MYSTERY LAMPSHADE REVISITED

By Alan and Lorraine Pickup

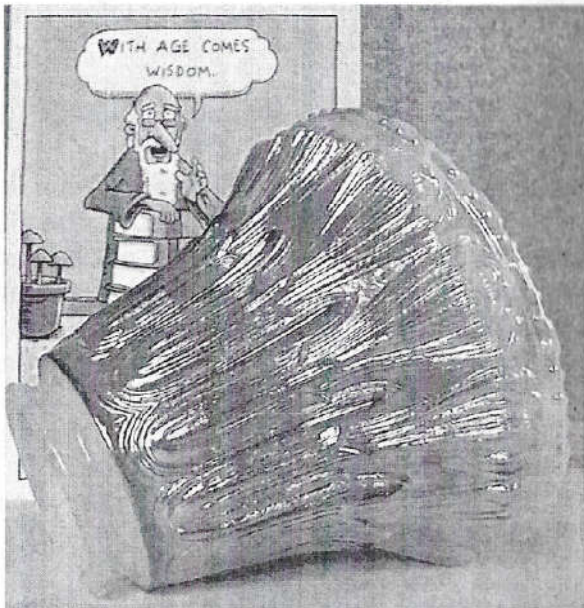

We need a little help on this one. Pictured with this mysterious lampshade is a recent birthday card I received that somewhat contradicts my problem. The card reads, "With age comes wisdom." But that doesn't seem to be the case here.

So when asked recently by another collector who wants to include this shade in a future book if I ever found any information on this shade, we have to confess that we have not. The shade was found several years ago. After showing the shade or a picture of the shade to several knowledgeable collectors and writing in the HOACGA bulletin an appeal for information, we apparently just abandoned the search until this request for information was received.

After a short computer search we found that our appeal for answers as to who made it and did it have a name was published in the April 2000 bulletin. So please bear with me as I go back to some of the previous write up. The shade is a nicely iridized marigold over moonstone, not signed, kind of heavy compared to other shades. A generous quantity of glass was used in the making. It is four and one half inches tall and has a five-inch flare. The fitter diameter is only two inches and factory ground on the inside. We mention this as many old carnival shades measure closer to two and one forth inches and many shades are not ground but rather crude, almost to the point of the glass being simply broken out of the fitter area.

The pattern detail can best be described as an attractive array of twelve draped tassels. One distinct feature that could be a clue is found on the bottom edge of the shade. The bottom edge of the shade has three dots followed by a dash that is repeated around the shade, with a row of alternating raised dots and dashes immediately above the bottom edge. This shade has an interior that is not iridized. We have other moonstone shades that have the iridescence applied to the interior as well as the exterior. We have Fenton and Northwood moonstone type shades but this shade just does not seem to fit into their style. So who made this one? Does anybody have the answer to this mysterious shade that they would like to share with us, or are you going to keep us in the dark?

DAVIDSON'S SOCIETY CHOCOLATES

By Dean & Diane Fry

Truthfully speaking, we have never SEEN a flat plate in this pattern. Should one exist, it could be termed Extremely Rare! Resnik's book emphasizes the same fact! Handgrips seem to be pretty scarce. No bowls are known. The only two examples listed in auction results for 2001 are card tray shape.

John's educated guess about the placement of this business was somewhere in Northern Missouri-Southern Iowa locale. His 1989 efforts to substantiate this were repeatedly thwarted. Perhaps some of you have knowledge of its whereabouts?

There is no date on the piece to offer any clue in that area, but we must assume that since chocolate companies were "springing" up during the early 1900's, Davidson's too, made their endeavors during that time frame...and would it not be NICE to be given a pretty Carnival plate even today, if we were to step into a See's, or a Russell Stover outlet for a $10-$12 box of chocolates...Dream ON!

This was a Northwood endeavor, replete with their basketweave exterior. Note the smaller size mums used on the Northwood Advertising pieces?

The most expensive of the card trays sold last year at auction was $700, but then we don't know whether there were any drawbacks, such as wear, nicks, dings, or cracks.

