Marigold Conjecture

By Alan and Lorraine Pickup

Conjecture: Something based on guesswork: a conclusion, judgment, or statement based on incomplete or inconclusive information.

This unnamed rose bowl, complete with a flower frog was recently offered on ebay. Unfortunately the seller elected to sell the rose bowl and the frog separately instead of as a complete item. Not wanting to win one without the other we did not bid on either. And although the piece was quite attractive, other carnival glass enthusiasts must have felt the same way we did, as the rose bowl didn't receive any bids, but a frog collector did without competition manage to buy the frog.

Now it is just conjecture on our part that this rose bowl and frog were originally sold together. Our reason for this is back in 1987, we purchased a similar rose bowl/frog combination at the Henry auction here in St. Louis. We later came to realize that the bottom of that rose bowl/frog piece was the same bottom used on the My Lady's powder jar. The piece was sold some years later but still remembered as a quality marigold item, maker unknown. The frog mated the bottom perfectly and did not appear to be an accidental marriage.

Only recently we added this My Lady's powder jar to our collection. The maker is still listed as unknown by most authors but again conjecture on our part that it leans toward an English maker. The deep marigold iridescence on a nice heavy glass we feel are both characteristics of British glass. The stylized geometric pattern and the feet on the un-named rose bowl again we feel tilt towards English patterns many of which are footed.

Does anyone have the name for an "unnamed" this rose bowl?

SICK CALLS

By Eleanor Mochel

Tom Mordini recently underwent bypass surgery. He is now home and recuperating. Charles and I talked with him on the phone and he is thankful for the notes and cards he has received. Cards may be sent to Tom Mordini, 36 N Marnity Ave., Freeport, IL 61032-3720. Tom, we look forward to you being back on the carnival glass circuit.

George Loescher is not feeling well these days and I am sure he would appreciate a card or note from his friends and prayers on his behalf. Cards may be sent to George Loescher, W-4920 Sunset Lake Ct., Sherwood, WI 5419.

EAGLE FURNITURE CO. 282-284 S MAIN ST

By Dean & Diane Fry

This furniture company first appeared in 1908 with Amos G. Rhodes as President and James J. Haverty as Vice President. By 1910, the business had moved to the location given on this lettered piece and Mr. Haverty had assumed the role of President. After 1917 the business ceased to exist under this name.

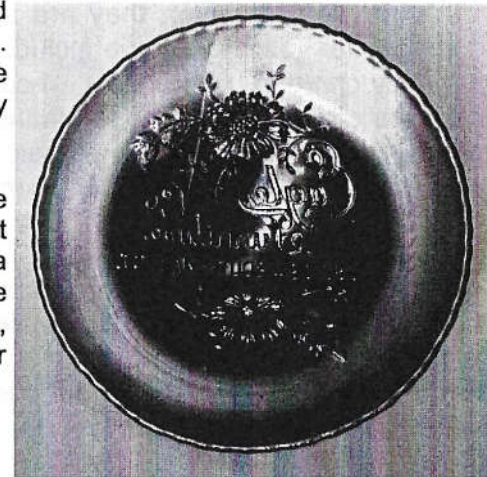

There's a rub to all this, James J. Haverty had started in the furniture business in Atlanta, GA, shortly after the Civil War, expanding his business to Memphis, TN (where Eagle was located) in 1900, arriving as a successful businessman. With the intervening eight years, Mr. Haverty had assumed the position of a fledgling businessman with a status of less than top dog. Perhaps finance, leverage and absorption were the contributing factors:

After 1917, business continued at the same location under the name of J.J. Haverty. By 1930, Haverty's empire had grown to encompass 22 stores, located in eighteen Southern cities. The chain continued to exist as John Resnik published his Encyclopedia on this subject in 1989.

Maker is Northwood, and the exterior design is Basketweave.

Here is a case where the ruffled bowl is the most difficult shape to obtain and the Double Hand Grip is the most common. Single hand grips are scarce and the flat plates are very scarce.

We have owned our plate since 1995... A card tray sold at auction in 2001, along with a couple of plates. One of those had the gold-type iridescence, bringing $500, while the other plate must have been colorful. It brought $1150...

