Inverted Feather Cracker Jar

By Alan and Lorraine Pickup

Maybe we should label this article as "the one that got away." This pretty Cambridge cracker jar was bought on the Internet but the seller failed to package it sufficiently and it arrived in a slightly shattered condition. So the world was deprived of another piece of history and beauty in the form of carnival glass. That broken glass was just the start of two months of aggravation and frustration dealing with the post office. I guess this article is to alert you as to what problems you can encounter when dealing on eBay.

Sellers usually state that they have no responsibility for breakage if you do not insure the item. But what they don't tell you is that they also have little to lose when it is insured at your expense and broken in shipment because of their poor packaging. They should take responsibility for packing the item so it has the chance of arriving in one piece. The problem of the broken glass is dumped squarely in your lap. You are the one who has to return it to the post office, file a claim and wait for the post office to validate your claim and refund your money. And in this case the time span was over two months. We have been told that two months was pretty fast service. OUCH! The seller has your money and what you get is some sympathy, if you are lucky, and a run around from the post office. Your local post office will tell you that they have handled their part and give you a phone number to a postal claim office that gets you nowhere. No voice contact with real people, you just punch in a number and listen to canned message responses.

You can walk into any post office, request insurance on a package with no questions asked of what is in the box or how well it is prepared for shipment. They must collect many thousands of dollars each day doing this and don't hesitate a moment. But that entire nonchalant attitude is lost when you file your claim. The claim form itself, after you fill it out, travels back and forth between your post office and the seller to validate the claim, then you wait and wait. The seller should be the insured, not the buyer, and refund your payment then. And only then would they take a little more effort in how the glass is packed.

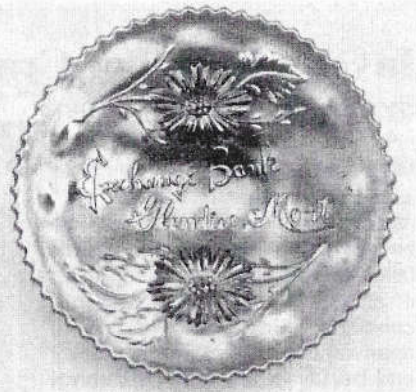

Green Cambridge Inverted Feather cracker jars are the predominant color and are not that hard to find. The problem is finding one that has great iridescence. This one met that criteria but didn't survive the trip.

EXCHANGE BANK

Glendive, MT

By Dean & Diane Fry

This particular bank was founded in 1901, in the 100 block of Merrill Avenue in Glendive, MT. Not until 1911 did the bank become chartered. Prior to 1900, most banks were privately owned and totally unregulated. The bank survives today as First Security Bank; although not in the original building. Probably a good thing, because pictures of the original building's interior show one teller's window, with no creature comforts of any kind!

The back pattern on this piece offers the Wide Panel; a standard for many of the pieces manufactured by Fenton.

This Advertising design is available in the usual amethyst color, with known shapes being: ruffled and IC shaped bowls, handgrip and flat plates...all considered to be RARE.

Since we are discussing the flat plate shape, prices since 1999 have ranged from $1,500 to as much as $3250 at various auctions around the Country. Iridescence and damage factors, along with the number of determined buyers present, determine the outcome of any purchase, of course. Until the research efforts of John Resnik resulted in the publishing of his Book on the subject in 1989, many of these pieces were not given the credit they so well-deserve!

We had never been in the right place at the right time to purchase this plate, so you may imagine our complete surprise when in opening the HOACGA Bulletin one day during 2001, one was listed for sale. Further surprised to find in calling the seller, that it could be sent on approval, we quickly agreed to such thoughtfulness! It is exactly what we were looking for, and could not be more pleased had we sat for hours waiting for the piece to come up for bid at an auction!

HEADDRESS

Imitation is Flattery

The Tenth in a Series on Non USA Carnival

By Glen and Stephen Thistlewood

Plagiarism - it's just a fancy word for "copying" - but it sounds a little better. Many of the Carnival Glass manufacturers did it at some time or another (just think of all those Peacock patterns). If a design is popular, why not produce your own version of it? Quite a few of the USA Classic Carnival patterns were also copied by the European Carnival Glass makers. Sowerby's blatant theft of Imperial's Scroll Embossed pattern is well reported (though it probably confused some of the early collectors). Another pattern that was copied was Headdress. The interesting article in the August 2002 HOACGA Bulletin by Alan & Lorraine Pickup sets the scene well.