Then too, since "Iridescence IS the Essence" of our selections, perhaps there was some lack of it. The numbers of bidders with determination has a huge bearing on results, as well.

This was another successful purchase from an ad in the old Antique Trader. In July of 1987, we were both still working full-time and unable to travel from San Diego back to the Mid-West as often as we might have liked, although we did our best to "keep the desert path well-traveled by!"

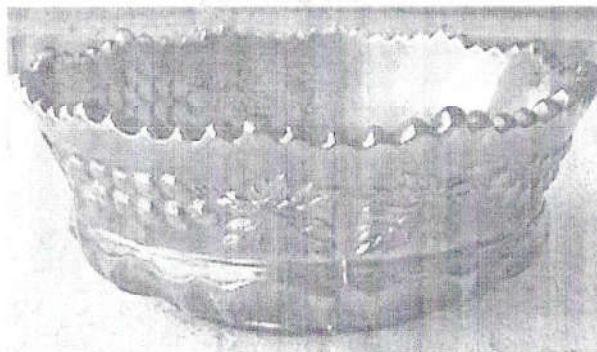

Northwood's Horehound Grape & Cable

By John and Terri Dubinski

Very early in my 14-year love affair with Carnival Glass, I had the opportunity to visit with John Britt about collecting Carnival Glass. One of the things that he mentioned was that he was continuously amazed and surprised with the new finds in collecting Carnival Glass. He went on to relate that there were still unreported or undiscovered patterns and shapes and colors out there. That conversation with John was brought back to the fore recently when I acquired at a local auction an 'unusual' colored thumbprint Grape and Cable small berry bowl. It was color I had not seen before so it was a piece I simply had to win. I was fortunate as my competing bidder, apparently, did not know any more about the color than I. Afterwards, I learned he was under the impression that it was a strange color of marigold.

After getting it home and doing some research I discovered that I had purchased a piece of Northwood Grape and Cable in the Horehound color. Checking in Carl O. Burns' book on Northwood Carnival, I learned that he considers Horehound a very rare color in the Grape and Cable pattern. A perusal of Mordini Auction Guides certainly confirmed Burns' contention as to rarity of color in this pattern. Mordini reports only 11 items in Horehound in the Grape and Cable pattern selling at auction in the last 14 years! However, a closer analysis of those 11 items also suggests that 4 of those sales could be repeat sales of the same item in subsequent years. Interesting though is the limited range of shapes reported---the punch bowl and base, the PCE bowl, the tumbler, the hatpin holder, and the sweetmeat.

This example apparently is the first Horehound small berry bowl with thumbprint in the Grape and Cable pattern. John Britt was right. There still are new discoveries to be made!

Horehound Grape & Cable punch cups or a pitcher or a master berry bowl would be real finds! Or some other shapes!

CZECH TOILETRY SET

By Greg Dilian

I recently happened to come across the four toiletry bottles and stoppers pictured. I was most surprised to see that they had marigold iridescence to go with the beautifully enameled figures and floral designs. The figures are painted with exquisite detail and a different person appears on each container over the name of the bottles' contents. The enameled designs are on each of the four sides of the bottles as well as on the stoppers. The figures are in what appears to be 18th Century (or earlier) dress.

When I made the purchase, I believed them to be Czechoslovakian due to the two red rings circumventing the necks of each piece. My research led me to a book Made in Czechoslovakia by Ruth A. Forsythe. I found a picture of a similar set in clear glass, without iridescence, however, they were used to hold different products (I.e. Listerine, Boric Acid). Ms. Forsythe says that the items pictured in the book were all made between 1918 and 1938. I believe these were from the 1930's.

The set I own was used for Toilet Water, Witch Hazel, Peroxide and Bi-Carb. The latter, which held a granule substance, has a wider neck to accommodate a spoon. The other three were used to hold liquids and have a narrower neck. Furthermore, it is interesting to note that the Bi-Carb bottle has a female figure while the other three are males.

Each bottle is 4-3/4" on height. If anyone else has a similar set, or individual bottle, please let me know as I would enjoy hearing from you. My phone number is 516-432-1164 and email is grenergy@msn.com.