Beaded Panels

By Ruth Herrington

The carnival glass pattern called "Beaded Panels" is seen most often in 'Peach Opal,' which certainly gives you a clue that it was probably made by Dugan... It was! Originally, it was a Northwood mold that was used just before 1900. It remained at Indiana, Pennsylvania when the factory sold to Dugan, who used the mold for non-carnival glass and then, for carnival glass until about 1912. Only known in the comport (or compote) shape, the iridescent (carnival glass) versions of this pattern are also found in marigold, amethyst, and cobalt blue (rare) without the opalescent edge. Therefore, carnival collectors needed a name that was not misleading, and "Beaded Panels" became a more descriptive name to include the non-opalescent production of carnival glass in this pattern. The name used for non-iridised glass with an opalescent edge is "Opal Open" and it is found in many colors.

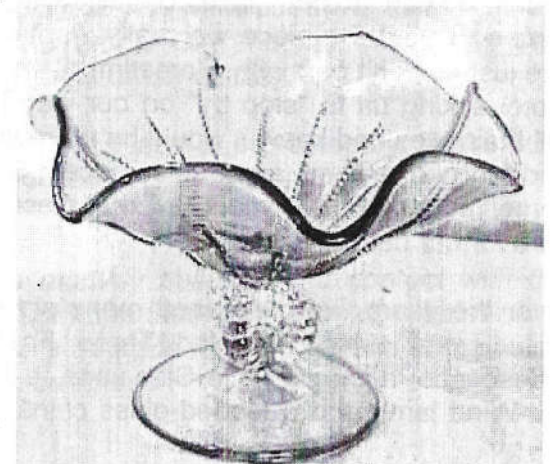

The balance of simplicity and complexity is embodied in this graceful pattern. The interior of the bowl is always plain, but often shows off the color best, especially the luster of peach opal. The exterior pattern is simply rows of beads from the base of the bowl portion flowing upward toward the outer edge, which is often tightly crimped and finished in a tri-corner configuration. My husband says it has three jack-in-the-pulpits. Well, that's one way to say it. However, they are also known in a soft, ruffled edge that has fluidity. I have included two pictures: one shows the tightly crimped, peach opal, tri-corner style that is seen most often; the other shows a pastel marigold low ruffled version in a transparent radium finish that is seldom seen. I was pleased to have won this one at a HOACGA convention auction a few years ago.

The complexity of design is evidenced by the 'open' work at the stem. This is quite a production accomplishment, and old (or classic) comports will have an air space in the midst of these four curved, beaded columns that come together at the base and under the bowl part. The unique, open stem on the original comports provides a pleasing complexity to the simplicity of the external pattern. Opalescent (non-iridised) comports were reproduced by L.G. Wright, with the 'open' area in the stem being filled in with solid glass. It may have been too labor intensive at that time to make it open. Watch for this feature when out on your hunting trips.

Although not an earth shaker (like California earthquakes?) in the carnival world, "Beaded Panels" brings grace to a collection. It will not cost much to add one to yours. And the unusual shapes or colors are always fun to look for. Keep up the chase!

MS BRUMMETT'S PUNCH BOWL

By Bud & Gladys Martin

Many years ago, when we were much younger and had small children, we became interested in and starting collecting "depression glass". But, that's a different story. Along the way, we discovered Carnival Glass.

With both of us working and our children's activities, we could occasionally find a free weekend and Shreveport (mainly for the seafood) became our getaway. We found a flea market of sorts, and after purchasing several dep. glass pieces, we asked the proprietor, Miz Dixie, if she knew anyone who might have some Carnival Glass. Well, Dixie's landlady had some at her home and thought she sold some on occasion.

From that day on until her death, we formed a special friendship with Mrs. Eva Brummett. She and her late husband had been mule traders mostly in the south and southwest. She knew her carnival and maintained her mule-trading art in selling it. We think that's why she loved dealing with us and visa-versa. If Bud can't haggle over the price, he feels he's paid too much.

Her glass was stacked in closets, shelves, credenzas, china cabinets and on top of the TV. Many Saturday mornings and afternoons were spent visiting with her and on our hands and knees looking at her glass. Usually she would let one or two pieces go, but the piece we really wanted was exactly the one she just couldn't part with. Sometimes, we would get a call at the motel asking us to "stop by" on our way home. Our kids would roll their eyes and knew it would be more visiting and going back-and-forth over an agreeable price. Sometimes, we won--sometimes, not! But, you knew that piece would be her drawing card for our next visit.

