NEWS

We bought Edward's new Carnival Glass book and imagine our surprise when we came to page 23. There big as life was the beautiful Fuchsia footed bon bon. It was listed under the name of "Bell Flower"! Edwards attributes the manufacturing to the Dugan Glass Company.

Maybe he misplaced his information from Diane Fry. She wrote a most informative article in the March, 1994 San Diego Bulletin. John & Lucile Britt appropriately named it FUCHSIA. If you've ever grown Fuchsias it truly resembles them. The Britts feel Fenton is the manufacturer because of the similarities to other Fenton bon bons, such as Wreath of Roses.

The color is a deep cobalt blue/red. When held to a bright light the red showing through is gorgeous. This phenomena is also a characteristic of other Fenton pieces.

The new owners prefer to call it the FUCHSIA bon bon, thank you!

Many thanks to all our Carnival Glass friends for the telephone calls and wonderful cards so many sent during the long weeks of Byron's hospital stay.

It helped so much to feel remembered at our stressful time in life. Your concern and love made Byron's last days a happier time for us both. Our Carnival friends were always dear to our hearts.

The support from so many will never be forgotten.

Greg Marter of Marter's Auction Service would like to have a Business Associate for Carnival Glass Auctions. Some one who loves Carnival Glass as much as he does, and would know all of the glass patterns, or would be willing to learn them in order to make this Partnership a successful vocation.

This can be a very enjoyable business by meeting wonderful people and making many new friends. I also conduct other types of auctions, but Carnival Glass would be the main interest for this Partnership.

I have 50 years of auctioneering experience. Please call or write to: Greg Marter, #90 Country Life Drive, O'Fallon, Missouri 63366. PHONE: 1-314-272-2854 and after May 17, 1994, 1-314-272-2854

This article will cover red, amberina, reverse amberina and brick red. There are so many colors I thought it would be easier to cover these in one article.

All RED Dragon and Lotus were produced late in the Carnival era around 1920. Fenton produced much of the other red Carnival also. This has been documented in the Butler Brothers Catalog.

The RED Dragon and Lotus is always desirable and always holds its price. Some red bowls have less color and more silver and gold iridescence, but the red with red iridescence is always an excellent seller. In 1993, two red Dragon and Lotus ruffled bowls sold at different auctions for $3,250.00 each. It seems good glass just keeps going up. The red bowls are found in the collar base ruffled and ice cream shape. I've never seen nor heard of any other shape in red, and never any red in spatula footed. That would be a real find. Does anyone have one?

These RED bowls are usually listed as rare, but there seems to be many more plain red than amberina, reverse amberina and brick red.

The AMBERINA bowls can fool you. Most have dark iridescence and don't look red. When held to the light they show an amberina base and the rest a beautiful cherry red. My most favorite bowl has an amberina base, red body and amberina edges.

Another beautiful color is REVERSE AMBERINA. The base is red with a little amberina. The body is amberina and the edges are red. I know of three of these bowls. Tom and Sharon Mordini had one for sale last year at the 1993 H.O.A.C.G.A. Convention.

AMBERINA and REVERSE AMBERINA are underrated and under priced compared to the red. In AMBERINA you find collar base ruffled and ice cream shape. In REVERSE AMBERINA you find collar base ice cream shape. If anyone has or knows of different shapes in collar base bowls, PLEASE let's hear from you! These haven't shown up in the spatula footed bowls in any shape. In fact, I've never seen nor heard of any shape of red in the spatula footed bowls. Wouldn't it be nice if someone writes to tell me I'm wrong.

BRICK RED IS REALLY AN APPROPRIATE NAME. This is last on my red list because they don't seem to be that desirable nor that plentiful. The bowls are darker than amber with an orange cast. The iridescence is usually light but enhances the base color. These were made in collar base ruffled and ice cream shape. Do they come in anything else? Haven't seen any. All information on any of the above would be gratefully accepted.

BANDED MOON AND STARS TUMBLER

This pretty tumbler got its name from the band of moons and stars that circles around the tumbler near the top. There are three of the half moons and three of the stars that are alternated in the 3/4 inch wide band. Above this band is a 3/4 inch wide smooth area. Below the band are six flowers that are evenly spaced around the tumbler. The bottom of the base is plain. The tumbler measures 5½ inches tall and 3 inches across the top. The color is a very nice marigold.