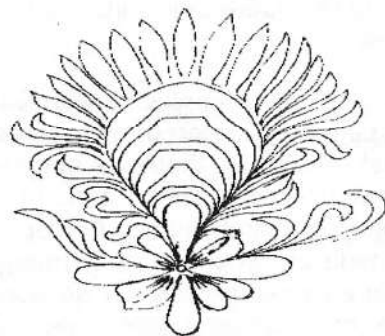

The United States Glass Company made examples of Carnival Glass featuring the Headdress pattern, partnered with some Cosmos and Cane items. Now, just to confuse, there are several other patterns that are also found partnered with Headdress. These are: Curved Star, European Poppy and Nutmeg Grater. It is our belief that these were all made by Brockwitz of Germany (our original research on these patterns can be seen in Network #17, 1998; for further evidence on Nutmeg Grater, see "A Century of Carnival Glass"). Brockwitz simply copied the Headdress pattern.

To further complicate the situation, there are slight variations in Headdress, but the basic concept is the same. The illustrations show some of these minor variations. We can state with reasonable certainty that Curved Star and Nutmeg Grater were both Brockwitz patterns as they appear in their catalogs. European Poppy is almost certainly Brockwitz too - the evidence is circumstantial but very strong.

The Curved Star pattern itself is often the source of confusion, because several makers produced it, but the answer to that conundrum is simple (see our third article in this HOACGA series "The Mysterious Curved Star"). Virtually all the Carnival examples of Curved Star that are found are from Brockwitz. Very, very occasionally an Eda or Karhula-littala example will show up. Check out the claws in the pattern for verification: Brockwitz Curved Star pieces have a file pattern on the claws.

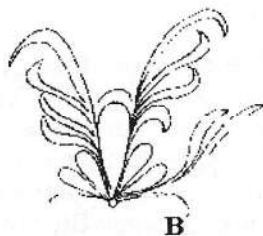

So, if you come across an item with Curved Star on the outside and Headdress on the inside - it will be Brockwitz. If, on the other hand, the Headdress pattern is partnered with Cosmos and Cane - it's a United States Glass piece. Mystery solved.

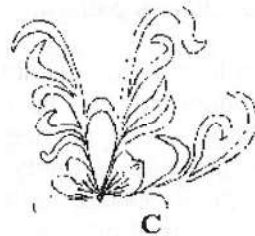

A detail of the Headdress plume as seen on Curved Star repeated 4 times around the central motif.

HELLO FROM IOWA

By Vicki Gearhart

To start off, we want to say that we had a very nice trip to St. Louis in July. We attended the ICGA Convention, plus revisited some dear friends, Alma & Jim Ricketts. Of course, Jim was off working, but Alma was home to show us her recent carnival goodies.

She had recently got a set of "TWINS" - no I am not talking about a pattern, but rather two seldom seen Marigold Ohio Star Vases about 10" tall with very similar color and iridescence. They have nice coloring from top to bottom and are proudly displayed in her home. They have also purchased a beautiful AO Poinsettia and Lattice Bowl. This has certainly been her lucky year.

We had a wonderful visit with her and love to see her many beautiful carnival items in her home along with many other interesting items.

ICGA had some really beautiful glass in the rooms on display. I really liked Pete and Paula's Good Luck display with a lot of beautiful Good Luck pattern items plus coins sprinkled around the display as Paula is pretty lucky with the slots. Neat idea, of course room displays are always nice to look at no matter how simple or extravagant they are. We enjoyed them all.

If you've never been to a Carnival Convention, I highly recommend you try to attend one. They are all fun and the people are always friendly. Can't think of a better hobby to have. Good luck with your future carnival finds.