Over the years, we purchased many pieces from Ms Brummett including a purple, stippled Three Fruits plate with electric iridescence, a purple Ohio Star vase, a Baby Face Gone-with-the-Wind lamp and a leaded-glass china cabinet. BUT, the one piece we truly wanted to take home was her White Acorn Burrs Punch Bowl, Base & cups. In our opinion, this was the ultimate piece for our collection! This was her ultimate drawing piece and she wasn't parting with it!

In October, 1979, due to age and health, Ms Brummett moved into a trailer next to her son. And she finally decided it was time to let us care for her Punch Bowl. How proud we were to have the set in our collection! Sadly, within six months, Ms Brummett passed away.

In December, 1983 around 1 o'clock in the morning, a young man missed a curve on our street, climbed the embankment, crossed the street and crashed into the very wall of our dining room where Ms Brummett's china cabinet stood. It shoved the wall in and pushed the bottom of the china cabinet forward where it wedged between the dining table and the wall. The young man was OK, his car wasn't, our house needed major help and a lot of carnival glass was lost that night, including a pumpkin marigold Acorn Burrs Punch set. Like Humpty-Dumpty, there was too many pieces and not enough glue to put that one back together. Miraculously, the White Acorn Burrs Punch set (except for one cup) was intact. Ms Brummett was definitely looking down on her Punch Bowl that night!

In April, 2002, we displayed our white Carnival Glass at the HOACGA Convention in Kansas City. For us, Ms Brummett's Punch Bowl was the highlight of our display.

We were fortunate to win 1st Place in our category. We're sure she would have been proud!

I continue to enjoy the monthly bulletins and contact with the carnival glass world. I just hope that members will support clubs and not let computer sales degrade them. I believe conventions are the place to buy and sell glass.

COLLIER AUCTION BREAKS ALL RECORDS

The two-day carnival super-auction at St. Louis, Feb. 6-7, dispersing about one-third of the Mary Elizabeth Collier collection, broke all records set in the hobby since the first national auction held in 1967.

The Collier sale offered the most true rarities, about 45; drew the largest crowd, about 450 persons, set several auction records on pieces and sets, established a record carnival auction gross estimated at $225,000 to $250,000. In all, 1,400 pieces of carnival were sold at four bidding sessions. The auction was held at Holiday Inn West in St. Louis. Overflow collectors filled adjacent motels.

Previous Record Auction

The previous carnival super-auction was a 3-day sale of the Presznick Museum glass at Louisville, KY. March 8-10, 1973, where 1,753 pieces of carnival sold and the auction gross reached $121,772.

At the auction earlier this month, as tremendous sums were bid for many rarities in choice condition and color, many observers felt a new gross sales record was likely. The estimate quoted above represented an average of several opinions.

More accurately, it could be reported that the 60-plus items and sets described and priced in this article. Including most of the major rarities, totaled over $95,000. More than 1,200 additional pieces of carnival were sold at the auction.

Auction surprises abounded. Collectors gasped when Dealer John (Barrel) Roller of Pearisburg, VA, who had said he was retiring from carnival, bid in the green Frolicking Bears pitcher, with mended base at $6,000; the marigold Morning Glory pitcher at $4,900; and the green Frolicking Bears tumbler (only one known), at $3,500. These three items totaled $14,400.

Soon it was learned Roller had bought the rarities for a super-market owner in a small Southern town who felt he could not be identified with such an expenditure in view of the inflated price of groceries. He said he thought the news would "ruin" him if it got "back home."

The top auction price of $7,100 was paid for the amethyst Morning Glory pitcher by J.G. Corrothers, Maumee, OK. Some thought he also may have bought it for someone else since he already owned green and marigold pitchers in the pattern.

Mr. Frank M. Fenton, President of the Fenton Art Glass Company of Williamstown, WV, was an attentive participant in the auction. He bid freely on many choice items and sets and took home several boxes of carnival.

When he secured the purple Hobstar and Feather punchbowl set at $4,100, the auction was halted a few minutes to secure a picture of Mr. Fenton with the prize set. Among other choice pieces he bought was a square Farmyard bowl at $2,000. Mr. Fenton was the major buyer at the auction as he had been at the Presznick auction in 1973.

