.O.A.C.G.A. Conventions and her presence will be deeply missed this year.

Swede, our prayers, sympathies and thoughts go out to you. Vaunda will be missed by everyone.

NEWS FROM OUR MEMBERS....

I received the sad news of Donald Moore's passing officially in the February, 1992 H.O.A.C.G.A. issue.

Don was known as an enthusiastic Carnival collector, publisher of books on Carnival, cartoonist, great speaker, contributor of informative articles and lovely color inserts to name but a few.

When seeking information one had only to write or call Don and he would always take the time to answer your questions. He impressed me greatly by his unselfish sharing of information.

Don was an Honorary member of the a.v.c.q. He will be missed by all the world of Carnival.

On behalf of all members, I offer my deepest and heartfelt sympathy to Connie and all family members.

THOMAS ESLIGER
PRESIDENT OF A.V.C.Q.

As a result of our continued efforts at advertising our Club, I have the pleasure of informing our members that we have been published in the prestigious Carnival Pump, December 1991, issue, the American Carnival Glass Association issue along with the December, 1991 issue of the H.O.A.C.G.A. Newsletter. The presentations were professional and possible because of editors Donna Braden of the Pump, Joan Anderson of the American Carnival Glass Association, Eleanor Mochel of the H.O.A.C.G.A. Many thanks Donna, Joan, Eleanor, for your cooperation on our behalf.

NEWS FROM OUR MEMBERS.....

I'm passing the following information on to you and other Carnival Glass collectors, on a certain item.

The item in question is the Seaweed Lamp, listed by Bill Edwards as maker unknown.

Since I collected lamps before I started collecting Carnival Glass, I was familiar with the Seaweed Lamp in regular glass.

In 1914, Oklahoma oil man Bartlett teamed up with east coast glass man Collins to found the Sapulpa, Oklahoma Glass House. By 1931, this was still the only independent glass plant making table ware west of the Mississippi. The name was changed to the Bartlett-Collins Glass Company.

The Company began as a hand house, making utilitarian pressed table items and lamps in crystal and opal glass. Later lamp colors were rose lustre, amber lustre and crystal iridescent. The factory's only Depression colors were nu-green and nu-rose.

Some water sets were copper wheel engraved and iridescence applied. The main lamp pattern was "Seaweed". I have several Seaweed lamps in regular glass and one in marigold Carnival.

The Carnival lamp always seems to turn up in the southwest area of the United States. The same is true of the White Oak tumbler.

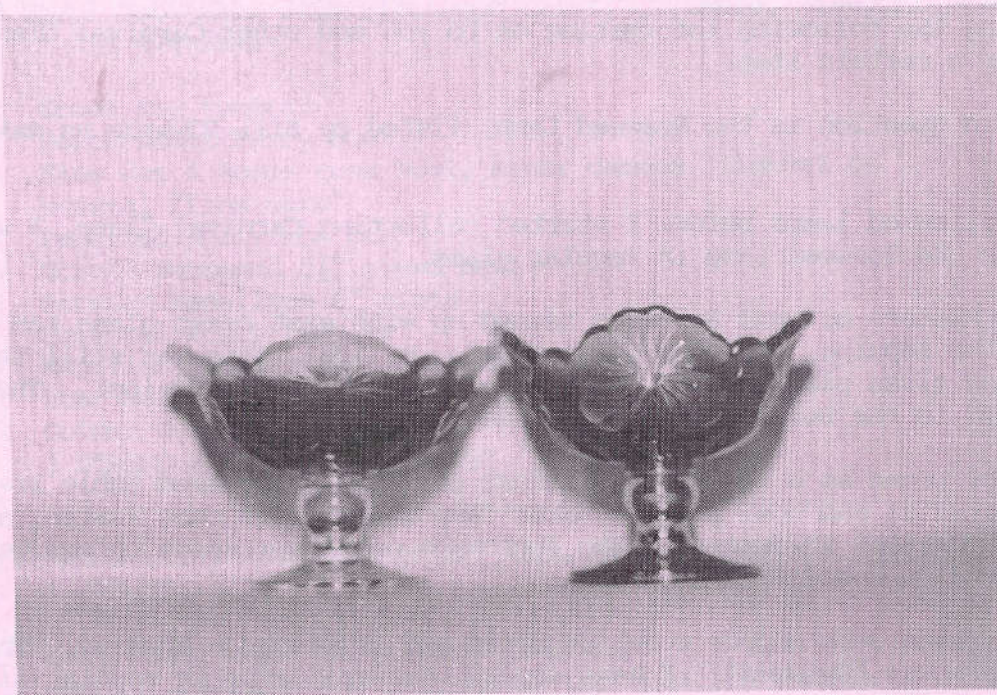

I am investigating the origin of the White Oak tumbler also. I have always been told it could have been made in Mexico. It's possible it was made by the Bartlett-Collins Company also.