LOOKING BACK

By Charles Mochel

In the early days of Carnival Glass collecting, Marion Hartung and Rose Presznick each were giving Carnival Glass patterns names. As time passed, most everyone used the Hartung name given the pattern. I thought it would be interesting for newer collectors to see the list of Hartung Pattern Names followed by the name Mrs. Presznick gave the same pattern. You will still occasionally see the Presznick Pattern Name used.

September 2002 Meeting of HOACGA

By Ed Kramer

The next regular meeting of HOACGA will be held on Sunday, September 22, 2002, at 2:00 pm at the Prairie Village Community Center, 7700 Mission Road, Prairie Village, Kansas. We will discuss "offbeat" colors in Carnival Glass for September.

The August 25 meeting was attended by the regulars and Don Lacock brought some friends from Topeka, Ray and Pam Moore. Cliff and Jo Ann Ball had a schedule conflict, but Cliff brought by the Treasurer's Report showing an ending balance of 17,134.38. Other business meeting items were upcoming auctions and conventions (see the back of this bulletin), the announcement of Tommy Whitley as the 2003 banquet speaker, and mention of an upcoming meeting at the convention hotel to discuss a fixed price for the next two year's conventions. After a break for Krispy Kreme donuts furnished by Daryl and Norma Strohm, we discussed the Amethyst glass we brought for August. Members shared the particulars for the glass each had brought. It is always interesting to hear how people obtained their glass and the unusual stories about it. You can always learn something. The meetings are very enjoyable, which brings me to an important part of the business meeting I saved for last. We discussed the monthly meetings and low attendance. It was suggested we try something different, so in September we will vote on decreasing the frequency and/or changing the location to member homes or alternating member homes with the PV Community Center.

PLEASE attend the September meeting or make your wishes known to the Board of Directors. Ray Moore won the door prize, a beautiful paperweight in emerald green with the Fenton initial engraved on it in white.

HEART OF AMERICA CARNIVAL GLASS ASSOCIATION BOARD MEETING - AUGUST 22, 2002

The HOACGA Board held their monthly meeting in Lawrence, Kansas on August 22, 2002. Present were President Grissom, Vice President Lacock, Treasurer Ball, Secretary McMorris and Editor Mochel. Lawrence is a central location for the five board members as they all live within a 40-60 mile radius.

The September newsletter contents were discussed. More articles from members are needed for the September and future bulletins. Order information and forms for materials offered by the club will continue to be included in the bulletin. Eleanor reported more problems for the printer with the post office requirements on bulk mail sorting. Several members have indicated either late delivery or none for the August bulletin, but hopefully these problems are being corrected.

Treasurer Cliff Ball reported that all bills are paid and the club has $17,444.00 in the account.

President Grissom reported on the inventory of books, video tapes and glass items stored at various members' homes and the Board discussed possible means of selling the books and glass.

The 2003 Convention planning continued. The raffle of $1,000 cash will be held. Bob is working on the second section of Candlesticks for the notebook and adding information on spittoons. The various programs – Britt Award nominee, educational seminars, display, banquet speaker – are being finalized. The auction contracts are being prepared. Fenton Glass Company will be working with Bob on the glass items for the convention.

Bob attended the Texas Convention and took two boxes of Britt materials to Eleanor Blair for a project she is working on to put out a disc with pictures of all carnival glass patterns. The materials were articles and photographs. There are many old club newsletters in the Britt boxes and these will be offered at the silent auction in 2003. Ed Kramer and Bob have spent much time coordinating the Britt materials in order to use them to good advantage. This has been an ongoing project.

The Embassy Suites of Kansas City will be contacted for room rates for the 2004 and 2005 conventions.

The board discussed whether it would be advantageous to change the monthly meeting to either every other month or quarterly and possibly to hold it in members' homes or other locations in conjunction with an event such as a carnival glass auction or an antique show. If held in members' homes this would provide an opportunity to view collections. Attendance at the monthly meetings is low and mostly the same group each month. This matter was tabled for further study.

Adjournment.

Respectfully submitted,
Ann McMorris, Secretary

TOM BURNS REPLIES

By Tom Burns

Let me explain something to ya!!

Having heard about Pete's column, then having a chance to read it, I felt the need to respond.