Pipe Humidors to Vining

Robert Vining, Chatsworth, GA. Acting President of the ICGA following the death of President Ed Gaida of Victoria, TX, on Jan. 4, 1976, bought both Millersburg pipe humidors. He paid $2,700 for the green one and $2,250 for the marigold.

Jim Mogg, Hamilton, MO, secured the only known marigold People's vase at $4,500. The Christmas compotes brought $3,000 in purple, and $2,200 in marigold.

A purple Perfection water set was sold piecemeal. The pitcher brought $3,900 from Mr. J. Sam Roebuck, Elizabeth City, NC, and the tumblers were divided among six collectors bringing a total of $1,950. This put the set at $5,850—an auction record for the pattern.

A large marigold Grape/Cable covered compote, with its damaged lid mended with epoxy, brought $2,200 (Don Moore). The very rare ice blue Corn vase, $900; Chrysanthemum NuArt plate, amy., $1,100; and the Homestead NuArt, amy., $550.

Pitchers and Water Sets

There was brisk bidding for choice water pitchers (no tumblers) as follows:

Late Thistle, purple, $2,600; Strawberry Scroll, blue and Wishbone, purple, each $1,800; Blackberry Block, blue, $1,300; Hobnail, purple, $1,700; Wishbone, green, $1,250; Greek Key, green, $1,200; Millersburg Marilyn, green, $800; Dahlia, marigold, $600; Starflower, blue, mended base, $550.

The very rare milk pitcher in ice green, Raspberry pattern, $1,650.

Some of the prices paid for water sets:

God and Home, blue, $2,200; Circled Scroll, marigold, 5 tumblers, $1,900; Heavy Iris, purple, $1,700; Inverted Strawberry, purple, $1,600; Inverted Strawberry, marigold, $1,400; Cosmos and Cane, honey amber, $1,300; N Dandelion tankard set, purple, $1,200; Palm Beach, amber, 4 tumblers, $600; Grape Arbor tankard, ice blue, $1,500; white, $900, purple, two tumblers only, $550.

After the strong bidding on rarities and water sets, prices paid for individual tumblers seemed low in comparison. The top tumbler price of $1,500 was paid for the Frolicking Bears specimen. Other tumbler prices:

Morning Glory, amethyst, finest, $850, one with chip, $450; Jeweled Bears, white (some said it was clear, not white) $465; Circled Scroll, purple, $450; Interior Poinsettia, marigold, $400; Cone and Tie, purple, with chip, $325; Checkerboard, amethyst $300; Wisteria, white, $250; Cut Cosmos, marigold, $225.

Best of the rest - Birmingham Age Herald plate, amy., $1,100; Cleveland Centennial tray, amy., $950; Peter Rabbit plate, mari., $900; Elks 1911 Bell, blue, $750; Butterfly and Tulip flat bowl, purple, $550; Townpumps, mari., $625, purple, $500.

Option on Significance

The Collier auction ran as smoothly as clockwork although some of the sessions dragged on too long. The sale was very well organized and beautifully and expertly advertised.

It came as a well-needed boost to the hobby whose national auction sales in late 1975 had met with indifferent interest and declining prices.

It should be realized that the Collier auction was not an average carnival auction. It was an irregular or atypical auction. The auction it resembled the most was the 3-day Presznick scene in 1973. Both had large crowds, much glass and strong bidding from individuals who were not in the practice of attending carnival auctions.

As to the long range effect upon the hobby by the Collier sale, it was unlikely the high prices would continue to prevail at auctions. The coming carnival sales in 1976 would be closely watched by several major collectors who would like to offer their carnival for sale if the "carnival market" continues to show signs of strength.

Plan West Coast Auction

The Collier carnival came to St Louis from San Francisco in 50 large cases via a chartered TWA plane. Armed guards rode "shotgun" and were on duty night and day as the display was set up in the auction room.