This tumbler is much like the Muscadine and Mirror & Crossbars tumblers in the way that they were made. We believe that these three different pattern tumblers were all made by the same company. This particular tumbler was found in Australia and most likely came into that country from India. We know for sure that a good many of this type of tumbler was found in India and brought back to Australia. Whether they were made in India or shipped into that country from Czechoslovakia or some other foreign country, we can not say at the present time. The featured Banded Moon and Stars tumbler is very pretty and quite unusual regardless of who made it. It would make a very fine addition to any Carnival Glass tumbler collection.

DRAWING OF THE BANDED MOON AND STARS TUMBLER

We are including in this article a nice drawing of this tumbler which we believe will give you a better view of the flowers in this pattern than does the photo. The photo does not show the pattern as clear and distinct as we would like.

This article on the Banded Moon and Stars tumbler marks our 196th entry into our Educational Tumbler Series. We hope that it has been of some interest to you.

HOLLY SPRIG COMPOTE

We are featuring here a fine piece of Millersburg Carnival Glass that is very rare in the compote shape. Holly Sprig pattern pieces can be found quite often, especially in bowls, but to find this pattern in a compote certainly doesn't happen very often. It is quite likely that many collectors have never seen one of these and we suspect that many don't realize how rare they really are. We know of only 6 or 7 of these Holly Sprig compotes and one of them is cracked. Jack Wilson, in his 1982 Millersburg research series, did not mention this compote. From that piece of information, we expect that he had not seen one at that time. Even though we have collected Millersburg Carnival Glass for many years, we have never owned one of these rare compotes. They have been reported in amethyst, green and marigold. Our featured example is in amethyst.

Notice that the Holly Sprig compote is made in the same shape as the Millersburg Strawberry compote. The only difference is that one features the Strawberry pattern on the interior and the other contains the Holly Sprig on the inside. The Strawberry examples are found much more often, however. Both of these compotes contain the Wide Panels on the underside. Photo #2 on the next page shows a close up view of the Holly Sprig compote.

The compote shown here is owned by Debbie and Mike Heintz of Cullman, Alabama. Here is their story on how they found it and added it to their collection. They noticed it at a flea market where it was priced at $25.00. They thought it looked like Millersburg, but they did not know for sure what it was. They hurried back to their car and scanned through their Carnival Glass book and decided that it might be the Holly Sprig compote that was listed as very rare and worth quite a bit. They ran back as fast as they could and picked up the piece trying not to look excited. Out of habit they asked "what was their best price?" The dealer said that they could take $23.00 for it. They hurriedly paid for it. Debbie said that she felt a little bit guilty about that, but they really were not sure that it was the rare compote.

When they got back home they took a photo of the piece and sent it to us to confirm if it was indeed the Holly Sprig compote. We answered by telling them that it was the Holly Sprig compote and that it was very rare and certainly valuable. We thought that you might like to read about their experience. We suspect that most of you have had occasions such as this. This type of an event is only one of the many reasons that makes Carnival Glass collecting so much fun.

This is article #184 in our Pictorial Pattern Parade series. We hope that you have found it both interesting and educational.