Just wanted to pass this along. I'm still learning.

MINIATURE INTAGLIO IN PEACH OPAL AND MARIGOLD

This is an update of the Miniature Intaglio nut cup. The pattern is sketched and described in Hartung book 10 - page 100. She states that she had seen only a few of these and believed them to be rare. We find this to be very true, as one of these little stemmed nut cups seldom comes up for sale. We have seen them more often with gold paint applied to the surface instead of the marigold iridescence.

This little piece has been seen advertised as an almond cup, and was reported made by the U.S. Glass Company. It is quite small, standing from two to two and one half inches tall. They measure from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches across the top. The base is only $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches in diameter. The shape of the top varies somewhat from round to square. They sometimes contain the words "Souvenir of" and the name of some city such as Cleveland, Ohio stenciled on the top of the base. Not all examples contain the souvenir advertising, however. The iridised examples, that we have seen, were all in nice marigold and with good iridescence. This pattern is also known as "Wild Rose Wreath" and a very good picture of it appears in Presznick book 4 - plate 204. While this piece would add charm to any collection, it would make a super addition for the miniature collector.

We thought that you would like to know that one of these tiny nut cups was found in true peach opalescent. The one shown on the left is the peach opal example. The opalescence is around the top and certainly adds beauty to this charming little piece of Carnival Glass. While we have a marigold example of this pattern in our miniature collection, the one shown above in peach opalescence is from the Whitley collection. Needless to say, that they are very proud of it and it is the only one ever reported in that color. Perhaps a few others might be out there in peach opal, but we have never seen or heard of another one.

This updated article on the Miniature Intaglio is our 159th entry into our Pictorial Pattern Parade. We hope that you have found it interesting.

S A D N E W S

On March 5, 1992, Ron and I lost our very good friend Tom Crohan. He had a long struggle with his illness and was 66 years old.

Tom and his wife May collected Carnival Glass for 15 years. As long as it was Carnival, it had a place in their collection.

When Tom found out that he could join the clubs in America, he joined them and corresponded with quite a few of the members and was always happy to share the knowledge he learned of these years with all that were able to visit and see the fine collection. Tom was especially proud of the club souvenirs that he made sure of purchasing.

One regret he had was that he was not able to visit an overseas Convention, so it was up to his friends that could do so that he got good reports and the odd pieces of Carnival that he really wanted to have.

Tom was the Treasurer of the Australian Carnival Enthusiasts Club for several years. What ever he did was always a good job.

May and Tom junior have our sympathy. Tom will be missed by all.

COLONIAL STRETCH TUMBLERS

These beautiful Colonial Stretch lemonade size tumblers were made by the Imperial Glass Corporation of Bellaire, Ohio. They are somewhat taller than the regular table size tumblers measuring $5\frac{1}{4}$ " in height, $3\frac{1}{2}$ " across the flared out top & have a base diameter of $2\frac{1}{4}$ ". The tumblers have the typical collar type base that was used so often by Imperial. A sixteen point star is impressed into the bottom of the base. There are nine panels that go around the tumbler, three in each of the three part mold.

The Colonial Stretch tumblers can be found in three delightful colors - a lovely sapphire blue, a beautiful red to red amberina and a very nice frosty white. The iridescence is very fine. The tumblers are actually quite scarce. We have not seen many of them in our travels.

This type of glass is often referred to as Imperial Jewels, onion skin or stretch glass. We believe the correct name should be a "stretch glass type of carnival glass". Regardless by what name you wish to call them, they are beautiful and would add a variety of lovely color to any Carnival Glass or tumbler collection. This article on the Colonial Stretch tumblers is #171 in this series. We hope that you can find an example of this fine Imperial pattern for your collection.

February 28-29, 1992: Jim Seeck sold the Kuntz collectin at St. Louis, Missouri. It had been slim pickings in our local area so we were anxious to get to our first all Carnival auction in 1992. We had a problem at the hotel on check-in and trouble didn't end there--Marge attempted to use the shower and the heavy glass shower door fell into the tub. Needless to say this isn't our favorite place for an auction.