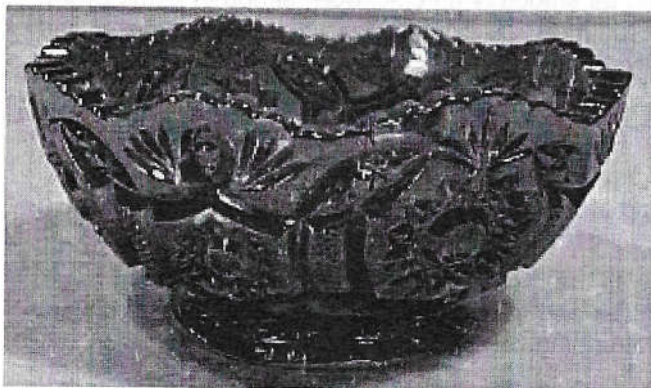

Mrs. Collier attended all the sales sessions. She was animated and friendly; when asked how she managed to get so much carnival together she said, "By a lot of work." When asked where she had kept it all, she replied, "I kept it stacked to the ceiling."

Woody had announced that 600 pieces or sets would be offered. When collectors arrived at St Louis, Leonard Augustine, the auctioneer, said he had 1,400 pieces to sell counting water sets as 7 pieces.

Note from Charles: We were fortunate to get to visit in the Collier home when we first started collecting. They really did have carnival glass from ceiling to floor in many of the rooms in their large home.

THE CONFUSING PATTERNS - BLAZE AND CRAB CLAW

By Barb Chamberlain

Is it Blaze or is it Crab Claw? That is the question. There is no doubt that these pattern names cause confusion.

The confusion started at the time that Marion Hartung and Rose Presnick endeavored to make carnival glass collecting easier by identifying and naming carnival glass patterns.

Unfortunately, they didn't work together, so in some cases, the confusion continued, and this is the case with these two pattern names. The berry set, which was originally identified in an Imperial catalog as #3437, was called Crab Claw by Mrs. Hartung, and Mrs. Presnick identified it as Blaze.

Bill Edwards and Mike Carwile have called the berry set pattern Crab Claw, and the pitcher and tumbler Crab Claw Variant. The water set was originally #409 in the Imperial Factory catalog. There is definitely a difference in the patterns of the water set and the berry set - even if we looked at adapting the pattern to the change of shape, so I feel that they are entirely two different patterns.

A small decanter or cruet, original factory catalog number #302, is also known as Crab Claw, but according to Edwards/Carwile, it is a different design also. I have not had the opportunity to see this particular piece, so I can't comment on the changes in the pattern design.

Perhaps we should do what Dave Doty has done in his book and on his great web site, and call the berry set Blaze, the water set could be Crab Claw, and perhaps have a distinguishing name for the small decanter/cruet, since it apparently has a different appearance.

Colors known in the berry set are marigold, green, clambroth, smoke, and purple. The small bowl is also known in cobalt blue. The water set and decanter/cruet, at this time, are known only in marigold.

The small round berry bowl that is pictured is green, and measures 4 1/8" in diameter, stands 2" tall, and has a marie base with a diameter of 2 1/8".

A BEAUTIFUL FIND

By Tony Schlosser

A friend of mine since high school has a antique light fixture company in New Orleans. He told me that I should come to see the different fixtures and shades that he had in stock. Well, needless to say he has several thousand shades or maybe they are globes in his inventory. Downstairs in his shop, he has a few hundred fixtures hanging for display and one was a art deco pan with five carnival glass dark marigold shades. My friend said he thought that it came from one of the mansions on St. Charles avenue in New Orleans.

SAD NEWS

By John Muehlbauer

The carnival glass world has lost a good friend. Norene Duran of New Mexico passed away from complications associated with several strokes. Norene also suffered with heart problems.

Norene was definitely in "The Old Timers" category. I can't remember the first time I met this beautiful and gracious lady, but I'd guess it was in the early 80's. She always had an eye for iridescence and loved Rose and Poppy Show pieces as well as red.

In the "second half" of Norene's collecting stint, she was best known for her love of all things Imperial. And what a collection of beautiful Imperial carnival glass she put together! I first saw it at she and her husband's beautiful ranch in the high country of New Mexico, although I had known Norene for years beforehand from various conventions and auctions. I specifically remember her magnificent emerald green Imperial Grape water pitcher and her emerald green 4-7-4 punch set. I should say "sets," because I once went to the ranch and she had two! Her red pieces were tops and her collection of beautiful Imperial water pitchers was second to none.