BY CHUCK & MARGE KREMER

THE HOBNAIL TABLE SET

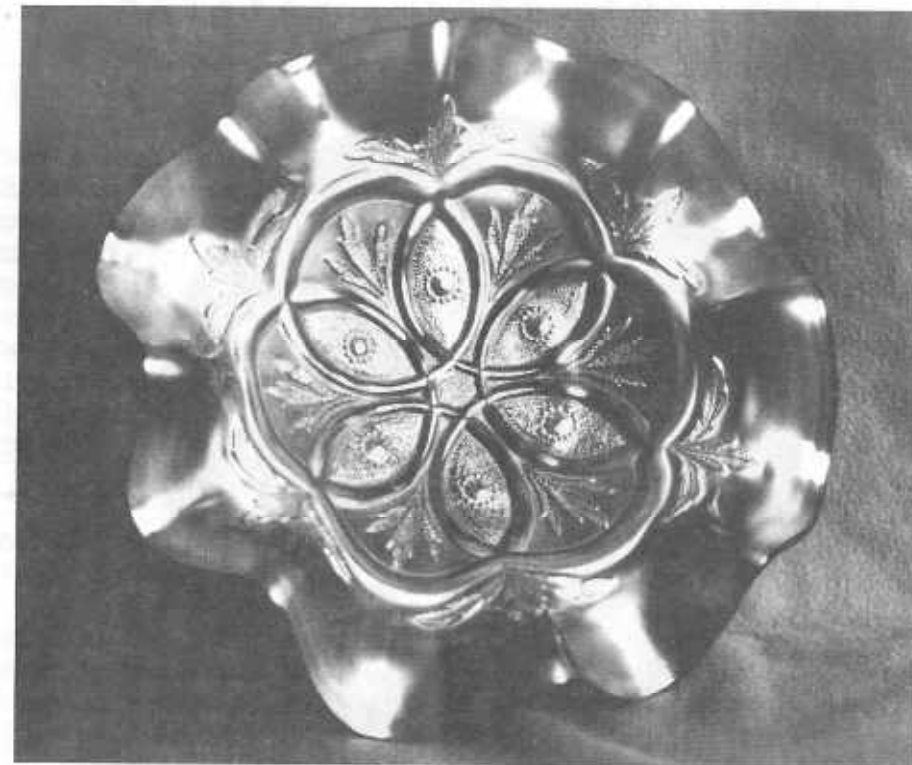

This table set is a Millersburg product and was made in amethyst, green, blue, and marigold. All colors are considered rare, with blue probably the rarest. Hobnail table sets are seldom mentioned in Carnival Glass books. We usually find the spittoon and rose bowl described with the comment "rare and desirable." The same comment can be made for this table set.

All pieces rest on a collar base. Many times we see Millersburg glass with a many rayed star on the base, but on the table set pieces the base is smooth on the bottom. Also, on all four pieces the background surface is smooth. The finials are covered with small hobnails to complete a simple but attractive pattern.

This is a four piece set, but both our blue and marigold sets are missing the spooner so we have elected to picture only the three pieces. We keep hoping someone will call with the spooners for our sets. Although we acquired our marigold set a piece at a time, we bought the three blue pieces as a unit in an auction in 1992. We have seen green and amethyst pieces, but have never had a chance to buy either set complete. Our blue butter dish, like all others we have seen or heard about, has an amethyst base. Was there ever a blue butter base?

We have been fortunate in finding pieces to our liking, but as with most scarce pieces, don't look too unkindly at a little problem. Pieces in this pattern are so seldom sold it is hard to speculate on prices--condition and iridescence will usually govern. This is number 23 in our Series on Table Sets.

CHUCK & MARGE KREMER

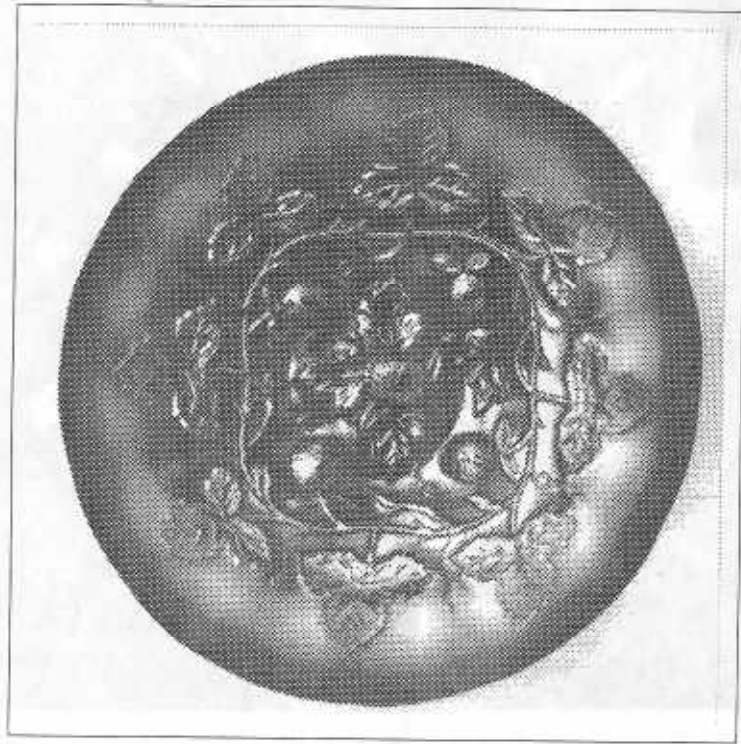

VICTORIAN

This impressively large bowl has come into its own over the past couple of years. Prior to that, in many cases, it was largely overlooked. The pattern is flowing and encompasses most of the surface. For pattern collectors, the design offers a unique quality, in that it appears on no other shape.