I have no hard feelings, at all, when people criticize me. Heck, I've been involved in this glass for 35 years; seen people come and go, have seen millions of pieces of glass and have been in all sorts of situations. Unless you are directly in my shoes, you just don't know what you're up against.

First, I want to say that if anyone ever has a comment or remarks about our ethics, antics, etc. - all you have to do is come right up to me and I'll explain the reasoning behind it, etc...anytime in the future I would appreciate it.

Now...about these brochures...if you're on our mailing list you may remember sometime in May you received a large size Green or Yellowish sheet that listed the 3 major Carnival Glass Auctions that we were about to do in the next 6 weeks.

Now, I knew for a fact that the brochures were going to be a bit late. I learned in past experiences that you can send them out too early so in any case, this particular time they were going to be later than I would have liked. In one case the Aunt was contesting the will and that held me up 2-1/2 months (Keystone) and in another case the consignment commitment was late (Lincoln Land) - so it didn't matter what my intentions were - they were going to be tardy!

So, knowing this, I sent out these green & yellow sheets weeks prior to these 3 auctions and guess what!? Those sheets had all 3 auctions listed with times, dates, locations, phone numbers and highlights listed so everyone could "make their plans" and there was also deliberate warning that "the brochures would be late...so make your plans now!!"

If you receive our brochures, you should have all received these Advance Auction Notices...in all likelihood, like myself, some people have got to start reading their mail.

Oh yeah, and I do get a bit mouthy when glass sells soft. I've been that way since my first auction in April of 1980 (until I have the ability to bid myself) most likely will continue to do so until the end of our reign (which is no where in sight - at least for me). It's also hard to have two competing auctions when there's a Woody Funk collection coming up for sale as the 3rd auction. Anyone that was there knew what everyone was waiting for and they came in droves.

Anyway, darned if I do, darned if I don't and there's always going to be someone that just doesn't understand what goes on behind the scenes.

One solutions would be for all these clubs to get together and spread these conventions out - after all there are 12 months in a year, not 2-1/2.

It is tough when you're the auction company that's responsible for the welfare of people's investments. Sometimes things work out fine and sometimes they don't, but with all these associations, newsletters and by words of mouth, people should heed these above and don't hold your breath for the intricate details of the pretty colored brochures - you should check out the advance auction notices and actually read them. We send them out for an important reason. Too bad none of you were at the yard sale known as Lincoln Land - if you'd read the green or yellow sheets had showed up, I probably wouldn't have had to write this article now...Oh well, maybe next time.

PS I may as well use this as another advance auction notice. You'll not want to miss the 2002 Great Lakes Club Glass Bash - an outstanding collection of Gus Van de Perre.

Also, make your plans now for the Sunshine Convention in Florida in February and we're going to have a Barn Burner in Ohio next March, 2003!!

Is this enough advance notice?!

Thank you

2002 HOACGA NOTEBOOK INSERT

Candlesticks – 1st Section

By Bob Grissom

You may not have many candlesticks in your collections, but what is your knowledge of the ones you have? Do you know the difference between a Northwood "Colonial," a Fenton "Florentine," or a Vineland "Colonial?"

The HOACGA Notebook section for 2002 will be the first of two sections identifying Candlesticks. Several collectors have candlesticks in their collection, but this is an area of Carnival glass collecting where information is not readily found. This section of the notebook is an attempt to compile them in one place, present as much information as possible, and to show them with a color photograph. Most of these are described in other publications, but you will need several reference books to be able to find them.

Much time has been spent, not only by me, but several other collectors, trying to identify the various pieces. Information such as this is only possible with the help of many members who have supplied photographs and a listing of their candlesticks.

This first section is now available. If you wish to order, please use the order form below:

HOACGA PATTERN NOTEBOOK

The Pattern Notebook was started in 1980, with the first section being on mugs. Each year since, except in 1992, a different section had been added. This information has been compiled and printed to assist the collector in identifying the various pieces of Carnival Glass. Each section identifies the Patterns, Maker, Colors and other pertinent information and shows a color picture of the pattern. There are (10) completed sections with the candlesticks section to be completed next year. There are about 1222 items pictured. Each year a new section will be added to the Notebook.