HELLO FROM IOWA

By Vicki Gearhart

Just want to share a few photos and comment on how nice a time we had at the Sunshine State Carnival Glass Convention the end of January at the Deerfield Beach Hotel. The weather was mild in the 70's and full sunshine each day. A lot nicer weather than we have in Iowa that time of year.

I took my two teenage daughters along for a weeks vacation in sunny Florida and we all had fun. (The one didn't enjoy flying but didn't get too sick.) I enjoyed the convention activities while they went out to sun, shop or eat. Then we had plenty of time to just goof around and be girls too.

I enjoyed meeting new carnival people and making new friends. The open houses were great as was the entire stay. I especially liked Tom Mordini's talk on Funeral Vases. The vases were all from the Poucher's' collection with the exception of one vase from the Bingham's collection. Needless to say all were very pretty. This was one of the best programs I have attended. Very informative talk on vases and seemed to be enjoyed by all.

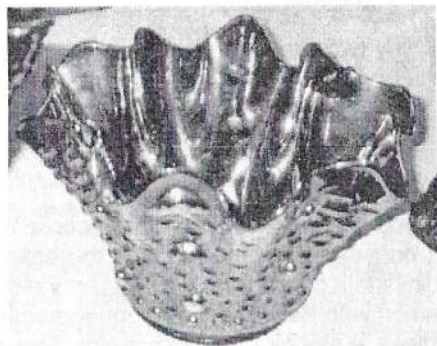

The Blue Hawaii theme for the banquet had some of the most beautiful blue carnival you could ever hope to see. Not only rare items, but extremely pretty items as well. The table full of blue carnival items was estimated at about ¼ million dollars in glass. Of course the Blue Peoples Vase Front and Center helped reach that value. The program was given by the Texans (Pete & Paula, Cecil & Floyd, Dorothy & Emmett).

Truly a great convention and seemed everyone was having a lot of fun. They seemed to have the right mix of activities and free time. A lot of hard work by many of the members was appreciated by us that got to enjoy such a nice time.

I applaud the dedicated people that make each of these conventions such a success. This club puts out an excellent colored newsletter 4 times a year and if anyone reading this is interested in joining or learning more about the club you can contact Jackie Poucher at jpoucher1@aol.com or write to Jackie Poucher at 9087 Baywood Park Dr. Seminole, FL. 33777.

I belong to 7 clubs now I just recently joined the Texas Club after receiving a complementary issue and it was really good so I had to join it. I like bulletins with great stories and things members see and do I urge other members to share their stories we all like reading them.

A LIGHT WENT ON!

By Ruth Herrington

I have been asked to contribute articles for the HOACGA Newsletter. I was deeply honored to be asked, and have thought about writing for this great club, but, frankly, I have been intimidated by the knowledge of all of the "old-timers". As ten-year collectors, we have much to learn. I have said many times that I write for our local San Diego and Southern California Clubs, not because I know much, but because I like to tell stories. (Oh, I do try to throw in a few facts from the available resources.) I thought I would start by introducing ourselves and tell you how we got started in Carnival Glass. Some of you have heard the story before, so be patient with us.

My husband, Cecil, and I first became Dealers in an antique mall in 1991. He retired from the telephone company at age 51 and dabbled in several things for a few years. Then, since he had always "salvaged" things, it was a natural for him to go into 'everything else', too. So he decided to sell "Junk." He picked things up wherever he went and particularly liked auctions. He bought anything he thought he could make money on, and we had an eclectic offering in our mall space... which expanded to 6 spaces very quickly. Among the variety were two orange bowls for which he paid $50.00 each, and one had a chip. He cleaned them and priced them and put them into our space. I told him he was crazy. He would never get his money out of that ugly Junk. Well, you guessed it. They both sold in a week's time with a fair profit. I was amazed. Now he calls all of our merchandise "Junk", even our expensive carnival glass.

Shortly after that, our antique mall sponsored a seminar on carnival glass as a learning tool for the Dealers (a different subject every other month). Cecil suggested I go alone since he felt he had a "gut feeling" for it already. I figured I would miss out on some good deals when they came along for lack of knowledge, so I agreed to go. A Dealer/Collector from San Diego provided lots of "eye candy" and gave wonderful information about the variety of this collectible. A light went on.