Colors are limited also. A rare peach opalescent example is known. However, in checking auction results we find that only 3 purple sold during 1992 and 2 during 1993. There are no other known colors. Ten years ago, a nice purple Victorian could be purchased for little more than $100.00. A super-splendid example sold in 1992 for $525.00! That woke the crowd to a new dawning. Since that, the price seems to have settled in at about $300.00 for one with just excellent iridescence.

Only five VICTORIANS sold at auction over a span of two years? This is a truly scarce pattern compared with others which sell by the dozen every year. Do YOU have one of these Dugan beauties? We surely enjoy ours.

DEAN & DIANE FRY

Dear Jackie:

Attached is a picture of a previously unknown piece of BLUE MILLERSBURG!

It is an exceptionally flat 7" with beautiful satin finish in the Blackberry Wreath pattern. The color of the glass is clear even blue just short of cobalt. We haven't found anyone yet who has seen or heard of another of these blue bowls.

Thank you for your assistance in sharing this find with your readers.

Dear Jackie:

I am enclosing a photo of a tumbler which I recently purchased.

It was called Cactus as the pattern on it, but according to the Hartung book, and Bill Edwards Carnival book, it doesn't really meet the description of the Cactus pattern. The pattern is raised up on the outside of the tumbler, the tumbler is of regular size, 4" high with top opening 3" across.

Could you or someone with more knowledge than I help me out with this matter.

I am just a new collector of about 3 years so have a lot to learn.

OPEN LETTER TO U.S. COLLECTORS

I want to tell members about where I live, Montreal. Normally, our winters are just awful, in the 10° to 30° range, with a couple of ugly forays into the -2° to -5° area. But somehow people still live here.

Well, at least they did till now. Last winter we were treated to 2 months straight, below 0°. Nice huh? During that lovely period, we also took a few dives into the -25° region of hell. At -25° most new cars don't start.

But, we don't have: flooding, ticks, earthquakes, hurricanes, mudslides, brushfires, scorpions or snakes or drought.

You guys think -25° is nothing compared to any one of your above mentioned problems? Wrong, Look at our Dollar!

So, next fall, one half of my province will move to Florida and the other half is eyeing California or Borneo.

What just might keep me here, besides my wife, is this new stamp that Canada just came up with. It is a "Build-Your-Own" Stamp that has a blank space in it. Guess what I glued onto this lovely blank? Small colored cut-outs of Carnival Glass pieces. WOW!! The world's first Carnival Glass stamps. The blank space is evenly defined by a round, fluted edge, so guess what I put in, a perfect Rose Show Variant plate.

Well, gotta go, gotta go spend about $20,000.00 to put in thicker windows and doors, that's about $12,000.00 U.S.

YVAN BEAUDRY

Dear Mr. Kramer:

I'm responding to the Britts' article in the March, 1994 H.O.A.C.G.A. I, also, have an Arches in the Sand tumbler. I acquired it from Mr. Rodenhouse several years ago and he has the name Arches in the Sand taped to the bottom of it. I'm glad to hear I'm in possession of a tumbler that is so rare. It makes being a Carnival Glass collector worthwhile when you find a tumbler that you bought a while ago is much rarer than you thought.

MRS. ELEANOR M. HAUGH

MORE ROSES - BUT NO NAMES!!

Shown here are two different ROSE patterns in blue Carnival Glass which, to the best of my knowledge, are unlisted. These pictures were sent to me by my very good friend from "God's Country", Jerry Reynolds, Jerry (a she, not a he) invited me to be banquet speaker at the Pacific Northwest Carnival Collectors convention in 1979 and we have been friends ever since. This is one of the major rewards of my work. It affords me the opportunity to meet some very special people from all over the country.