I was lucky enough to attend a Pacific Northwest convention where she was the banquet speaker. Imperial, naturally. And what a show that was. She shared her love of our hobby with her brother, Father Gabriel Talley, "Burney" to his friends. Burney was in a unique position of being 'first on the list' when it came to Norene selling anything. It was a nice place to be. When Norene sold something, you can bet it was always something gorgeous, because that's all she had.

When I was most fortunate to be able to buy Father Talley's collection these last several years, I felt like I was buying from Burney and his sister. There are many, many warm anecdotes I could relate about these siblings and their glass, but I'll leave that for later telling.

For now, it is my sad duty to tell you that the hobby will be lessened by Norene's passing. Norene was a lovely lady. I will miss her.

HOACGA PATTERN NOTEBOOK

The Pattern Notebook was started in 1980, with the first section being on mugs. Each year since, except in 1992, a different section had been added. This information has been compiled and printed to assist the collector in identifying the various pieces of Carnival Glass. Each section identifies the Patterns, Maker, Colors and other pertinent information and shows a color picture of the pattern. There are (10) completed sections with the candlesticks section to be completed next year. There are about 1222 items pictured. Each year a new section will be added to the Notebook.

2002 HOACGA NOTEBOOK INSERT

Candlesticks – 1st & 2nd Sections

By Bob Grissom

You may not have many candlesticks in your collection, but what is your knowledge of the ones you have? Do you know the difference between a Northwood "Colonial," a Fenton "Florentine," or a Vineland "Colonial?" You will probably be able to identify some of the candlesticks in your collection.

The HOACGA Notebook section for 2002 contains photographs of 72 different candlestick patterns and the section for 2003 contains an additional 53 patterns, including the Fostoria Brocaded pieces. Most collectors have some candlesticks in their collection, but this is an area of Carnival glass collecting where information is not readily found. This is an attempt to compile them in one place, present as much information as possible, and to show them with a color photograph. These two sections are another very informative addition to the HOACGA Pattern Notebook.

Much time has been spent, not only by me, but several other collectors, trying to identify the various pieces. Information such as this is only possible with the help of many members who have supplied photographs and a listing of their candlesticks.

If you have not ordered these two sections, you are missing a good source for information about carnival glass candlesticks.

If you wish to order, please use the order form below (if you are coming to the convention, the 2nd section can be ordered with the pre-registration form).

WHAT HAPPENED WITH THE AUGUST BULLETIN

By Eleanor Mochel

As most of our members know, we try very hard to get the bulletin out in a timely manner. We were sent the new software for the quarter so we can barcode the address labels. When the printer tried to barcode the labels for the August Bulletin, the new software wouldn't work. After much going back and forth with the software company, they finally admitted they were having problems with the new software. It was finally decided to use the old software to barcode. After all that happened it was then too late to give the post office our required length of time to deliver between the dated dates. Therefore, the date was covered and the post office took their own long, slow time in delivering. Just when you think things are going fairly well, something new happens. So now you know the story of the August Bulletin.

NOTES TO THE EDITOR

By Eleanor Mochel

Mary and Laura Adams wish to thank all the members that have sent them cards and notes. Your thoughtfulness is very much appreciated.

Some of the Members attending the HOACGA meeting in July with the glass they brought for display and discussion.

Next regular HOACGA MEETING...

NEXT REGULAR HOACGA MEETING

By Ed Kramer

The next regular bi-monthly meeting of HOACGA will be held on Sunday, Sept. 28, 2003, at 2:00 pm at the Prairie Village Community Center, 7700 Mission Road, Prairie Village, KS. We will discuss geometric patterns and advertising pieces.

HOACGA BOARD MEETING, AUGUST 7, 2003

By Ann McMorris, Secretary

The HOACGA Board held their monthly meeting in Kansas City at the Embassy Suites on August 7, 2003 starting at 11:00 a.m. All board members were present.

Prior to the meeting with the hotel personnel, the board discussed possible auctions for 2005 but no decision was made pending more information on the contents of the collections that have been offered. Treasurer Ball reported all bills were paid. Bob Grissom has corresponded with Frank Fenton regarding the room display souvenir and the 2004 club souvenir but has not received any reply to date. He will be checking on this matter with Frank later this month.