Wow! There was more than that ugly orange in carnival glass. (Note: A little knowledge has brought appreciation for that "ugly" orange glass that I now pay dearly for!) I immediately liked the cobalt and amethyst examples. The vaseline stretch glass also caught my eye. Right then I decided that I wanted some of this stuff. The other twenty people in attendance could have stayed home... this seminar was for ME!

At my first carnival glass meeting in San Diego, the "show and tell" program was greatly enjoyed. I saw one piece off to the side that drew my attention. I really liked the look. When I asked about it, I was told that it was Aqua Opal. Later I learned that the color represents some of the most expensive glass in all of carnivaldom. Of course! Now that is my specialty. And I'm known as AquaRuth on the internet. Our business name is Over The Hill Collectibles with "overthehill2" as our eBay ID name. Cecil picked it off the top of his head when he needed a business name for our state license, because that is why we went into antiques... he was over the hill and couldn't get a job.

We are now out of antique mall life, and will be disposing of our large inventory over a period of time. We plan to concentrate on glass—especially carnival glass. Cecil may regret insisting that I attend that meeting many years ago. Ask him when you come to the HOACGA Convention. We will be there! He will probably tell you that it was a very expensive FREE seminar.

HOACGA MEETING MARCH 2003

NEW LOCATION

The next bimonthly HOACGA meeting scheduled for March 23, 2003 at the home of Charles and Eleanor Mochel at 2 pm Sunday will return to the Prairie Village Community Center, 7700 Mission Road, Prairie Village, KS. The Mochel's house is sold and they are in the process of moving. We will discuss amethyst glass in all its variations.

HEART OF AMERICA CARNIVAL GLASS ASSOCIATION BOARD MEETING, FEBRUARY 27, 2003

The HOACGA Board held their monthly meeting in Lawrence on February 27, 2003. All members were present. The board discussed various matters pertaining to the convention – banquet table favors, centerpieces, the room display piece, Wednesday night picnic supplies, Thursday night pies, set up of iridescence display. Responsibility for the various items was delegated. Bob Grissom will check on table favors; Ann McMorris will plan on making the banquet centerpieces; the pies will be prepared by the hotel and that order has been given; help is needed in setting up the racks for the display – Don Lacock volunteered as a helper but more helpers will be needed. We received word that Jerry & Carol Curtis will not be able to attend the convention and they are arranging for the room display project to be handled by another member. The room display piece will be different this year but it will remain a surprise. The Board approved the new piece and Bob will order them from Fenton.

Treasurer Cliff Ball reported there is $16,060.30 in the account and all bills have been paid. He will prepare the books for audit by a committee of club members. Ann McMorris will provide Cliff with a consolidated printout of all income received during FY 2002-2003 (namely, March 1, 2002 thru February 28, 2003). These records are computer generated which saves Cliff much time in preparing for the audit.

Best wishes for a return to good health were sent to Dick Betker, who had a snowmobile accident and has spent a couple weeks in the hospital recuperating from his injuries.

The new roster will contain a listing of all Britt awardees. Eleanor is spearheading this project.

Bob reported the new section for the Pattern Notebook on Candleholders is in the process of being proofed and sent to the printer and will be ready at the Convention.

Don Lacock reported on the Florida convention he attended and Bob Grissom reported on the Texas convention he attended.

The next meeting of the Board will be the last Thursday in March to put the final touches on the Convention in April.

Adjournment.
Ann McMorris, Secretary

He will be sorely missed by all those who experienced his warm personality while working with him at the glass company, or as he traveled across the country to meet with collectors, customers, and sales representatives. He became good friends with so many.

Please keep his family in your prayers.

2002 HOACGA NOTEBOOK INSERT

Candlesticks – 1st & 2nd Sections

By Bob Grissom

You may not have many candlesticks in your collection, but what is your knowledge of the ones you have? Do you know the difference between a Northwood "Colonial," a Fenton "Florentine," or a Vineland "Colonial?" You will probably be able to identify some of the candlesticks in your collection.