The two handled compote is frequently referred to as Northwood's Wreath of Roses, but since there is no official listing as such and there are already two different patterns with this same name (one by Fenton, another by Dugan/Diamond) I feel a new name should be introduced. The piece is not shown in Edward's Northwood Carnival book, nor is it in his new "standard" encyclopedia, so let's all get out our thinking caps.

This compote is clearly marked with an N-in-a-Circle trademark. The reverse pattern is the same Basketweave design found on Northwood's Three Fruits and Strawberry patterns. The bowl in the second photo is pictured upside-down to show the pattern. The inside of the bowl is plain and quite worn from use. Jerry tells me it is supposed to be English and she was told it was used as a church collection plate. No dimensions were sent, but I recall it was a large sized bowl, about 9" diameter. The pattern of "intaglio" roses underneath and panels and ribs at the side is most unusual.

CORN VASE VARIANT OR VERY RARE CORN HUSK VASE?

Keith and I started collecting Carnival Glass in mid-1991 and started buying most if not all, all good reference books that the Club offers, starting May, 1992 after we received our first H.O.A.C.G.A. Bulletin.

Last Sunday, March 13, after we left a flea market and one antique and collectors' peddlers fair empty handed, we proceeded driving around the San Francisco bay area because the weather was so beautiful. On the way back home, we stopped by an antique shop around 4:00 P.M. Inside we were surprised when we saw this rare Corn Vase that we both would have liked to have someday. After examining the vase, we both realized that this vase looked different than what we previously had seen in our reference books that we always read. Even though the price was out of reach of our monthly budget, because of the excitement that we both felt, we bought it anyway and rushed home and dragged out all the reference books that we have, and this is what we found out:

The photo shows a Variant Corn Vase-Pulled Husk that we bought. The height is 6 3/4 inches and is curving inward at the top with 2 1/2 inches wide across the opening. It has the Northwood mark "underlined N inside a circle" inside the vase bottom of the base and the color is purple with excellent iridescence. In Marion Hartungs Second book, page 22, the height states usually between 9 1/4 to 9 1/2 inches, and Bill Edwards 4th Edition book, page 48, states the height is usually 7 inches. Note the pulled husk style; compare with the picture shown on Don Moore's Carnival Glass-A Collection of Writings book on page 117 and the book of Harry Northwood-The Wheeling Years, 1901-1925, by W. Heacock, J. Measell and B. Wiggings, page 116, figure 578. In these two books, the husk was just being pulled out of the corn kernels and twisted and still comes straight up and the top opening sides also comes straight up. In the photo shown, the three alternating husks around the base were being pulled down and twisted to form a loop like a cup handle and the top opening is curving inward. This shows that what we found as shown in the photo is different in height, top opening, and specially the style of the pulled husk.

The thrill is one.....We would like to know more about this unusual pulled-husk Corn Vase and how many have been found. And we would appreciate it very much if the Bulletin can advertise a survey to all officers and members of H.O.A.C.G.A. or anyone who has seen or has one.

We would be interested in hearing from anyone any information on this Corn Husk Vase. Thank you, more power to the H.O.A.C.G.A. Club and happy Carnival hunting.

ANOTHER LOSS TO CARNIVAL GLASS

Smokey Cloud of Auburn Hills, Michigan pass away in March. Smokey was one of those people that was always willing to lend a helping hand to his Carnival friends. When he was asked to help with photographs of his glass or to give talks at conventions, he was always willing to help. He will always be remembered for his friendliness. He will be missed.

By the time you read this, all who ordered the new book, "THE COLLECTOR'S GUIDE TO NORTHWOOD'S CARNIVAL GLASS", should have received their books. My thanks to all who purchased copies. I would also like to apologize for the delay in getting your books to you. There were some last minute delays at the printers that I had no control over. The severe weather this winter caused power outages and power surges that apparently damaged several of the printing presses, knocking them out of operation for several days. Secondly, the recent truckers strike didn't help either. The printer had to find alternate means of transporting needed supplies, causing further delays. And to put the frosting on the cake, the presses again malfunctioned, resulting in color distortion on the covers. All of the book covers had to be re-printed.