Suggestions for possible changes in format for the convention were considered – present the pre-registration award at the luncheon; post the names of the room display award winners on a bulletin board; change in judging criteria for room display awards; and many other details that go into making a convention run smoothly. The board welcomes suggestions from the membership.

Eleanor Mochel reported the August bulletin had been proofed and would be mailed soon. Delivery of the bulletin appears to be much better as the number of calls from members have decreased.

At this time, sales manager Sheryl Lenk and catering manager Joyce Winningham joined us to discuss the 2004 convention and the requirements from the Embassy Suites. Both ladies are new to their positions at the hotel. We reviewed the room requirements and possible reduction in number of hotel nights required to meet the cost of the meeting rooms. A schedule of the 2003 convention was provided

Sheryl and Joyce so they would have a general idea of the meeting room needs. We asked for a shorter time period for our block of rooms – presently the cut off is three weeks from convention start and we asked if this could be two weeks. The staff will take this to management and apprise the board of their decision. The cost for the pie and coffee event for 2003 was per piece and the board felt this should be reviewed. The catering manager agreed to check on this function and give the board a report on what the hotel could do.

Other matters discussed with the hotel personnel – need for more carts, more serving staff at banquet, picnic requirements, print out of room reservations prior to convention, and other details. The next meeting with the hotel will be on February 5, 2004 for food tasting, starting at 1:00 p.m.

Adjournment at 2:30 p.m.

CONDOLENCES

A note from Ruth M. Clark (Mrs. Kenneth L. Clark)

Just a note to report the July 12, 2003 death of Kenneth Clark, my husband, age 96. He had been an early member of Heart of America until not too long ago.

He enjoyed being with our collector friends at the conventions as long as we were able to travel.

He remained sharp and energetic until the sudden and peaceful end of his long and rewarding life.

Doubtlessly, very few members remember us, but we kept in touch through the Bulletin as to the latest club activities.

Eleanor, thank you for your work as Bulletin Secretary, so much appreciated.

Sympathy cards may be sent to: Ruth Clark, 2100 Dawn Dr., Georgetown, TX 78628.

"Mardi Gras Carnival"

Howard Johnson Resort
Deerfield Beach, Florida
(Oceanside)
Jan. 28 - Feb 1, 2004

Our theme for our 2004 convention is "Mardi Gras Carnival" and we have asked Gale Eichhorst to be our banquet speaker. I am sure he will keep us awake at the banquet! Keeping with the "Mardi Gras" colors - purple, green, gold - the banquet glass display will be in these 3 colors. It will be a beautiful display of glass...

We have been working on our convention schedule for 2004, YES, we have scheduled the FREE north riverboat cruise - it is a MUST. Also, SSCGA will be hosting a FREE luncheon at Charlie's Crab House restaurant for members after the cruise. We also will have our FREE "build your own sundae" evening. Another beach activity will be planned to get some sand in your shoes.

The Nielsens have a SURPRISE seminar for us. And, we will be having a re-run of the RAZZLE DAZZLE with the Brazels at the banquet. The fabulous hospitality room will be hosted by the Pouchers again.

The Jim Wroda Auction Team with Jim Wroda and Mike Baker will be conducting the outstanding glass auction on Saturday.

So, if you want to experience all of the above activities, sunny weather, great friends—COME ON DOWN and make your reservations now...

Come join us and we will see you there...

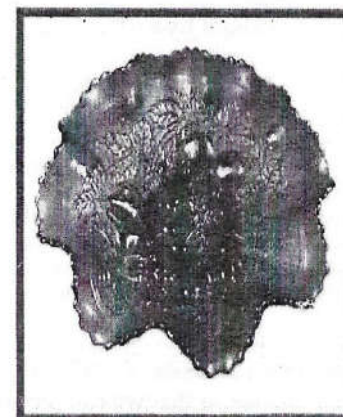

Everyone is Welcome! Our 22nd Convention!

HOACGA 2004 AUCTION

Jim Seeck

This month we would like to feature a fabulous chop plate that will be sold at the Pritchard Auction at the April convention. This is a beautiful Chrysanthemum chop plate in purple made by Imperial. The iridescence is outstanding and would shine on anyone's wall or in their cabinet. All the Chrysanthemum chop plates are rare, but to find a purple one with this quality is extremely tough. Look forward to another great piece next month.