The HOACGA Notebook section for 2002 contains photographs of 72 different candlestick patterns and the section for 2003 contains an additional 53 patterns, including the Fostoria Brocaded pieces. Most collectors have some candlesticks in their collection, but this is an area of Carnival glass collecting where information is not readily found. This is an attempt to compile them in one place, present as much information as possible, and to show them with a color photograph. These two sections are another very informative addition to the HOACGA Pattern Notebook.

Much time has been spent, not only by me, but several other collectors, trying to identify the various pieces. Information such as this is only possible with the help of many members who have supplied photographs and a listing of their candlesticks.

If you have not ordered these two sections, you are missing a good source for information about carnival glass candlesticks.

If you wish to order, please use the order form below (if you are coming to the convention, the 2nd section can be ordered with the pre-registration form).

There are (10) completed sections with the candlesticks section to be completed next year. There are about 1222 items pictured. Each year a new section will be added to the Notebook.

JOHN & LUCILE BRITT AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN CARNIVAL

GLASS: It is always a pleasure to announce the honorees for the JOHN & LUCILE BRITT AWARD. This year the honorees are Bob & Geneva Leonard. Bob & Geneva have been collecting carnival glass for more than 30 years. You will see them at all of the conventions around the country and they either giving a program or are helping with some activity. In the true spirit of the JOHN AND LUCILE BRITT tradition they are always willing to help in whatever capacity they are asked.

ROOM DISPLAYS: We encouraged each of you to bring glass and set up a room display. Displays should be set up in your room window, so they can be viewed and judged from the outside. Displays are always an enjoyable, educational, and major part of the convention. Regardless of how many conventions you have attended there will something in a room display that you have not seen before. As always you will see some outstanding pieces of glass along with some very unique ways of displaying it.

Displays are to be entered in one of the six categories. A $50.00 award is given to the winner in each category, and a $100.00 award is given for the Room Display judged as the best overall. The best overall display will be judged on originality, creativity, and its overall appearance. Each display will receive a Hobnail Cuspidor.

The categories are:

Same Maker	Same Color	Theme (Your Own)
Same Shape	Same Pattern	Rarities

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS: A special "Beautiful Iridescence" display is being planned. This is not a display of any particular color, pattern or rarity, only "Beautiful Iridescence". SOUVENIR: The 2003 Souvenir will be announced next month.

AUCTION: The glass to be auctioned on Saturday will be the Barton (and the late Sue) Dooley collection. The Seck Auction Company will present the auction. They have an outstanding collection (as you know Sue liked Hatpins) and this auction will feature pieces that will be suitable for any ones collection. This is an opportunity to add some very good pieces to your collection. This is a "Must attend" auctions for 2003. It will be an education just to view the glass. The Seck Auction Company will send a complete brochure of the auction at a later time.

Carnival Hunter's Companion: a Guide to Pattern Recognition
CD-ROM version 2.01

The Next Generation...