This sale seemed to pick up where 1991 left off. There was a lot of good clean glass and it sold well. Jim conducted a well planned, smooth run auction and seemed pleased with the results. Most important, the owners were smiling at the end. The eight piece white Peacock at the Fountain punch set brought $4,600.00, the ice blue Memphis fruit bowl $5,500.00 and the Peacock & Urn ice cream bowls in green at $2,500.00, electric blue at $2,100.00 and reninger blue at $2,400.00 were some of the highlights. The pending "super auction" didn't seem to affect the enthusiasm at this auction. There was a good crowd and most participated in the bidding. While there were many mail bids, most of the glass sold to those in attendance.

March 20-21, 1992: Vining Auction, St. Louis, Missouri. It was raining Wednesday (March 18) and in mid-afternoon it turned to freezing rain. Mildred Markley was coming to our home, and we were going to St. Louis together, but it was too late to warn her. She was already past the halfway point when she ran into the hard stuff. The temperature was just at freezing so the roads were still wet, but her car was completely covered with ice and the windshield wipers were almost ready to quit. We thawed her car out, relaxed and waited. Thursday morning the salt had taken care of the roads and 80 miles south we left the beautiful ice covered scenery--we were on our way to what for us was a Carnival Glass social event.

In many respects the glass lived up to the advance billing. People were there to buy pieces rarely offered for sale, there was competition for these and prices reflected the demand. There seemed to be more beautiful pastel pieces that we had seen for quite sometime and we believe, as a group, they were the buys of the sale. There will be many articles and discussions on this sale, but in our opinion we thought we saw in addition to the great items some ordinary glass, a chip here and a crack there which in retrospect made this a normal sale. It had more top-end glass than most sales, some great buys and happy buyers--we believe the sale lived up to great expectations.

THE VINING AUCTION

Every since we heard of the Vining auction for March 20-21, 1992, at St. Louis, Missouri, we wanted to go but always felt the weather would decide that. We did make reservations in hopes. Our winter had been so nice, but being March, it wasn't reliable. Still, we went ahead and planned to leave early on Thursday the 19th. We had everything packed and ready to go Wednesday night. The weather news just got worse at St. Louis and the route we were to go, saying snow and ice, so common sense won out and we gave up on going.

On Thursday, our friend Eddie Radcliff of Williamstown, West Virginia came by, as he had hoped to go with us. We watched the weather again and agreed not to go. We spent all day visiting. Eddie left for home by 4:00 P.M., and after getting home he still had an urge to go so called to St. Louis to find that the weather was clearing. He called us back to see if we would still go. He would drive his car. Well, we rushed to get ready again. We had unpacked everything before. Eddie was back by 7:45 P.M. so we loaded up and left by 8:00. We all did say it was a crazy idea, but Carnival people don't really care if its sane or not when they decide to do something.

Roads were nice and we drove for 3 hours and we stopped off at Frankfort, KY to stay the night.

Friday up early and we had about 330 more miles to go. We arrived at the Harle Hotel about 2:00 P.M. or so. We gained an hour there. The hotel was full up with the usual Carnival crowd. Heard several tales of how bad the travel had been for so many so we felt fortunate. We had delayed leaving sooner. It was just great to see friends again. The Dean Frys of California were there and also George Thomas and Dale Matheney. I believe another California couple too. We all did miss Don Moore and felt a loss there.

Preview opened by 3:00 P.M. and everyone rushed along to see the lovely things Bob & Kitty Vining had collected. Their son and wife with their daughter were there too. Just like their parents, nice as could be. I'm sure they never quite dreamed their parents hobby included the crowd that came. We think 175 bidding numbers were out.

The souvenirs and some new glass was sold Friday night. The old Carnival was sold Saturday starting at 9:30 A.M. The John Woodys' do a fantastic job of selling. Their two sons and a daughter all help so sale can go fast. A noon break and sale ended about 2:30 P.M. or so. Highest item as predicted by several was the Grape & Cable hatpin holder in aqua opal for $12,000.00. Believe the Hamlets from North Carolina added that to their fabulous collection. The Millersburg Thistle punch bowl and base was next at $10,000.00. The Millersburg Pipe Humidor was next at $6,500.00. The Frys of California took it home. Their collection too is a good one. May as well admit we didn't add a thing to ours, but we had a great time just to see it and visit. Someone counted up and said approximately sale grossed about $258,000.00, not counting the new glass sale.

We left for home about 3:30 P.M. our time and again stayed at Frankfort, KY. It rained all the way home on Sunday. We thoroughly enjoyed the entire trip and it started off the year in a nice way. Heart of America auction sheets were given out and it will be a great one too. About 40 pieces of red Carnival out of about 250 pieces listed in most unusual. Lots of other good and rare items too. This is a part of Don & Connie Moores Carnival they had already selected for Woody to sell before Don's untimely death. Will hate to miss it but just cannot attend one so far away.