All of these problems have now been corrected and I have an ample supply of the books on hand. To date, (as of this writing, 4-20-94), only 66 copies have been sold through the H.O.A.C.G.A. This is a surprisingly low response when you consider that our Club now has somewhere between 1,200 and 1,500 members! This volume is only the first of several that have been planned. Future volumes that cover the Carnival Glass made by Millersburg, Fenton, Dugan/Diamond, Imperial, Cambridge, Westmoreland and the U. S. Glass Company are in the planning stages. However, a much greater response from Club members is needed if these books are to become a reality. They are VERY expensive to produce!

The publisher is now promoting and selling the book on a national basis. However, if you purchase your copy from them, you will NOT receive an autographed copy and NO DONATION to the Club's treasury can be made. REMEMBER-COPIES SOLD THROUGH THE H.O.A.C.G.A. WILL RESULT IN A DONATION OF $1.00 FOR EACH COPY SOLD, TO THE CLUB TREASURY!

Order your copy now! Orders can now be shipped out on the same day they are received. The price of the book is $24.95 + $3.00 shipping & handling. Send check or money order to: Carl O. Burns, Star Rt. Box 111, Rumford Center, Maine 04278. Don't forget to mention H.O.A.C.G.A. when you order!

Talk about new beginnings! We really had one. Our first meeting for the New Year, March 20, started with a new President and Treasurer, a new meeting place and 51 enthusiastic Carnival Glass collectors!

The Holiday Inn in Mission Valley proved to be a great choice. The meeting room, on the ground floor, has easy access from the parking lot. The room is spacious and sunny. A few minor adjustments with table placements should make it perfect. You "done good" Gail, THANKS! Almost forgot the food was delicious. The dessert was sinful, but soooo good!

The meeting started with a drawing for the door prize, won by Barbara Stalder. Then the raffle drawing. There were several lucky winners, Pat Marie, Rosale Peters, Patricia Clark, Lee Mattar, Peggy Carter and Ardonna Bucher.

Two exciting and pressing business issues were discussed. The San Diego Club and the Southern California Club voted to fund the printing of a book compiling pages from Butler Brother Catalogs. Dean and Diane Fry have done a tremendous amount of work and time on this project. They're elated to see their efforts finally come to fruition. A great big THANK YOU to both of you! The other exciting issue was - AT LAST LORRAY! HOORAY! A CONVENTION in the works sponsored jointly by the SAN DIEGO AND SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CARNIVAL GLASS CLUBS. You'll be hearing much more as plans progress. Ya'll come!

The program was white glass with blue of all shades for accents. There were many beautiful pieces displayed. The display included a wide variety of rare, scarce, one of a kind and ever popular favorite pieces with beautiful iridescence that appeals to everyone. We had great participation. It's an excellent learning experience. We're lucky to have so many knowledgeable collectors in our Club. Even better they're all willing to share their glass and knowledge with the rest of us.

Congratulations Robby! You did a fantastic job, which I knew you would. NOW, if you can just figure out how to put a piece of red Carnival in everyones china cabinet you'll have a job for life.

1994 CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

The 1994 HOACGA Convention got underway with a three hour registration. About 70 Pre-Registratons had been sent in, and over half of those checked in on Wednesday. The Secretary, Ed Kramer had things well organized and things went very smoothly. The pace was brisk as evidenced by members checking in, setting up their room displays, getting their glass ready for sale, and the many friendly conversations taking place. Refreshments were provided on the Party Deck.

Registration continued Thursday morning as members continued to check in and get set up and ready for the many scheduled activities. The HOACGA Notebooks were a popular item as well as the current section of the notebook, Compotes 2. Many souvenir plates and past banquet-favor mugs were sold.

In the afternoon, John & Lucile Britt gave an interesting and informative program about miniatures. Their program included approximately 200 items, about 180 members were in attendance and enjoyed their fine presentation. At 7:00 P.M. another large gathering heard Bob Leonard, Chuck Kremer and Bob Grissom present a program on their Table Sets. They past out a listing of all known table set patterns, listing the maker and all known colors. They had an impressive display of patterns and colors. Every known table set pattern was represented. After the program, the members were served pie and coffee on the party deck. This was another opportunity for members to socialize, and enjoy the refreshments. The hospitality refreshments, which we all enjoyed very much. were organized and prepared by Nadine Paulsen with the capable assistance of her husband, Barney. Thanks, also to the other ladies and men who helped make the hospility time enjoyable for us all.