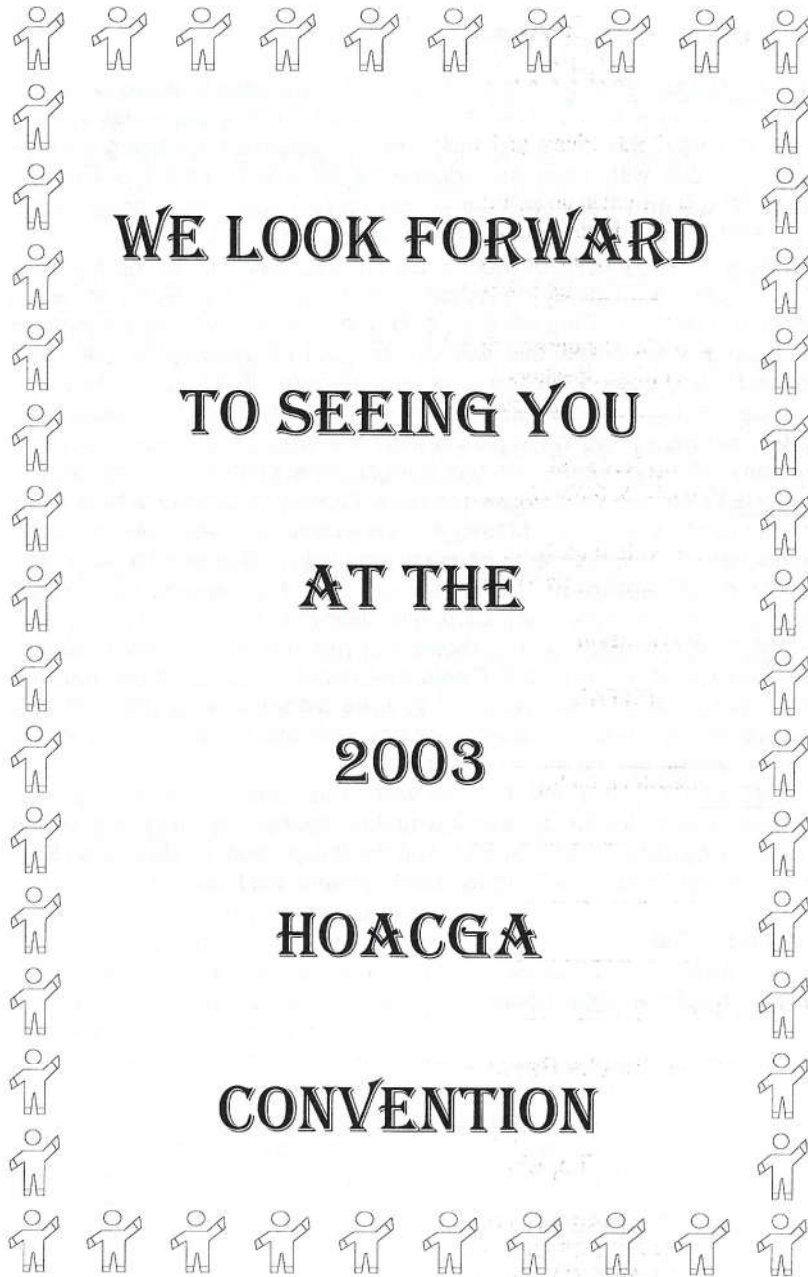

This labor of love began in 1993. As a newbie to the obsession of seeking carnival glass, I was extremely frustrated by how long it took to locate a specific pattern in Edwards' book, or any of the other reference guides available. As a librarian, I like to be able to lay hands on information quickly, and it just wasn't happening. So, I spent two summers staring through a large magnifying glass at every picture in the Edwards 5th and 6th editions. I gave each component of a pattern an "identifier," down to the smallest detail. My husband, Fred, is a software developer and created a data base that would cross-reference all the information. We self-published the book in 1995. It was well-reviewed and well-received, but the lack of photographs limited its appeal.

So the next step in CHC's evolution was to transfer the information to CD-ROM format. Glen and Stephen Thistlewood were supportive of CHC from its inception, and they partnered with us to add 378 photographs to the 1,000+ patterns listed.

So, how does it work? There are two basic components to the program – a list of Patterns, and a list of Identifiers. Let's say you have a pattern in front of you that you can't identify. It has several kinds of fruit in the pattern. You would go to the "View Identifiers" section. You might first put a check in the box next to "cherries." You would be shown a list of 25 patterns that contain cherries, some of which have photographs. To narrow the search further, you could put a check in the box next to "peaches." This would narrow the list of choices to five patterns. If you also put a check in the box next to "pears," your list would be narrowed down to four choices. Geometric designs are always a challenge for me to identify, but CHC can help narrow choices for even these most difficult patterns. Even if there is no accompanying photograph, you still have a manageable list of patterns to take to one of the many wonderful reference books that are available.

So we hope this will be one more useful tool that can be used in the search for this wonderful glass!

To order: In the USA, send check for $22, plus $3.50 s/h to Elaine Blair, 1708 Southampton Dr., Carrollton, TX 75007. Texas residents add $2.10 tax. UK: $22, plus $5.70 s/h. Australia: $22, plus $6.00 s/h. E-mail: fred.blair3@verizon.net. If your e-mail address is enclosed, we will notify you of future updates.