Springtime is here, so busy days ahead.

Our March 15, 1992 meeting was attended by 51 members, including three new members. The program topic: Fentons Scarce and Rare Bowls created a display of 61 pieces provided by several members who participated in the discussion.

Background information surrounding the years of Fenton production was provided by President Gail Westphall. Scarce-rare aspect of each pattern was provided so far as auction results of the past year are concerned.

Peter Rabbit, Little Daisies, Ten Mums, Concord, Peacock & Dahlia, Rose Tree, Plaid, Ragged Robin, Coral, Dragon & Strawberry, Little Fishes, Wild Blackberry, and Fentonia were widely discussed in a wide variety of colors. The one member who owns a C.R.E. Birds & Cherries bowl was chided too, for not thinking to bring it along to share. It was all in fun, of course!

Judy Maxwell taped the meeting, and I might add, she creates superior quality tapes, which anyone would be pleased with. This was another hour and twenty minute GOODIE; in case you care to pick one up when they are ready for sale. The one made of Don & Roland's Wishbone/Bushel Basket program at the December meeting is a great, must have the tape as well. Judy will be happy to mail to anyone interested.

Anyone who takes pride in their Carnival Glass can speak very highly and knowledgeable of what they own. This San Diego group can combine forces (or go it alone) at a moment's notice and create a highly interesting "piece of work".

You are all very responsive in sharing glass and information and you are to be congratulated for that! It was ANOTHER well-done.

Gail says our June 14, 1992 meeting will remain a surprise until she works out some details. Can hardly wait!

The 11th Annual Lose Your Heart to Carnival Glass Jamboree was held on Feb. 13, 14, and 15, 1992 at the Countryside Ramada Inn, Clearwater, Florida. There were 53 rooms booked by Jamboree attendees and that number probably would have been higher if more rooms had been available. Our first official gathering was held Thursday evening, with Tom Burns leading a Show & Tell discussion. Got to hear lots of interesting information; I particularly remember the comments from Dick and Emma Tilton about the specifics of the old Carnival glassmaking process. Thanks to all who participated and brought their glass to share and thanks, Tom, for lending your expertise and guidance to the discussion.

Friday morning we started the days activities with a talk by one of our local members, Barbara Hobbs, on "Jewelry, Purses, Hatpins, etc." It's not often that you see such quantity as well as quality of these items on display. Thanks, Barbara, for sharing your information about them. (Seems fitting that our Club's Treasurer should have so many purses, doesn't it?)

The afternoon program was given by one of our Club's winter residents, Janet Knechtel. The 52 persons attending were treated to another beautiful display of glass and information that was useful to both the beginning and the advanced collector alike. Thanks, Janet, for another great program. Friday night's activities was the Tom Burns auction. As promised, the quality of glass for the auction was improved. There were 86 bidding numbers given out and the head count at the beginning of the auction was 139. Seems even with the recession, we glass buyers seem to find those extra pennies to purchase something special for our collections.

Early Saturday morning our Carnival Glass Show & Sale began with 23 tables of glass on display. Several members took turns greeting visitors at the door and selling raffle tickets, including Shirley Hubbard, Irene Carbone, Ruby Pitt and Judy Rhodes. Thank you all, volunteers and vendors for making this a successful event.

We saved the best for last with Saturday night's banquet. Fifty people gathered and were treated to an outstanding visual display of Carnival Glass as we enjoyed our dinner. Our banquet speaker was Steve Davis and his talk "From Acorns to Roses with Many Stars In Between" was filled with anecdotes of adventures and friendships that occur along the way in the building of such a beautiful collection. Two key points that I remember from his talk:

1. A piece of Carnival Glass with excellent iridescence, even though it may be a common piece or pattern, will add to the beauty of any collection.
2. The knowledge you gain by attending these Conventions can make a significant difference in the quality of your glass collection. (His example - the blue Millersburg Many Stars bowl that he learned about during one of John Britt's slide show/talks at a previous Jamboree.)

continued..

Thanks, Steve, for your participation in this year's Jamboree. By the way, if they ever have a contest to see how many boxes of glass can be stuffed into a car, I think you'll have a good chance of winning.

We heard lots of positive comments throughout the Jamboree, even though we struggled with the motel's facilities at times. We are starting the process of looking for a new place to hold the Jamboree next year. Let us know if you know of any suitable places. We'll keep you informed when the decision on the new location is made, so you can make your plans to join us again at our "Lose Your Heart to Carnival Glass Jamboree."