On Friday April 22, a short registraton preceded a program entitled "Pretty Plates" presented by Ruth Green and Dr. Richard Cinclair. A standing-room only crowd witnessed an impressive display of sixty different plates, brought by Ruth and Richard. Richard Cinclair provided an entertaining lecture while discussing each of the plates.

Later that day a luncheon honored Floyd and Cecil Whitley. They are the recipients of the first annual John and Lucile Britt Award for Excellence in Carnival Glass. Carl Schroeder, Bob Allaire, Jim Seeck, George Loescher, and Richard Cinclair all gave some interesting insights about the Whitleys. Dr Roy Heiger, President of the Texas Club, presented Cecil with Red Roses. John and Lucile presented this award. About 25 club members from Texas were in attendance. A video tape of this presentation is available. One hundred sixty members attended the luncheon.

After the luncheon on Friday the Annual Business meeting was called to order at 2:00 P.M.. President Grissom read a detailed statement concerning the problem relating to our former Treasurer, Douglas L. Peters. Questions from the audience were answered. In summary, charges have been filed against Doug Peters and the case is in the hands of the County Prosecutor. A claim has been filed with the insurance company holding the bond on Doug Peters. As, Treasurer, he was bonded to $30,000.00. As further developments in this case occur, the membership will be kept informed through the bulletin. The following officers were elected: Daryl Strohm, Vice-President, Jackie Fortney, Bulletin Secretary and Cliff Ball, Treasurer. Daryl reported that the project on Rarities is continuing after a brief delay caused by the past treasurer's problem. Frank Fenton was recognized and informed as to how much his attendance is appreciated by the other club members. The meeting was adjourned at 3:00 P.M..

The remainder of Friday was spent in Room Display judging, viewing the glass to be auctioned on Saturday, and an evening hospitality event on the Party Deck. Thanks again to Nadine Paulsen for baking six cakes and the other ladies for assisting in the serving. At 9:00 P.M. a midnight auction was held, thanks to Jim Seeck, Mickey Reichel, and Billy Richards, Jr. all well-known Carnival Glass auctioneers for your services. It was a brisk-paced and fun time and some members were able to by of sell a piece of Carnival.

Saturday, April 23, 1994, after a brief and final regristration, Jim Seeck auctioned the Ken and Bev Osbon collection. The auction was well attended (144 bidding numbers) and was a success for both the Sellers and Buyers. Some very nice pieces of glass found a new home.

saturday evening, April 23, 1994 saw 200 persons in their "finery" at the convention banquet. After a meaningful invocation by our new Treasurer Cliff Ball, the Holiday Inn outdid themselves in the preparation and serving of a delicious prime rib dinner. Following the dinner the Room Display awards were presented by Jackie Fortney, results appear in another article in this bulletin. During the dinner we had the priveledge of viewing a very outstanding display of Carnival, placed there by Dean and Diane Fry for there program talk. The display consisted of approximately 100 pieces of glass from their collection which they had brought from home in San Diego. Diane, as usual, did a very good job of presenting her talk on "A Plethora of Patterns". We want to thank Dean and Diane for bringing there glass and sharing it with us, we know it is very large task to present such a program. A video tape of the program is available. In addition, Diane with Cecil Whitley, coordinated a once-in-a-lifetime showing of 14 Farmyard bowls brought by members from all over the country. A highlight was Cecil Whitley's only known Peach Opal bowl.

Jim Seeck auctioned several donated pieces of glass and 20 Whimseys which were made from past souvenirs, mugs, and spittons. The auction of the whimseys and the donated pieces was very successful. Thanks to Jim Seeck for auctioneering and to Martin and Elaine Benedict, Dean and Diane Fry, Charles and Eleanor Mochel, Mickey Reichel, Bob Grissom, Daryl and Norma Strohm, John and Lucile Britt for your donation of a piece of Carnival Glass. After the festivities the packing to start the trek back home began in earnest.

Sunday Morning, April 24, 1994, we gathered for a farewell breakfast buffet, which everyone enjoyed. We said our farewells to our old and our new carnival glass friends. The 1994 convention was most enjoyable and I thank it is safe to say, a good time was had by all.