2002 HOACGA Souvenir Emerald Green Hatpin Holder

The Emerald Green Hatpin Holder is a very beautiful souvenir. When you purchase a Souvenir you get a beautiful piece of Carnival Glass plus you are helping to financially support an organization that is supporting our investment and promoting the hobby that we enjoy. If we, the collectors, do not support our organization, then who will?

Members may order as many of the hatpin holders as they desire. They would make a lovely Christmas gift.

The price of the Souvenir is $50.00 plus $5.00 for shipping. Make checks payable to HOACGA. Hatpin holders will be shipped when your order is received.

MAIL SERVICE

By Eleanor Mochel

There was a problem with the mail service last month and delivery of the bulletins being late.

If you receive your bulletin after the 20th of the month, please email the Bulletin Secretary or drop her a note in the mail.

If you still haven't received the August Bulletin, please notify the Bulletin Secretary and one will be mailed to you.

The HOACGA Board would like to know if the problem continues.

Thanks so much for your help.

Correspondence

My Bulletin arrived today, Sept. 3 and I have heard from a couple of other people who have now received theirs as well. Sorry it was a problem for you all!

It looks great, as usual. Your "Looking Back" articles are delightful. O. Joe Olson must have been quite a character.

Thanks,
Joan Doty

Since we are so far from the scene of the "real carnival glass action" we very much appreciate the information found in the monthly bulletin. We also appreciate the major effort that the clubs and its members take to share that information found in the pattern notebook and the videos with us.

Thanks again,
Terry Bokenfohr

Correspondence

From John and Sandra Stafford of Dalton, WI a note reading: "Please renew our dues for another year. Keep up the good bulletin. Wishing everyone good health and happiness."

From Mary Lynn of Nashville, TN a note reading: "Dues up $10?? Still worth it! Great newsletter."

Soon after retirement in 1983, I started collecting Carnival Glass and it has been an excellent hobby. From that time to the present, my primary interest has been in tumblers.

However, in early 2001, when my wife and I decided to leave Argos, IN and move to Gibsonia, PA, it was necessary to dispose of most of my collection. Thus, at present, I have only a few pieces of "OLD" Carnival, mostly tumblers. While I still buy an occasional tumbler, collecting has been greatly reduced. I plan to gradually disperse the remaining pieces in my collection.

My wife and I plan to celebrate our 60th Wedding Anniversary on October 9, 2002.

I much enjoy the monthly bulletin, which you edit for the HOACGA. Congratulations.

Carnival Glass Auction

Featuring the

Leo and Ester Arenstein Collection

Saturday, September 28th 2002 10am

Columbus Airport Hotel

750 Stelzer Road, Columbus, Ohio

614-237-6360

Selling at public auction will be the fine carnival glass collection of Leo and Ester Arenstein combined with a small private collection from Indiana. This collection of over 350 pieces features rarity, color, and diversity along with fantastic condition. The Arenstein's have collected for nearly 30 years and have amassed quite a collection for themselves, which they will now share with you. Everything will sell without reserve or minimum. Come on over and spend the afternoon with us, have a sandwich and soda and enjoy the auction. We hope to see you there.

Some highlights include 4 pieces Millersburg blue and other great Millersburg items. This is one of the best selections of Millersburg to be offered this year. A RARE old Fenton marigold Peacock Summer Gardens vase, the perfect one. Several excellent pieces of Imperial, Dugan and Northwood including a very rare sapphire Rose Show bowl. Approximately 14 pieces of red & 58 quality plates. AO to include fine cut and roses rosebowl, stippled 3 fruits plate and bowls, rose show bowl (incredible), Peacock at Urn small ICS bowl, and others. Watch your mailboxes for full color brochure or visit our website at www.jimwrodaauction.com.

If not on our mailing list yet please let us know and we'll get you on it. This will be our last scheduled carnival glass auction for the year. We are now gearing up for the 2003-year. We are currently accepting collections or consignments for 2003. Give us a call and we'll be happy to help you with your auction.