Thanks to our speakers, those who donated glass, the ladies and men that worked to make sure that everyone had an enjoyable visit to the convention, your efforts made it.

Video tapes of all of the programs and the Floyd and Cecil Whitley luncheon are available, see the video order blank in this bulletin, to place your order.

H.O.A.C.G.A.-EDUCATIONAL BOOK II

Oriental Poppy & Oriental Poppy Variant, Maple Leaf & Maple Leaf Variant, Lustre Rose & Lustre Rose Variant, Millersburg Cherries & Millersburg Cherries Variant.

Do you know the difference between these well known tumbler patterns and the Variants. The differences, along with information about 173 other tumbler patterns, are explained in the HOACGA Educational Series Book II.

This educational book contains photographs and information about 177 different tumblers. The book contains "Educational Tumbler Series" articles by John & Lucile Britt, which previously appeared in the HOACGA monthly bulletin. Much of the detailed information will not be found in any other reference books. This is information supplied by knowledgeable collectors with years of experience and the result of seeing, observing and studying many tumblers.

This book is a very valuable source of information on Carnival Glass tumblers.

A NOTE FROM THE BULLETIN SECRETARY:

I would like to thank all the wonderful people of the Heart of America Carnival Glass Association for all the cards, letters, phone calls and prayers we received before and after Glen passed away on February 25, 1994. Your prayers and support strengthened Harold and I during this period.

I'd also like to express many thanks to the Board of Directors who helped and continue to help me get the Bulletin out each month.

God Bless each and everyone of you.

F A R M Y A R D

The Farmyard Spectacular was on display at the 1994 Heart of America Carnival Glass Association convention in Lenexa, Kansas. We were privileged to have 13 bowls and one plate to enjoy. The 14 pieces were brought by Club members from across the country. We want to thank Cecil Whitley and Diane Fry for their excellent presentation of the Farmyards, and to all those who brought these pieces for display. A V H S video tape will be available soon on the Farmyard display and also of the Fry collection.

Among the various Farmyards displayed, there was the only known amethyst plate, which was beautiful with excellent iridescence, a peach opalescent square bowl, and a green square bowl, both superb. There were also two 3 in 1 edge bowls in amethyst that were really gorgeous, and several 6 and 8 ruffled bowls of equal splendor.

The Farmyard pattern, produced by the Dugan Glass Company, is a massive piece of glass. It was made for decorative purposes only. We now know there are more six ruffled than eight ruffled Farmyards. The least seen are the 3 in 1 edges. As far as color, amethyst prevails. As far as iridescence, on a scale from 1 to 10 (10 being the best), most Farmyards will be in the 5 to 6 range. When you see a Farmyard bowl that would rate a 9 or 10 on the scale, you've seen a beautiful piece of glass.

Please don't overlook a great source of information for both the beginning and experienced Carnival Glass collector.

Over the course of many years, the Heart of America Carnival Glass Association has published sections for this Notebook. At present, they number 15 and we are still publishing them.

The first section, Punch Sets, is presently out of print, but may be revised. All other sections are available and can be purchased one-at-a-time or in a complete notebook, as listed in our centerfold order sheet. Each section has photographs in color of each known pattern, the maker and colors known. In their lectures and programs, both Frank Fenton and Dr. Richard Cinclair have mentioned the H.O.A.C.G.A. Notebook as an important source of information. Others have said they keep a copy in the car for quick I.D. of pieces found on trips to shows, flea markets and malls.

There are sections on Mugs, Table Sets (40 photos), Water Sets (167 photos in 3 sections), Rosebowl (101 photos in 2 sections), Small Plates (98 photos in 2 sections), Chop Plates (40 photos), Regular Plates (81 photos in 2 sections), and Compotes (113 photos in 2 sections). Order yours now!

If you already have a Notebook, maybe you should check to see if you have all of the sections that belong to the Notebook.

SECRETARY,

I want to thank all Club members who supplied information on this project. As far as to how many Farmyards there are is in question. But I will say there are not enough to go around for all who want one.

The Farmyard and Butterfly & Tulip (another Dugan pattern) are two pieces of glass that are a love-hate situation. You either love them or hate them. I happen to love them both.
